JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 2007

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“For where there is envy and selfish ambition, there will also be disorder and wickedness of every kind. But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, willing to yield, full of mercy and good fruits without a trace of partiality or hypocrisy.” (James 3:16-17)

Gracious God, we come together, some here for the first time, others established, but we do so humbled by the responsibilities and call to work for the people of Missouri. Let our actions this year be filled with wisdom so that disorder and partiality does not disrupt our call to service. And guide us, Lord, so that our efforts may truly bear good fruits. And Lord, we offer our prayers for President Ford as he is laid to rest this afternoon. We are thankful for his leadership during a time for healing in our nation and we pray for his family and all who will miss him, that you may comfort them with Your grace and mercy. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Opening Address

Senator Michael R. Gibbons, President Pro Tem
First Regular Session, 94th General Assembly
January 3, 2007

Lt. Governor Kinder, Judge Russell, Members of the Missouri Senate, our families, friends, and people of Missouri:

As we take our places in this magnificent chamber, I want to thank you for entrusting this position of leadership to me as we move into a pivotal time in our state's history. I particularly appreciate the support of the Senator from the 5th, who will also continue as our Minority Leader. Working together, we have made improvements to the civility in the Missouri Senate and will continue working together to maintain an environment where the difficult issues we face can be debated vigorously and decisions made with civility and respect.

We welcome back our returning members, and extend a special welcome to our five new members, the newly-elected Senators from Nodaway County, the 12th District; Monroe County, the 18th District; Jefferson County, the 22nd District; Jackson County, the 10th District; and the City of St. Louis, the 4th District. You are joining an institution that has served the people of Missouri for 186 years and is known as the place where complex issues come to find a common sense solution.

It may sound easy, but the issues that really matter generally do not have easy answers. It is a struggle for each of us on our own, and all of us together, to determine what is right and best for the future of all the people we represent.

It should come as no surprise that our work here involves struggle. We come from various backgrounds and beliefs. Each of us represents approximately 165,000 people from very different parts of Missouri, and we have different ideas on how to address the issues we face.

So, why are we here? We come together in this historic chamber to give voice to the hopes and dreams of all the people of Missouri. We were elected so we could rise at our desk, to introduce bills, propose amendments, engage in debate, to offer our ideas on what we believe to be best. When we offer these ideas, we do not offer them for ourselves, but on behalf of the people we represent. As a result, each idea deserves to be heard; although, each idea does not necessarily deserve our support. Support for a proposition must be earned, and the success of the idea is demonstrated by our vote. We debate the idea and a decision is made. This is what the people expect. This is what the people deserve.

In the recent national election, the voters said very clearly that it is time to address serious issues in a serious way. Refusing to address key issues, whether by insisting that we "stay the course," or by the few using legislative maneuvers to prevent action, are wrong, and the people know it.

We are here in a position to make a difference at the dawn of the 21st Century. Our first two years have seen serious work done on the foundation for this future and it is proving to be a good start. More people are working, and the future looks bright. But there are trouble spots ahead that we must do something about.

Thomas Jefferson in the majestic words of the Declaration of Independence wrote:

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,...

Governments in America exist to secure these fundamental rights, and in the Missouri Senate, the voters have entrusted this power to us. Therefore, we need to take bold action where great threats to these unalienable rights are found to protect the people of Missouri. One such threat is to our health. Without the opportunity for good health, our fundamental rights to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness are diminished or lost. We have already said that the poor deserve better, and set a plan in motion with great urgency to reform our failing Medicaid system. Medicaid began in Missouri in 1968, but it is not 1968 anymore. It is the 21st Century, and a healthcare plan that only provides treatment when sickness or disease attacks is inadequate, dangerous and a direct assault on our unalienable rights. Today, all of us working together, Republicans and Democrats, can boldly enter the future, with a focus on the people rather than on big government, big healthcare providers, and big insurance companies. We can focus on protecting health by concentrating on prevention and wellness in addition to treatment. And this is not just a problem for the poor. We must declare war on the high cost of healthcare. The healthcare marketplace that exists today between big providers, big government and big insurance companies is creating a burden the people cannot carry. More are exposed to being uninsured because neither the people themselves nor their employers can afford the skyrocketing costs. We must return the power over this critical part of life to the people, empowering them with knowledge about quality, cost and results, and focusing on prevention and wellness. We can take the people off of the healthcare conveyor belt and put them back in the driver's seat when it comes to choices and decisions on their health and the health of their families.

Another threat to our fundamental rights are the failing school districts in our state. In a rapidly changing global marketplace where the United States should be the leader in the new knowledge economy, education is the key to success. The future looks bright for those who have a good education. But those who do not, I'm sad to say, will be left behind with only poverty, prison, or an early death to look forward to. Such hopelessness is unacceptable. Failing to make positive changes now is criminal. Moreover, a good education belongs to the person who earned it. No one can take it away.

As we look at the Special Advisory Committee's report on the St. Louis City public schools, and knowing that the state school board will be considering what action to take in response, it has been interesting to see the attacks against a recent appointee to the State School Board. She apparently holds beliefs that the education establishment opposes. We know what they are against. But what are they for?

Looking at the City of St. Louis Schools, are they in favor of graduating barely one half of the students in the district? Are they pleased that only 1 out of 4 that do graduate go on to some post-high school program? Do they know that, according to the chancellor of the St. Louis Community College, that of those with diplomas that go to his school, many spend up to 18 months in remedial programs just to be able to start their 2-year associate's degree? We are allowing the St. Louis City public schools, which serve a large and very vulnerable population of students, to drive the final nail into the coffins of their futures. This failure is an outrage. Unfortunately, St. Louis is not alone. In fact, 12 other school districts across Missouri are in similar shape. It is an outrage in every failing district in Missouri.

So, what should we be for? We should be for reforms that give the students in failing districts a chance at a world-class education with a focus on academic achievement and accountability for results. We should be open to any solution, any solution, that will improve the opportunities for these students. We hear too much about school boards, administrators, principals, teachers or other employees. Our primary concern must be for the children. We challenge everyone interested in protecting these children to come forward to work with us to find common sense solutions today. A good education is the best hope for a life of liberty in which the people can truly have an opportunity to pursue happiness. We must protect their education and have high expectations for academic achievement in all of our schools, so that nearly every student in Missouri graduates with a diploma that means he or she has mastered the fundamental skills necessary to enter today's world, and that they are ready for the next step.

The students in failing districts need us to act now. Their lives and futures depend on us.

Many other critical issues will come before us this year and we will all, at some time, be challenged to our core on what is the right thing to do. And we will challenge each other and our ideas as we stand here on behalf of our constituents, struggling to take right actions for the future of the people of Missouri. When we come together in session, one of my goals is to have everyone pay more attention to the issues at hand. That means putting down BlackBerrys, cell phones and other distractions, and being prepared to debate the bills before us. Out of respect for the people who elected us, it is the least we can do.

Everyone here worked hard and devoted every ounce of energy to win their election. Millions of dollars and thousands of volunteers helped us win. Millions of dollars and thousands of volunteers worked hard to defeat us. At the end of the day, in each of our Senate Districts, the people chose us and have given us their consent to make decisions, to represent their interests, to secure their rights, and to provide for a hopeful future.

We have a solemn duty to find common sense solutions to the complex issues we face. In this effort we must succeed. Working together we will. It is what the people expect. It is what the people deserve.

President Kinder resumed the Chair.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1

WHEREAS, truthful information is essential for making responsible decisions; and

WHEREAS, one of the basic components of women's healthcare necessarily includes contraception as it improves maternal and child health outcomes by allowing women to plan for the number and spacing of children that is best for her family and by reducing unintended pregnancies; and

WHEREAS, the most effective way to prevent an unintended pregnancy is to improve access to safe, affordable and effective contraceptive methods and to provide medically accurate information about how to use such methods; and

WHEREAS, support for information and services that increase health and wellness makes common sense:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby work together to help women, regardless of income, avoid unintended pregnancy through access to affordable, FDA-approved contraception, including emergency contraception; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED the members of the Missouri Senate, 94th General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, support programs and policies that make it easier for women to obtain FDA-approved contraceptives; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED the members of the Missouri Senate, 94th General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, encourage all public schools to ensure that students receive appropriate, reproductive and sexual health education that includes the latest medically factual information regarding the health benefits and possible side effects of all forms of contraception, as well as the success and failure rates for prevention of pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

Senator Callahan offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

Relating to the recommendations by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, the voters of Missouri approved a constitutional amendment in 1994 that created a commission charged with setting the amount of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators and judges; and

WHEREAS, prior to the approval of this amendment, the General Assembly had the duty and responsibility of setting salaries; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials has recommended that salaries be increased for judges and statewide elected officials by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on July 1, 2007 and by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on January 1, 2009 for legislators; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has additionally recommended that judges, statewide elected officials and legislators receive the same increase in salary as the average state worker for the fiscal years beginning in July 2007 and July 2008, provided that legislators shall not receive such increases until January 1, 2009; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has also recommended a one-time payment of $2,000 for each Associate Circuit Judge on July 1,

2007 to partially compensate for the Circuit Court duties currently being assumed by Associate Circuit Judges throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, the recommended increases would result in a net increase for judges, statewide elected officials and legislators that is far greater than any expected cost-of-living adjustment for state employees in the coming fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, the state has many other priorities for appropriating money in the budget that are far more important than the salary increases recommended by the Commission; and

WHEREAS, the changes recommended by the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials will take effect on July 1, 2007, unless disapproved by the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly may disapprove of the recommendation by a concurrent resolution approved by both the Senate and the House before February 1, 2007:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the recommendations of the Missouri Citizen's Commission on the Compensation of Elected Officials contained in its report dated November 30, 2006, be disapproved; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Governor Matt Blunt.

No floor debate shall be allowed on the motion to adopt the committee report.

The Committee shall examine bills placed on the Consent Calendar and may, by majority vote, remove any bill from the consent calendar within the time period prescribed by Rule 45, that it determines is too controversial to be treated as a consent bill.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

Relating to the recommendations by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, the voters of Missouri approved a constitutional amendment in 1994 that created a commission charged with setting the amount of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators and judges; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizen's Commission on

Compensation for Elected Officials has recommended that salaries be increased for judges and statewide elected officials by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on July 1, 2007 and by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on January 1, 2009 for legislators; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has additionally recommended that judges, statewide elected officials and legislators receive the same increase in salary as the average state worker for the fiscal years beginning in July 2007 and July 2008, provided that legislators shall not receive such increases until January 1, 2009; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has also recommended a one-time payment of $2,000 for each Associate Circuit Judge on July 1, 2007 to partially compensate for the Circuit Court duties currently being assumed by Associate Circuit Judges throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, the recommended increases would result in a net increase for judges, statewide elected officials and legislators that is far greater than any expected cost-of-living adjustment for state employees in the coming fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, the state has many other priorities for appropriating money in the budget that are far more important than the salary increases recommended by the Commission; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly may disapprove of the recommendation by a concurrent resolution approved by both the Senate and the House before February 1, 2007:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the recommendations of the Missouri Citizen's Commission on the Compensation of Elected Officials contained in its report dated November 30, 2006, be disapproved; and

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Michael A. Wolff, escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

2007 STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

CHIEF JUSTICE MICHAEL A. WOLFF

President Kinder, Speaker Jetton, Secretary of State Carnahan, Treasurer Steelman, Auditor Montee, Attorney General Nixon, esteemed members of the General Assembly, my fellow judges of the Supreme Court, and honored guests:

I would like to start by paying tribute to two distinguished colleagues from the other branches of government. First, Mike Keathley is a friend to many of us, an outstanding businessman called to public service first as your Senate administrator and then, by Governor Blunt, to be commissioner of administration. We pray for his speedy recovery.

I also would like to pay tribute to Representative Jason Brown. As you know, while stationed in Iraq in October, he suffered a gunshot wound to his chest. He now is back on duty in Iraq. I extend my gratitude, on behalf of the Missouri judiciary, to Representative Brown, for the selflessness and personal courage that he and all of our nation's soldiers have demonstrated in service to our country.

As the people's representatives, you in this chamber, along with the executive branch leaders, set Missouri's policies within the boundaries established by our state and federal constitutions. It is an awesome power that you possess and one worthy of our respect.

Each of our three co-equal branches – legislative, executive and judicial – has been assigned specific roles. It is the system of checks and balances among these three branches of government that is America's unique contribution to the idea of a democratic republic. The Missouri Constitution, echoing the Magna Carta of nearly 800 years ago, guarantees that the courts shall be open to every person and that a remedy be afforded for every legal injury. Unless we choose to abandon what we traditionally have come to understand as a republican form of government, we never must abandon this fundamental principle. We should remember what Benjamin Franklin replied when asked, at the close of the American Constitutional Convention, what form of government the constitution would create; he said: "A republic, if you can keep it."

We in this state have a constant interplay among our branches of government and with our citizens in what is aptly called a laboratory of democracy. As legislators, you have the power to revise the principles of the common law; you have the power to revise statutes when they prove to be inadequate or when courts apply them in a manner with which you disagree. The executive has the power to veto what you pass, and you have the power to enact a statute notwithstanding a governor's veto. And, importantly, the people of Missouri retain the power to revise both constitutional and statutory provisions when they deem it appropriate.

In this laboratory of democracy, these legislative chambers are a marketplace of ideas – ideas that ultimately become the public policy of this state. I have gained over many years a profound appreciation for the legislative process of translating the ideas of the political marketplace – as expressed through elections – into policy expressed as law.

So much of what we in the courts do on a day-to-day basis is driven by the words you give us – to decide cases involving, for example, the status and welfare of vulnerable children, the obligations of marriage, the protection of property rights, the protection of the elderly, and the enforcement of the criminal laws. In hundreds of thousands of cases each year, our courts look to your legislated words to enforce the laws that you enact.

In the 30 years that I have been observing Missouri's legislative process, sometimes at close range, I have been impressed that every one who serves in this body comes with an idealistic and personal vision of how to better the public policy of this state. The framers of our constitutional system purposely created a difficult process through which good legislation is the product of competing visions and compromises among interest groups and interested citizens. In this process, you often are confronted with a question as old as representative government itself: was I sent here to carry out the specific wishes of the voters who elected me or to exercise my best judgment on their behalf regardless of what they might think at the moment? In any event, under either theory, you are accountable to the voters for what you do.

The judicial role, on the other hand, is different. Not better, not worse, but definitely different. Regardless of whether voters agree with our decisions, the courts are accountable to uphold and enforce the laws based on the facts of each case as the litigants present them and within the confines of the state and federal constitutions.

In the first three decades of our state's existence, starting in 1821, Missouri judges did not face the voters: like federal judges, they were appointed by the chief executive, subject to senate confirmation. In 1848, Missouri's voters changed our constitution so that judges were elected on partisan ballots. A few years later the Supreme Court of Missouri decided the first Dred Scott case – in which our court declined to follow its own extensive precedents and instead held that a slave who traveled to free territory was still a slave.

The words of the dissenting judge, Hamilton Gamble, are worth remembering. Judge Gamble, himself a slaveholder, said the court should follow prior case law and recognize Scott's freedom. Addressing the "temporary public excitement" over the issue of slavery that undoubtedly would cloud the people's judgment, Gamble said: "Times may have changed, public feeling may have changed, but principles have not and do not change; and, in my judgment, there can be no safe basis for judicial decision, but in those principles which are immutable." A few years later, after losing his Missouri state case, Dred Scott's appeal of his federal court case resulted in the United States Supreme Court's infamous 1857 decision that denied Mr. Scott's personhood, and his right to sue, in what was truly a low point in American jurisprudence.

Today, most of Missouri's judges – those who serve in the trial courts in 110 counties – are elected directly by the people. Judges in St. Louis, in four urban counties and on the appellate courts serve under the Missouri Nonpartisan Court Plan, adopted by the voters through initiative petition in 1940. Although the governor initially selects these judges from a panel of applicants nominated by a nonpartisan commission of citizens, attorneys and a judge, they are subject to retention election after serving one year in office and periodically thereafter before serving any additional term in office. All Missouri state judges remain accountable to the people through elections.

Unlike legislators, however, judges never should be elected to carry out specific campaign promises. Campaign promises are appropriate for those running for legislative or executive office; in fact, they are essential in helping voters fully evaluate these candidates. But judicial elections are different. After all, if you have a lawsuit, would you really want the judge in your case to promise a position contrary to yours before hearing you present your evidence and legal arguments? No, you would not ... not any more than the local football coach would want to arrive at a game and discover that the referees have already promised to help the other team.

The only promises judicial candidates should make are to follow their constitutional obligations to be accountable to the law, administer justice fairly and impartially, and remain free from political influence and intimidation. When you appear in court as a litigant, you have a right to expect that the judge will decide your case on the facts and on the law regardless of his or her personal beliefs – regardless of political, financial or other special influences or interests.

To achieve and maintain this vision, I want to improve our system of accountability. To do so we must evaluate ourselves honestly and often. As Alexander Hamilton astutely observed 200 years ago, the judiciary has neither the power of the purse nor the power of the sword. Nor should it. We have only judgment. The people's confidence that their disputes will be resolved on the basis of the law is a bedrock principle of our constitutional democracy as well as fundamental to our economic system.

Our obligation to be fair and impartial also extends to our responsibility to administer the affairs of the judiciary wisely. We should be open to evaluations, from the inside and from the outside, to ensure that our process for using the states' resources – which you provide – is thoughtful and wise and based on facts.

To help us evaluate ourselves, enhance our accountability, and determine the best use of our judicial resources, Missouri's court system has taken three solid steps.

Judging the Judiciary

First, to help us understand where we are and where we should be going, I accepted an offer from the American Bar Association's Standing Committee on Judicial Independence to conduct a thorough examination last year of our Missouri court system – at no cost to us. This is the first – and only – such study that has been done of an American court system. They used criteria the ABA developed for advising emerging democracies around the world about what constitutes an adequate and effective judiciary. They studied the structure of Missouri's courts and conducted in-depth interviews with civic leaders, political leaders, journalists, members of the bar and others about their perceptions of the strengths and needs of the Missouri judiciary. Some of you may have participated in that survey – I have no idea who did, as all the responses were anonymous – so if you did, I thank you for your involvement, your candor and your insights.

Fortunately, most of what the assessment had to say about Missouri's courts was quite positive. We were rated favorably on our professionalism, the quality and tenure of our judges, and our basic unified structure. Our ongoing plan for the use of information technology also was well received. I would add, by the way, that we are using this technology not only to make our courts more efficient but also to let the public see who we are and what we do. This past fall, we launched a new Web site that will give the public ready access to this information. I invite you to visit our courts both in person and online at www.courts.mo.gov.

Evaluating Judges' Performance

Our second step is to enhance our courts' accountability to the public through elections. How do voters get information about judicial performance? In most of Missouri's counties, the populations are small enough that the public can get to know their judges and candidates without costly campaigns. However, for trial courts in the larger counties, whether included in the nonpartisan court plan or not, as well as for the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals, I believe we should enhance the opportunities for the public to get to know these judges, on whom they vote, and to have an evaluation system that provides timely critiques for the benefit of both the public and our judges.

Currently, The Missouri Bar conducts judicial evaluation surveys for every judge on the ballot for retention in nonpartisan plan jurisdictions. The results are available to the media, to the public in printed form in various locations, and on the Bar's Web site. The Bar does all it can to publicize the results given the resources it has, and it should be given great credit for continuing to undertake this valuable service. Most of our citizenry, however, remains uninformed in such elections, mostly because they don't know where to look for information, and this may result in a lack of confidence about our system. I might add, however, that it does have the effect of keeping judges humble. I know I wake up each morning and think of the 582,249 people who voted against me six years ago. Not that anyone's counting. I don't even know 582,249 people, but I'd like to prove to them that the 1.27 million or so Missourians who voted to retain me got it right.

We should try to remedy the lack of information about judges. I am asking The Missouri Bar to convene a fair cross-section of citizens – nonlawyers as well as lawyers – to review our judicial evaluation system, to look at systems in place in other states, and to propose a model that gives useful information about judges that can be communicated effectively to the electorate.

I emphasize two aspects of judicial evaluations. First, a judicial evaluation system should include not just the voices of attorneys, but also the voices of jurors, litigants, witnesses, court staff and others with direct experience with the judges. Second, while the results of a judicial evaluation system should be made available at election, the true intent of any evaluation system is to assist in improving both individual and institutional performance; in other words, evaluation should be ongoing. These evaluations should be timed both to allow judges to have an opportunity to improve as a result of the review and to give voters information before elections where the judges' futures are decided. I believe that the vast majority of judges will be rated highly and that even the highest rated judges will learn something useful about how they do their jobs.

My hope is that the group of citizens convened by The Missouri Bar will propose a judicial evaluation system that is driven by nonlawyers as well as by the members of the Bar; that is independent and nonpartisan; and that produces credible results made widely available to the voting public.

Using Our Resources Wisely

Our third step is to evaluate ourselves in the use and distribution of our resources. The weaknesses the ABA committee identified in its assessment report all relate to lack of resources. One of these relates to the impact of judicial salaries in Missouri. On this topic, I will simply say this: I believe the schedule established by the Citizens' Commission on Compensation under the constitution is sensible and appropriately restrained. The citizens' schedule is essential to our continued ability to attract highly qualified and well-motivated men and women to judicial service. Seven years without one penny of increase is too long.

As for the other needs identified by the ABA report, we look forward to addressing them with you in the budgetary process. We do not seek more judges now. Instead, we need to examine critically and competently how our current resources are deployed. Four years ago, Senator Matt Bartle chaired an Interim Committee on Judicial Resources, which made several recommendations, some dealing with judicial procedure and others dealing with judicial personnel. Many of the recommendations have been implemented.

But because there is no consistent understanding of judicial resource needs, attempts to fashion a consistent process for creating judgeships in this state have languished. Without a coherent method for making decisions allocating judicial personnel, people conclude what they want from the raw data currently available, which includes only population figures and numbers of cases.

But numbers of people and numbers of cases are only part of the answer. To get a true picture of our needs across the state, we have undertaken a substantial study – the first of its kind in Missouri – to review the weighted workload of Missouri’s trial judges. I say “workload,” not “caseload,” because if you just count cases, you will not necessarily get a useful answer. A 15-minute hearing involving a traffic ticket and a two-week murder trial each counts as one “case,” but each obviously has a much different impact on judicial time, both in preparation and in the courtroom. Likewise, time that judges spend on administrative duties is essential to the operation of the courts; in rural areas, especially, where one circuit may include as many as five counties, judges spend time moving from county to county to hear cases – we must account for this travel time.

America’s expert in conducting judicial weighted workload studies is the National Center for State Courts, which we have engaged to direct Missouri’s study. A cross-section of Missouri’s trial judges is serving as a steering committee to guide the study, and the National Center is using methodology that has been used in many other states with similar population distributions between urban and rural areas.

This study, which they are conducting this spring, is essential for our future to provide useful information to us, to the public, and to you, the legislature, so that together we might make more informed decisions about judicial personnel needs. The legislative and executive branches are the appropriators of money, but we have an obligation to advise you how best to spend the public’s dollars for courts. This will assure adequate judicial service in every county of the state.

Do we need more judges? My own guess is that, overall, we have enough judges statewide. But until the data are available this summer, any guess regarding our judicial personnel is still just a guess. We are now filling needs in some areas by transferring judges and using senior judges. We should wait for the results of this study before making any long-term changes in allocation or numbers of judges.

Cooperative Efforts

Although there remains much to improve that the three steps I have described will help bring to light, there is much that we have done in recent years to increase our efficiency and, indeed, to cooperate in improving state government as a whole. Through legislation you passed in 2004, we established methods to collect overdue court debt through the use of income tax offsets, time payment fees and private debt collection agencies. The end result of these efforts has been twofold: a greater respect for the laws you pass, by virtue of the higher percentages of court costs and fines paid, and, since the programs began, an increase of more than $3 million to the state and to local governments and school districts. Almost none of that money comes to the judiciary, just in case you were wondering.

There are other examples. We continue to cooperate with the department of corrections and other agencies in seeking alternatives to prison, including our drug courts, to enhance public safety and to avoid wasting scarce correctional dollars. Additionally, we have remained in contact with you about several opportunities that may allow all three branches of government to become even more efficient. These include the potential for greater savings of time and money in our juvenile justice system as well as for a structural reduction in the public defender’s caseload. Working as partners, we can solve these kinds of problems. We are committed to cooperating with you in a continued spirit of openness and respect, so that we all may better serve the citizens to whom we all are ultimately accountable.

In the past 18 months, during which I have been privileged to serve as chief justice, I have worked hard to help our citizens better understand their system of government. Judges and members of the bar around the state similarly have embraced the challenge of engaging in civics education.

In the eight and a half years I have served on the Supreme Court – and especially in these last 18 months – I have gotten to know many of the fine men and women who serve in the judicial branch as judges, as clerks and as support staff throughout the state. I am very proud of their dedication and of the work they do, week in and week out, to uphold the rule of law and to maintain a stable, civil society in our state through the fair and impartial administration of justice.

On their behalf, I assure you that we in the judiciary will continue to be responsive to the public’s needs, and we will continue to evaluate ourselves – subject to the scrutiny of others – in the spirit of honesty and accountability that all Missourians should expect of us. In turn, it is my hope that you will continue to work with us toward the goal of giving Missouri the greatest judicial system possible. Without your continued support, we cannot meet this goal. But with your support, I am certain that we will.

Thank you.

On motion of Senator Shields, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Koster.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Relating to the recommendations by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, the voters of Missouri approved a constitutional amendment in 1994 that created a commission charged with setting the amount of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators and judges; and

WHEREAS, prior to the approval of this amendment, the General Assembly had the duty and responsibility of setting salaries; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials has recommended that salaries be increased for judges and statewide elected officials by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on July 1, 2007 and by $1,200 plus 4% beginning on January 1, 2009 for legislators; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has additionally recommended that judges, statewide elected officials and legislators receive the same increase in salary as the average state worker for the fiscal years beginning in July 2007 and July 2008, provided that legislators shall not receive such increases until January 1, 2009; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has also recommended a one-time payment of $2,000 for each Associate Circuit Judge on July 1, 2007 to partially compensate for the Circuit Court duties currently being assumed by Associate Circuit Judges throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, the recommended increases would result in a net increase for judges, statewide elected officials and legislators that is far greater than any expected cost-of-living adjustment for state employees in the coming fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, the state has many other priorities for appropriating money in the budget that are far more important than the salary increases recommended by the Commission; and

WHEREAS, the changes recommended by the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials will take effect on July 1, 2007, unless disapproved by the General

Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly may disapprove of the recommendation by a concurrent resolution approved by both the Senate and the House before February 1, 2007:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the recommendations of the Missouri Citizen's Commission on the Compensation of Elected Officials contained in its report dated November 30, 2006, be disapproved; and

COMMUNICATIONS

President Pro-tem Michael Gibbons
State Capitol
Room 326
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Senator Gibbons,

Please accept this letter as notification of my resignation from the Missouri Military Preparedness and Enhancement Commission.

During my nearly 2 years on the Commission, I have been struck by the passion with which its members show in their advocacy for our military personnel and their families. I am confident that their work has and will continue to make Missouri a more military-friendly state, and will improve the quality of life for our armed service personnel.

While I intend to remain active in the work of the commission, I am afraid that my current schedule will not allow me to maintain my membership.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Respectfully,

/s/ Chris Koster

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Matt Blunt, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

Lt. Governor Kinder, Mr. President Pro Tem, Mr. Speaker, distinguished state officials, judges of the Supreme Court, members of the General Assembly, reverend clergy, my fellow Missourians:

The tradition of this address began when President George Washington stood before an uncertain legislature, at an uncertain time in our young nation's history, and urged the Congress to prolong this great experiment, "the United States of America," by promoting science and learning.

Two years ago I stood before you at a time of uncertainty in our own state. I asked for your help in re-ordering priorities and returning to fiscal discipline. I asked you to join me in rejecting complacency so that we could create conditions that would lead to prosperity for every Missourian.

Tonight, I stand before you pleased to report that because of our work together the days of economic uncertainty are in the past.

Now we have reason for renewed optimism, reason to stand strong with hope for the future. Opportunities are increasing and Missouri families have a better quality of life.

More than 50,000 jobs have been created and Missourians are enjoying greater prosperity.

Fellow Missourians, the state of our state is strong, prosperous, and vibrant.

We cannot and should not rest on these important accomplishments. We must do more!

I have traveled all across our great state. I have talked with Missourians and I have listened. The people are asking us to continue moving the state forward, and their will should guide our efforts.

Mothers and fathers want the financial security that enables them to provide for their children's future. They want the peace of mind that comes from knowing that their children will receive a world class education every time they step into a Missouri classroom; that their children will be protected from predators when they log on to the Internet or ride their bike to the neighborhood park; that they will grow up in a culture that is kind and just; and that they will have access to higher education that will unleash their full potential.

Sons and daughters want to know that their parents and loved ones will be taken care of; that their health care will be of the highest quality; and that their leaders will honor the promises and commitments made to a great generation of Americans.

Grandparents want their grandchildren to live in a decent society, and they want confidence that the values that have made America great will be transmitted to yet another generation. They want to know that we are working to ensure safety in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities; and that we respect and will not cut people's Social Security.

Missouri families want confidence that their government is looking out for their interests instead of its own; that we are pursuing results instead of partisanship; and that we will deliver on pledges and commitments. So let us work together to fulfill promises, beginning with the promise that we will put Missouri families first.

Quality, Affordable Health Care

As I visit with Missouri families, one of their chief concerns, and in many cases one of their greatest worries, is how they will afford health care. Missourians are also very concerned about the sick and the poor.

The old Medicaid system was bankrupting our state but, even more importantly, the old system was failing Missourians who need help. Bad management permitted widespread abuse by providers and ineligible recipients at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars—money that should have been used for Missouri's most vulnerable citizens. The old system was so bad that Medicaid was even paying for Viagra for sex offenders.

The decisions we made saved Medicaid and set us on a course to dramatically improve care for the sick and poor beginning now.

Since I took office, I have been visiting with Missourians about their health care concerns. Missourians are worried about those who lack insurance. This is my concern as well. Tonight I promise to deliver improved access to affordable health care for every Missourian, and the guarantee that the sick and the poor will be well served.

With the advice and suggestions of many in this Chamber and thousands across our state, we developed Missouri HealthNet to replace the old Medicaid system.

What I propose with Missouri HealthNet is not a minor reform. It is an entirely new system. It will stand apart from what any other state has done or is doing. The Medicaid program we inherited was a paper-based system, basically unchanged from its original 1967 model. HealthNet will put people first. The old Medicaid failed to focus on prevention and wellness. HealthNet will improve the health of the sick and the poor.

The Medicaid we inherited focused on rules and made recipients dependant on checklists and bureaucratic red tape. HealthNet will give Missourians meaningful choices. It will empower them to be participants rather than just recipients. The old Medicaid was about sickness. The new HealthNet will be about prevention and wellness.

With Missouri HealthNet, for the first time in Missouri history we will guarantee that every participant has access to primary and preventative care.

HealthNet recognizes that Missourians should all have one central point of contact and a doctor who knows them personally. HealthNet provides this access by empowering participants to choose their health care home.

I recently had the opportunity to talk with Dr. Heidi Miller, a young doctor who cares for indigent Missourians at Family Care

Health Centers in St. Louis. Dr. Miller explained why she believes in the health care home. Dr. Miller described the health care home as a place you know, and a place that knows you. She described the health care home as a place that makes you feel safe, a place where you do not have to explain yourself every time, a place where you can go in your time of need. I agree with Dr. Miller. A health care home offers a place to build relationships, and that is why it is a cornerstone of HealthNet.

HealthNet takes the whole person into account. It will use a health risk assessment to develop a plan of care for improved health and, help to avoid unnecessary emergency room visits and unnecessary hospitalizations.

HealthNet recognizes that some people need more help and attention than others. The most vulnerable participants often have extensive health care needs and they will have the option to participate in the Chronic Care Improvement Program. We are expanding this important program to cover patients with sickle cell disease.

HealthNet also will embrace technology to ensure that all health care information is available to patients and providers in a secure system.

HealthNet recognizes that the old Medicaid did little to reward good providers for improving the health of their patients. Unlike the old Medicaid system, HealthNet will pay providers for results, not just visits or tests. In addition to providing all of these benefits, HealthNet will also give participants incentives.

Perhaps most importantly, HealthNet will empower the participant to make their own healthcare choices. HealthNet will significantly expand the number of participants who are allowed to choose their own health plan or to purchase health insurance. We should provide options for care so participants can choose a health plan that is right for them. And we must unleash the power of the free market by empowering participants to be informed and active consumers. This will drive out cost and lead to higher quality care. My HealthNet proposal expands choice and empowers participants.

Federally Qualified Health Centers already serve as the medical home to nearly 300,000 Missourians, providing comprehensive and quality care in nearly 110 community health centers. These centers are making health care available to uninsured Missourians.

So I have made them a budget priority. Over the last two years you and I have worked together to support the creation of new health centers across the state. We should continue that effort. My budget will provide 60 million dollars for improvements, construction and equipment at community health centers throughout Missouri.

Many employers—particularly small businesses—struggle to pay for the health care of their employees. To those employers who are providing good health benefits: Thank you.

Your support of your employees is appreciated. And that is why I am asking this legislature to cut the franchise tax for businesses that provide health insurance. My plan could eliminate the tax for 87 percent of employers and virtually all of our small businesses paying the tax, but they only qualify if they are providing health benefits to their workers.

More than 5 million Missourians have health insurance, but 700,000 are yet to be covered. I believe that we can dramatically increase the number who have health insurance. Innovative ideas are being discussed in this Capitol. We must work together to reduce the uninsured by employing the following principles:

First, we should combine various resources—federal and state, public and private—to lower the price of insurance.

Second, we should offer incentives to employers that provide health insurance such as the franchise tax cut I outlined.

Third, we should improve our laws so that Missourians can take their insurance with them when they switch jobs.

Fourth, we should pool the purchasing power of the uninsured to help them buy insurance at the lowest possible cost.

Fifth, we should allow employers and employees to pay insurance premiums with tax free dollars.

And sixth, the state should invest money to launch a program taking all of these principles into account and I commit 20 million dollars to launch this initiative.

We can do all of this, and we can make the system work for every single Missourian.

These principles, combined with HealthNet will provide health coverage to more Missourians than ever before in our state's history.

We already have created opportunities for many uninsured by passing legislation to allow small businesses to provide their employees with high quality health care at an affordable price by forming Association Health Plans. Companies that had never before been able to afford health care for their employees were given the ability to purchase quality, affordable health care. And initial premium savings ranged from 18 percent for the largest employers to as much as 40 to 50 percent for small employers. I call on the Congress to enact the same laws and level the playing field for all Americans.

We have a moral obligation to protect the innocent and vulnerable. Our children are among the most vulnerable. As I travel the state, I have visited with family after family that is dealing with autism. Autism Spectrum Disorders affect more lives than pediatric cancer, diabetes and AIDS combined. Early diagnosis of autism dramatically improves the development of children who have the disorder. Fortunately, these autistic disorders can be reliably diagnosed very early in a child's life—sometimes as early as six months. To focus on diagnosis and improvements to autism treatment I am asking you to approve my recommendation of 3.9 million dollars.

Those who have a mental illness or a behavioral disorder also deserve our protection. When parents and families face the difficult decision to place their loved one in the care of the mental health system, they should have the confidence that the state provides them with a safe and nurturing environment. I created the Mental Health Task Force in June, 2006 to help us all improve safety.

I recently signed an Executive Order that implements several Task Force recommendations. In order to implement even more recommendations immediately, my budget includes 2.6 million dollars.

Together we will prevent these instances of abuse and neglect and ensure that those who mistreat the vulnerable are held accountable and punished.

Seniors also can be vulnerable, and we have a moral obligation to them. They raised and instructed us, so it is up to us to pay them back for their love and sacrifice. We can do that by helping Missouri seniors stay in their homes longer, which results in a higher quality of life for them and reduced costs for taxpayers. If you approve my budget we will have increased in-home care funding by 53 million dollars.

Let us also make it easier for Missourians to plan for retirement. I ask you to provide full tax deductibility for all long term care insurance costs.

Help me continue rooting out waste, fraud and abuse. Before I came to office the Medicaid system was being drained by fraud and abuse that took advantage of poor enforcement. We have saved more than 230 million dollars by ending much of this theft. These savings have made it easier for us to take care of vulnerable Missourians. Tonight, I renew my call for a strict false-claims act that will allow my administration to even more effectively fight fraud.

World Class Education

As you all know, my budgets place schools, classrooms, teachers and students first. Two years ago, we embarked on a shared journey to improve the quality of public education for every child in the state of Missouri. Together, we have rewritten the formula to fund our schools; embraced innovation and I have fought for change.

As promised, we have increased funding for public education each year I have been in office. In the midst of an inherited budget disaster, we still increased funding. In fact, education increases have exceeded the rate of inflation in each and every budget I have recommended and in each and every budget I have signed.

This year, my highest priority remains getting more resources to our classrooms, our teachers, and most importantly, our students.

Working together we already have invested 332 million new dollars in elementary and secondary schools. This year I am calling for 214 million additional dollars for our classrooms, bringing the total increase in funding to more than half a billion dollars in the last three years.

Of course, in addition to financial investments, preparing our students to compete in the global economy requires good policy. To begin, we must focus tax dollars around areas of critical concern. Today, 36 percent of Missouri's college freshmen require basic remedial courses in college. In college, they are being taught skills they should have learned in high school or even junior high. Taxpayers should not have to pay twice for the same classes. Parents have told me that they are concerned about this, and they are worried about the good family-supporting jobs around the country that are being moved overseas.

As countries such as China and India move more and more of their citizens into advanced studies, this challenge will only grow. Missouri is no longer just competing with states like Kansas and Illinois, but we are now in the global economy competing with India and Singapore, Shanghai and Hong Kong. If we are to make Missouri families even more prosperous, we must ensure that students are equipped with advanced skills in math and science.

Technology helps improve skills and spark student interest in math and science. That is why my budget includes 2.9 million dollars to fund 100 technology classrooms in 100 different schools.

For too long, the hours between 3:00 in the afternoon and 6:00 in the evening have been the most dangerous for our children. That is one reason I have been encouraging the expansion of after school programs. These programs provide a safe haven for children and opportunities for students to participate in math and science enrichment activities that the regular school day may not allow. To support these programs my budget includes 1 million dollars to expand quality after school programs in math and science, as well as physical activity and health.

I also recently announced the third consecutive year of increased funding for Parents as Teachers. I did so because early childhood education is a great investment for the future. Recently, I convened the first meeting of the Coordinating Board for Early Childhood. They will be a valuable resource as we work to strengthen opportunities for Missouri children.

Good education policy demands that we confront difficult problems head on. As you know, the St. Louis City school district is failing our children. It is failing to provide a basic education to thousands of young Missourians. For me, no option is off the table and I am willing to work with anybody who cares about our children.

We also owe it to families across the state to ease access to college and ensure students get an education and not just a degree. Higher education, whether it be in a community college or a four year institution, is a sound investment that helps to secure a higher quality of life for the next generation.

Unfortunately, literacy among college graduates has actually declined in the last decade. Employers express concern regarding the skill level of graduates applying for jobs. This is unacceptable. Missouri's colleges and universities need to be accountable to taxpayers. I am calling upon the Coordinating Board for Higher Education to create standards and measure performance. Funding for higher education should be tied to colleges and universities meeting those standards.

College costs must be controlled and tuition must be more predictable. To help the family budget, I propose that only in extraordinary circumstances should the Coordinating Board for Higher Education be able to authorize an exception to this rule: No tuition increase should exceed the rate of inflation.

The state must support higher education, and this year, my budget will send 40 million new dollars to colleges and universities. My three year plan will increase funding by more than 110 million dollars. Significantly, we can also make it easier for Missourians to go to college by increasing need-based scholarship funding from 27.5 million dollars to more than 72.5 million dollars.

Additionally, 3.4 million dollars will be added to recruit students into the health care professions and to forgive loans for students who are preparing to be Missouri doctors, dentists, and nurses.

But our effort to deliver a world class education must not stop there. Missouri college students are learning math and science skills in labs and classrooms that are out of date. Talented Missourians interested in entering competitive industries are leaving Missouri for institutions with state of the art facilities. Every one of our campuses has significant capital improvement needs that, if completed, would help ensure that Missouri students are receiving a world class education here at home.

To address those needs I developed the Lewis and Clark Discovery Initiative, which is a partnership between the Missouri Higher Education Loan Authority and the state. Through this Initiative we can sell loans held by people in other states and bring 335 million dollars home to strengthen our colleges and universities for our students.

Missouri's colleges and universities have been waiting far too long for this critical boost in quality. Each additional day that we wait means increased costs. I ask you to act with urgency and approve the Lewis and Clark Discovery Initiative.

We owe it to every Missourian to provide a world class education that will unleash their God-given potential.

Family-supporting Jobs

We also owe it to Missourians to foster an economic climate that creates good family-supporting jobs. We promised that we would work to do that. Missourians have responded to the pro-growth, pro-job policies we have enacted, and since January 2005 Missourians have created more than 53,000 new jobs, 279 businesses per week, and higher per capita personal income.

Part of promoting that healthy economic climate was passing frivolous-lawsuit reform. The old system encouraged frivolous lawsuits and made it difficult to protect Missourians' access to health care because well-trained doctors were fleeing the state due to skyrocketing insurance premiums.

In 2005 we passed legislation that made it much more difficult to file frivolous lawsuits. This has enabled us to recruit and retain doctors, increased the quality of care, and reduced the cost of doing business.

In the past the state often subsidized businesses that paid low wages and did not provide health benefits. In 2005 we enacted the Missouri Quality Jobs Act which centers our economic development on the creation of family supporting jobs with good wages and health care benefits. The Quality Jobs Initiative is the most important economic development tool that we have ever had. So I am asking you to double its capacity to create even more family-supporting jobs.

The Internet is transforming our lives. It is increasing productivity and adding to our quality of life, but not all Missourians have access to this valuable tool. We must promote policies encouraging investment so that we can deliver high speed Internet to more Missourians—whether wealthy or poor; young or old; in our largest cities or on our most remote farms.

When government allows businesses to compete, Missourians see lower prices, and more choices. So I am asking you to enact legislation that creates competition for all companies that want to provide telecommunications and cable services.

I also urge you to change the law so that Missouri families get to keep more of their own income. President Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act so that, in America, growing older did not mean you had to be poor. Yet, the state taxes people's well earned Social Security benefits. This is not a problem that we created, but it is another problem that we can solve. The Social Security tax is a Social Security cut. So let us stop the cut and allow Missouri seniors to keep the Social Security they have earned. I urge you to take up, pass, and allow me to sign Speaker Jetton's legislation to stop cutting people's Social Security.

Honoring Our Veterans

Many seniors are of that great generation of Americans who defeated the forces of tyranny in the Second World War. As a veteran, I am proud to lead a state that respects those who wear the uniform today. We must do our best to honor the brave men and women of our Armed Forces. They volunteered to endure blood, sweat and tears, and to do this all to protect and extend the frontier of freedom. With your support we have already been able to achieve a great deal for our veterans and their families.

We enacted legislation to prevent hateful protests at the funeral services of fallen soldiers. Because of this law, and the vigorous enforcement by our police, sheriffs and Highway Patrol, the families of our men and women in uniform are able to honor our military heroes.

With your help we also established the Guard at Home program, which is helping the families of deployed guard members and reservists avoid economic hardship. Once our guard members and reservists return home, the Guard at Home Program will help them get back into the civilian workforce.

But we need to do more. I am also asking you to streamline the process for qualified veterans who apply for or renew a professional license.

These brave Missourians have stood up for democracy. It is our duty to stand up for them. That is why my budget will send an additional 6.2 million dollars to support veterans' homes and 4.5 million new dollars for better equipment.

The Sanctity of Life

Remarkably, it was only in the last two centuries that democracy became the preferred form of government. In that time, however, one of the defining traits of democracy has been a concern for what we refer to as a society's "culture." No society can remain civilized if it does not concern itself with the respect and courtesy that is shown to one another, how it perceives the family, and how it treats its most vulnerable.

Missourians know that a coarsening of our culture undermines human dignity. In stark contrast to cultural relativism stands the belief that all of humanity is bound together by a moral fabric. There is, indeed, an enduring moral order and our policies should reflect our basic values.

We have enacted laws that move us in the right direction. We are fortunate to live in a state that has protected traditional marriage and enshrined that protection in the constitution. Since I came to office we have also been able to enact important laws that make Missouri a national leader in protecting human life. We created an income tax credit for pregnancy resource centers. We also strengthened parental consent laws to ensure that Missouri parents are involved in the most critical decisions that their young children make.

This year we must continue to protect the innocent and pass legislation that reflects our common values. I ask you to approve the 200,000 dollars in new funding that I have recommended for the Alternatives to Abortion program, and I also urge you to place this program in statute and make it permanent.

Protecting Society from Violent Crime

The fundamental responsibility of government is to protect life and liberty. Ensuring the safety of our children is at the center of this obligation. That is why last year we passed Missouri's version of Jessica's Law. It mandates a life sentence with at least 30 years served for those predators who commit the most egregious crimes against young children. This law is one of the toughest in the nation. We have sent a clear message to child predators. If they commit such a crime in Missouri, we will put them behind bars for a very long time and if they ever get out of prison we will watch them for the rest of their life.

The Internet has opened up a whole new world of information. Unfortunately, terrible people have put it to terrible use. Some are using the Internet to lure our children into dangerous and potentially fatal situations.

The ability to catch these criminals and prosecute them is critical to enforcing the tough provisions of Jessica's Law. Fortunately, Jessica's Law created the Cyber Crime Grant Program. This year I am asking you to double the funding for this valuable program and approve an additional 250,000 dollars to help Internet crime fighters buy the equipment they need to track down these predators.

Our ability to protect our children depends on three things: tough laws, great law enforcement, and vigilant citizens. Thankfully we have them all. As you all know, Mitchell Hults gave law enforcement the information they needed to rescue Shawn Hornbeck and Ben Ownby. Because of his vigilance, these families have been reunited. Mitchell Hults is here tonight. Please join me in honoring a Missouri hero, Mitchell Hults.

Public safety involves more than just vigorous enforcement of our criminal laws. Governments, charities, churches and the Missouri National Guard must work together to overcome natural disasters. Missourians are kind, compassionate and generous people. We look out for one another. The ongoing recovery from the ice storms is only the latest case of Missouri meeting the challenge of an unexpected disaster.

Missourians who have had to endure multiple outages deserve real answers and effective solutions. I am calling on electric utilities to evaluate the damage caused by the ice storms and take appropriate preventive action.

Law-abiding Missourians should not be punished when they use force to defend themselves and their families in their own home. I urge you to pass legislation that protects Missourians when they defend themselves from attack. I also ask you to pass legislation that guarantees Missourians will retain their Second Amendment rights, especially in times of emergency.

Like all of you, I still remember learning the story of the Good Samaritan—the story of a man who acted as a neighbor to a perfect stranger. In emergencies we are blessed to have doctors, nurses and others who volunteer to help. These volunteers should not be punished for their generosity. I urge you to pass legislation that protects volunteers from frivolous lawsuits when they are acting as Good Samaritans.

Murderers inflict incomprehensible pain and suffering when they take the life of a police officer, sheriff, corrections officer, or state trooper. So I am asking you to pass legislation that makes the death penalty mandatory in cases involving the murder of a law enforcement officer.

Agriculture and Renewable Fuels

A grave national security threat is a reliance on oil imported from nations that despise our country, hate our values and want to harm innocent Americans. The production of renewable fuels is one of Missouri agriculture's greatest success stories. In the same way that Missouri's farmers rose to a great challenge and fed the world in the last century, this century's Missouri farmers will answer another noble calling and fuel America.

The use of ethanol blended fuel helps family farmers and it leads to improved air quality. Last year you passed, and I signed, legislation requiring that virtually all gasoline sold in Missouri contain 10 percent ethanol by January 1 of next year.

With your help I have already proposed and signed budgets that included full funding for the biodiesel and ethanol incentive funds as well as funding for back payments from previous years that were not honored before I assumed office.

This year's budget fully funds the biodiesel and ethanol incentives and I further propose that we fulfill all outstanding payments in the supplemental budget.

We have passed laws to limit government and protect freedom in the past. I know we can do it again this year. In 2005, the United States Supreme Court ruled that local governments can take property and give it to private developers. It was a terrible ruling. In response, we enacted strong legislation to protect Missourians from losing their homes and farms in the name of commercial development. The American Farm Bureau calls Missouri's law the Gold Standard for protecting property rights.

This legislation was a bold step for all home and property owners. Now we need to stand up again for the rights of our farmers. The 100,000 plus Missouri family farms must be protected from abusive lawsuits. Missourians who have been farming for years and generations should have the right to work the land. They should not be burdened with unreasonable ordinances designed to chase them out of farming. So that Missouri farm families can continue to produce the food and fiber that is so vital to feeding families here at home and around the world, I urge you to pass the Missouri Farm and Food Preservation Act.

Safe and Modern Transportation

If you have driven anywhere in Missouri in the last two years, you have probably seen some new construction. If you are like me, it has probably made you late a time or two. But the inconvenience has been worth it. Early last month MoDOT delivered a total of 2,200 miles of safer, smoother and better roads. Fewer Missourians lost their lives traveling on our roads last year. Missourians now travel more safely, with less wear and tear on their vehicles and less time in traffic.

My administration's road improvements will not end with the Smooth Roads Initiative. I fully support MoDOT's new initiative which will improve 5,600 miles of major highways over the next five years. Every Missourian will benefit from this effort.

Respecting People's Hard-Earned Dollars

The budget I am submitting is balanced. Our fiscal situation is dramatically improved from when I stood before you two years ago. We did not achieve this progress by taking an easy road. Because we were responsible in the past, we can make critical investments and stop cutting the Social Security benefits of our seniors.

We do have a surplus. But it is the people's surplus, and we must use it wisely. We cannot create new ongoing costs by expanding government. We cannot recreate the spending dilemma that we faced two years ago. We need to give the people of Missouri a government that is responsible so that Missouri families can move forward together.

The budget I submit to you provides a 200 million dollar ending balance to fund key priorities including education and healthcare in future fiscal years.

The budget I recommend continues the course of fiscal responsibility. It is balanced and it does not raise taxes. It reflects the common sense priorities of the people of Missouri.

A New Age of Prosperity

Together we play a vital role in shaping the future. Together we can demonstrate the strength of our leadership by giving Missourians the opportunity to experience the full promise of American life. We have it within our power to lay the foundation for an age of unprecedented prosperity for every Missourian.

Together we can show the strength of our character as we allow Missourians to keep and enjoy the prosperity they earned—by replacing broken and outdated government programs with effective initiatives to serve the sick and the poor, by lowering the tax burden on Missourians, especially our seniors, and by giving every child in Missouri an education that will serve as the first rung on a ladder to achieving their own prosperity and a bright future.

We must do this because as Thomas Jefferson said, “the happiness and prosperity of our citizens is the only legitimate object of government.” We can do this because there is no limit to what the people of Missouri can achieve when they have the freedom to succeed.

Thank you. May God bless you and may God continue to bless the great state of Missouri.

On motion of Senator Shields, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Nodler.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

SB 375—By Koster.

An Act to amend chapter 188, RSMo, by adding thereto two new sections relating to abortions.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCR 13, entitled:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

Disapproving the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, the voters of Missouri approved a constitutional amendment in 1994 which created a commission charged with setting the amount of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators and judges; and

Whereas, Article XIII, Section 3 of the Missouri Constitution charges the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials with setting the amounts of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators, and judges; and

Whereas, the Constitution provides the Commission with a four-month window prior to its constitutional deadline for making salary recommendations to hold public hearings around the state to gather testimony related to salaries for affected state officials and to carefully consider whether pay increases are warranted; and

Whereas, in 2006, the Commission did not begin work until eleven days before its December 1, 2006, deadline for submitting a report containing salary recommendations; and

Whereas, as few as six members of the twenty-two member Commission attended the public hearings at which testimony on salaries for affected officials was given; and

Whereas, the Commission recommended pay increases for state judges and statewide elected officials effective July 1, 2007, and pay increases for legislators effective January 1, 2009; and

Whereas, Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials attempted to compile a fiscally prudent and responsible compensation schedule that would allow for modest, reasonable increases for all persons affected; and

Whereas, the Commission believes that the recommendation accomplishes the twin goals of making the commission function again and rectifying the currently dysfunctional pay system for legislators, statewide elected officials, and judges; and

Whereas, when considered as an annual percentage over the years that have passed since any of these officials last received any increase, this report's recommended increases amount to less than a 1% increase per year for all offices; and

Whereas, the recommendation establishes a system for consistent future increases in the same manner as other State of Missouri employees; and

Whereas, the Commission's recommendations shall take effect unless disapproved by the General Assembly through a concurrent resolution process passed by two-thirds majorities in each legislative chamber before February 1, 2007:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that the recommendations of the Missouri Citizen's Commission on Compensation of Elected Officials be disapproved.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Read 1st time.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Purgason offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

Relating to a prohibition on the implementation of the federal REAL ID Act.

WHEREAS, in May 2005, the United States Congress enacted the REAL ID Act of 2005 as part of the Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act for Defense, the Global War on Terror, and Tsunami Relief Act (PL 109-13), which was signed by President Bush on May 11, 2005, and which becomes effective May 11, 2008; and

WHEREAS, some of the requirements of the REAL ID Act are that states shall:

(1) Issue a driver's license or state identification card in a uniform format, containing uniform information, as prescribed by the federal Department of Homeland Security;

(2) Verify the issuance, validity, and completeness of all primary documents used to issue a driver's license, such as those showing that the bearer is a United States citizen or a lawful alien, a lawful refugee, or a person holding a valid visa;

(3) Provide for secure storage of all primary documents that are used to issue a federally approved driver's license or state identification card;

(4) Provide fraudulent document recognition training to all persons engaged in issuing driver's licenses or state identification cards; and

(5) Issue a driver's license or state identification card in a prescribed format if it is a license or card that does not meet the criteria provided for a federally approved license or identification card; and

WHEREAS, use of the federal minimum standards for state driver's licenses and state-issued identification cards will be necessary for any type of federally regulated activity for which an identification card must be displayed, including flying in a commercial airplane, making transactions with a federally licensed bank, entering a federal building, or making application for federally supported public assistance benefits, including Social Security; and

WHEREAS, some of the intended privacy requirements of the REAL ID Act, such as the use of common machine-readable technology and state maintenance of a database that can be shared with the United States government and agencies of other states, may actually make it more likely that a federally required driver's license or state identification card, or the information about the bearer on which the license or card is based, will be stolen, sold, or otherwise used for purposes that were never intended or that are criminally related than if the REAL ID Act had not been enacted; and

WHEREAS, these potential breaches in privacy that could result directly from compliance with the REAL ID Act may violate the right to privacy secured in the Missouri Constitution, for thousands of residents of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the National Governors' Association, and the National Conference of State Legislatures have estimated, in an impact analysis dated September 2006, that the cost to the states to implement the REAL ID Act will be more than $11 billion over 5 years, and it is estimated that the implementation of the REAL ID Act will cost Missouri millions to fully implement the Act, none of such costs being paid for by the federal government; and

WHEREAS, for all of these reasons, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the National Governors' Association, and the National Conference of State Legislatures, in a letter dated March 17, 2005, to the majority and minority leaders of the United States Senate, opposed the adoption of the REAL ID Act, but the opposition of those groups, and the groups' request that Congress rely on driver's license security provisions already passed by Congress in the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004, was largely ignored by Congress; and

WHEREAS, the regulations that are to be adopted by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to implement the requirements of the REAL ID Act have yet to be adopted and, in reality, will probably not become effective until the Spring of 2007, effectively giving the states only one year in which to become familiar with the implementing regulations and comply with those regulations and the requirements of the REAL ID Act; and

WHEREAS, the mandate to the states, through federal legislation that provides no funding for its requirements, to issue what is, in effect, a national identification card appears to be an attempt to "commandeer" the political machinery of the states and to require the states to be agents of the federal government, in violation of the principles of federalism contained in the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court in New York v. United States, 488 U.S. 1041 (1992), United States v. Lopez, 514 U.S. 549 (1995), and Printz v. United States, 521 U.S. 898 (1997);

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby refuse to implement the REAL ID Act and thereby protest the treatment by Congress and of the states as agents of the federal government and, by such protest, lead other state legislatures and governors to reject the treatment by the federal government of the 50 states by the enactment of the REAL ID Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly finds that the enactment into law by the United States Congress of the REAL ID Act of 2005, as part of PL 109-13, is inimical to the security and well-being of the people of Missouri, will cause unneeded expense and inconvenience to those people, and was adopted by the United States Congress in violation of the principles of federalism contained in the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly prohibits the State of Missouri from participating in the implementation of the REAL ID Act of 2005. The Missouri Department of Revenue, including the Division of Motor Vehicle and Drivers Licensing, is directed not to implement the provisions of the REAL ID Act of 2005 and to report to the Governor any attempt by agencies or agents of the federal Department of Homeland Security to secure the implementation of the REAL ID Act of 2005 through the operations of such Division and Department; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be sent to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 314

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether fitting and proper to pause from time to time to recognize outstanding organizations and individuals who have contributed to the well-being of the citizens of this great state; and

Whereas, during the late-July 2006 storms, power outages required the employees and contractors, numbering in the thousands, of AmerenUE, a Missouri electric utility company, to work sixteen-hour shifts, endure searing heat, and one employee most unfortunately lost his life, in order to restore power to the more than one-half million affected customers; and

Whereas, the employee who so tragically lost his life was Mr. Robert Tackett, 56 years old, a resident of St. Charles, Missouri, a 13-year employee of Ameren as a Distribution Operating Line Troubleshooter working out of the Dorsett Facility, and a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 1439, of St. Louis; and

Whereas, during the current winter outages, during which nearly 400,000 AmerenUE customers across Missouri and Illinois were without power due to a massive winter storm that hit the area on November 30 and December 1, 2006, the employees of AmerenUE, numbering in the hundreds, have been required to demonstrate a similar measure of devotion, by working for restoration during and after the storm, some in rain, sleet, freezing rain, ice, and snow; and

Whereas, the AmerenUE employees and contractors, with strength and courage, battled the weather itself; hunger, fatigue and stress; broken poles and broken live-power lines; irate and frustrated customers; downed and splintered tree limbs and debris of every imaginable sort; under extreme conditions that ranged from more than one hundred degrees Fahrenheit to temperatures in the single digits and below; and encountered dangers difficult even for experts to recognize and handle:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, join to extend our heartfelt gratitude to the employees of AmerenUE for their dedication and service to the citizens of this state; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation on behalf of the employees of AmerenUE.

Senator Ridgeway assumed the Chair.

President Kinder assumed the Chair.

Senator Scott moved that SR 70 be taken up for adoption, which motion prevailed.

On motion of Senator Scott, SR 70 was adopted by the following vote:

WHEREAS, Missouri is pleased to be home to the six-state regional Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Kansas City; and

WHEREAS, Missouri has demonstrated its commitment to trade with Taiwan by maintaining a Trade Office in Taipei since 1990; and

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 284, Page 5, Section 67.2679, Lines 25-28 of said page, by striking all of said lines; and

Further amend said bill and section, Page 6, Lines 1 to 27 of said page, by striking said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“67.2679. 1. The general assembly finds and declares it to be the policy of the state of Missouri that consumers deserve the benefit of competition among all providers of video programming. Creating a process for securing a state-issued video service authorization best promotes the substantial interest of the state of Missouri in facilitating a competitive marketplace that will, in turn, encourage investment and the deployment of new and innovative services in political subdivisions and provide benefits to the citizens of this state. The general assembly further finds and declares that franchise entities will benefit from immediate availability of the state-issued video service authorization to all video service providers, including new entrants and incumbent cable operators. In addition to the benefits to franchise entities found in sections 67.2675 to 67.2715, this immediate availability of state-issued video service authorization will promote fair competition among all video service providers in a local market and thereby provide new revenues to political subdivisions derived from additional video service customers, and the purchase of additional video services by such customers, and the sale of additional advertising by video service providers. This policy will provide a more predictable source of funding for franchise entities which will continue beyond the natural terms of all existing franchise agreements. The franchise entities will also experience cost savings associated with the administrative convenience of the enactment of the state-issued video service authorization. These benefits are full and adequate consideration to franchise entities, as the term “consideration” is used in article III, section 39(5) of the Missouri constitution.”; and

Further amend said bill, Section 67.2715, Pages 27 and 28, by striking said section from the bill; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Griesheimer moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Scott assumed the Chair.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 284, Pages 18-23, Section 67.2703, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“67.2703. 1. A franchise entity may require a video service provider providing video service in such franchise entity to designate up to three channels for non-commercial public, educational, or governmental “PEG” use if such franchise entity has a population of at least fifty thousand, and up to two PEG channels if such franchise entity has a population of less than fifty thousand; provided, however, that a PEG Channel that is shared among multiple political subdivisions served by a common headend on the effective date may continue to be shared among those political subdivisions served by that headend. Such limits shall constitute the total number of PEG channels that may be designated on all video service networks that share a common headend, regardless of the number of franchise entities or other political subdivisions served by such headend. The video service provider may provide such channels on any service tier that is purchased by more than fifty percent of its customers. All video service providers serving a political subdivision shall be required to provide the same number of PEG access channels as the incumbent video service provider existing on the date of enactment of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714.

2. Notwithstanding any franchise or ordinance granted by a franchise entity prior to the date of enactment of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714, this section, rather than the franchise or ordinance, shall apply to the designation of PEG access channels by an incumbent cable operator operating under such franchise or ordinance; provided, however, that if such franchise or ordinance requires more PEG access channels than the applicable limit specified in subsection 1 of this section, the requirement in the franchise or ordinance shall apply in lieu of such limit; provided further, that the incumbent cable operator may nonetheless be required to activate additional PEG channel or channels, up to such limit, to the extent the political subdivision certifies that such additional channel or channels will be substantially utilized, as defined in subsection 4 of this section.

3. Any PEG channel designated pursuant to this section that is not substantially utilized, as defined in subsection 4 of this section, by the franchise entity shall no longer be made available to the franchise entity, but may be programmed at the video service provider's discretion. At such time as the governing body of a franchising entity makes a finding and certifies that a channel that has been reclaimed by a video service provider under this subsection will be substantially utilized, the video service provider shall restore the reclaimed channel within one hundred and twenty days, but shall be under no obligation to carry that channel on any specific tier.

4. For purposes of this section, a PEG channel shall be considered "substantially utilized" when forty hours per week are locally programmed on that channel for at least three consecutive months. In determining whether a PEG channel is substantially utilized, a program may be counted not more than four times during a calendar week.

5. Except as provided in this section, a franchise entity or political subdivision may not require a video service provider to provide any funds, services, programming, facilities, or equipment related to public, educational, or governmental use of channel capacity. The operation of any PEG access channel provided pursuant to this section and the production of any programming that appears on each such channel shall be the sole responsibility of the franchise entity or its duly appointed agent receiving the benefit of such channel, and the video service provider shall bear only the responsibility for the transmission of the programming on each such channel to subscribers.

6. The franchise entity must ensure that all transmissions of content and programming provided by or arranged by it to be transmitted over a PEG channel by a video service provider are delivered and submitted to the video service provider in a manner or form that is capable of being accepted and transmitted by such video service provider holder over its network without further alteration or change in the content or transmission signal, and which is compatible with the technology or protocol utilized by the video service provider to deliver its video services.

7. The franchise entity shall make the programming of any PEG access channel available to all video service providers in such franchise entity in a nondiscriminatory manner. Each video service provider shall be responsible for providing the connectivity to the franchise entity's or its duly appointed agent's PEG access channel distribution points existing as of effective date of enactment of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714. Where technically necessary and feasible, video service providers in the same franchise entity shall use reasonable efforts and shall negotiate in good faith to interconnect their video service networks on mutually acceptable rates, terms, and conditions for the purpose of transmitting PEG programming within such franchise entity. A video service provider shall have no obligation to provide such interconnection to a new video service provider at more than one point per headend, regardless of the number of franchise entities or other political subdivisions served by such headend. The video service provider requesting interconnection shall be responsible for any costs associated with such interconnection, including signal transmission from the origination point to the point of interconnection. Interconnection may be accomplished by direct cable microwave link, satellite, or other reasonable method of connection acceptable to the person providing the interconnect.”.

Senator Bray moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Gross offered SA 1 to SA 5, which was read:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO
SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5
Amend Senate Amendment No. 5 to Senate

Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 284, Page 1, Section 67.2703, Lines 18-19, by striking all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following: “provider shall provide such channels on all service tiers. All video”.

Senator Gross moved that the above amendment be adopted.

At the request of Senator Griesheimer, SB 284, with SCS, SS for SCS, SA 5 and SA 1 to SA 5 (pending), was placed on the Informal Calendar.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Senator Gross, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following report:

Mr. President: Your Committee on Appropriations, to which was referred HB 15, begs leave to report that it has considered the same and recommends that the bill do pass.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Justus, Smith, Days and Bray offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

Whereas, President George W. Bush has proposed an escalation in the number of United States troops deployed in Iraq; and

Whereas, United States involvement in Iraq has resulted in the deaths of more than 3,000 United States soldiers and the wounding and disabling of more than 22,000 United States military personnel to date; and

Whereas, the war and subsequent civil war between Iraqi religious factions has led to at least 55,000 Iraqi civilian deaths, with others estimating as much as ten times that number, which threatens to engulf our troops in an ever escalating cycle of violence and reprisals; and

Whereas, this proposed escalation will further extend National Guard tours in Iraq, that the costs to the states of the call-up of National Guard members for deployment in Iraq have been significant, as reckoned in lost lives, combat injuries and psychic trauma, disruption of family life, financial hardship for individuals, families and businesses, interruption of careers and damage to the fabric of civic life in our communities; and

Whereas, the American troops have valiantly upheld their duty in Iraq under dire circumstances; and

Whereas, more than $357 billion has been appropriated by Congress to fund military operations and reconstruction in Iraq to date, money that could fund desperately needed education, health care, housing, nutrition, and other social services in our communities in the United States or humanitarian assistance abroad; and

Whereas, previous budgets that have prioritized Iraq have led to cuts in critical block grants for states and have increased the federal debt, which compounded by interest payments, will likely lead to even larger cuts in funding for critical needs in the States; and

Whereas, polls show that the vast majority of Americans do not support increasing the number of troops in Iraq; and

Whereas, most military experts oppose escalation in Iraq and press reports indicate that even the Joint Chiefs of Staff have opposed such a strategy; and

Whereas, legal experts on all sides have determined that Congress has not only broad authority, but a long tradition of limiting escalation or forcing redeployment of troops through the Constitutionally-designate power of the purse:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urges, on behalf of its citizens, that in a period when the Iraq Study Group, leading military and diplomatic officials and allies around the world are calling for a reduction in troops and withdrawal of the United States from Iraq, the United States government should not escalate its involvement in Iraq or increase troop levels; and

Be it further resolved that, at a minimum, the President should obtain explicit approval from Congress if he wants to send more American troops to Iraq; and

Be it further resolved that the Congress should pass legislation prohibiting the President from spending taxpayer dollars on an escalation in Iraq unless he first seeks Congressional approval; and

Be it further resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for George W. Bush, President of the United States, and to each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

TWENTIETH DAY—WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2007

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Create in me a clean heart, O God, and put a new and right spirit within me.” (Psalm 51:10)

Lord, so many times we get caught up in our own self importance because You have made us successful people. Help us to realize, as King David learned, that our pride in our accomplishments can get in the way of a right relationship with You. Only You, O Lord, can bring renewal and a pure heart that is willing to serve only You. Let us be such a people O God, and “put a new and right spirit” within us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Director of Transportation, Pete Rahn, assumed the dais and delivered the State of Transportation Address to the Joint Assembly:

Pete Rahn
State of Transportation Address
Jefferson City, Missouri
February 7, 2007

Lt. Governor, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Members of the 94th General Assembly, Members of the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission and Citizens of Missouri:

Missouri has been shaped by the evolution of transportation. We have been blessed with great natural wonders and by the pioneering spirit of visionaries. Mighty rivers carried the canoes of the first Missourians. Lewis and Clark's keelboat followed close behind providing a gateway to the west and the great steamboats of the late 1800's revolutionized travel and commerce.

Missourians also witnessed the advance of railroads that drove western expansion and economic growth throughout our state. Crude cattle trails with now-famous names became roads and then super interstate highways, and flying contraptions led to bustling airports across Missouri that connected us overnight to the world.

Each improved form of transportation produced greater economic opportunity and increased our personal freedom. Today we enjoy, and frankly take for granted, the finest transportation system in the history of mankind. Our livelihoods, our security, our independence, in essence—our very way of life—depend upon the pavements, waterways, rail and runways that link our vast nation. In the very heart of this system, Missouri has great opportunity and a great responsibility.

It is because of this importance that I am proud to report to you that the state of transportation in Missouri is improving dramatically.

This improvement has been the result of greater investment in our transportation system - investment that creates jobs, personal income, economic activity and revenue for education, health care, public safety and other vital services.

The Missouri Department of Economic Development reports that our 5.7 billion-dollar, five-year statewide transportation improvement program provides an impressive economic benefit to citizens. Ultimately, for every one billion dollars we invest in transportation we generate 3.6 billion dollars in economic activity.

Additionally, many millions of dollars are received by the state's general revenue fund each year because of investment in our state's transportation system. That is funding that can be used for other vital public services.

History has demonstrated that investing in transportation has always been of significant value. Transportation is a good investment that returns great yields and leads to a better Missouri. We are seeing the benefits of greater investment in other ways, too.

Our busiest roads are smoother. 74 percent of Missouri's major highways are now in good condition and drivers are feeling the difference.

Our most traveled highways are safer. We have installed brighter, wider stripes; larger, easier-to-read signs; emergency reference markers; rumble stripes and median guard cables. As a result, 173 fewer people lost their lives in 2006.

According to USA Today, this 14 percent drop is the third largest decrease in traffic fatalities among all states and the District of Columbia. Now, that is a ranking of which we can all be proud.

Ladies and gentleman, our roads are getting smoother and safer, sooner because your department of transportation is getting more efficient and effective every day.

This improved effectiveness was illustrated on December 8, 2006. I was pleased to join Governor Blunt in placing a big yellow banner reading "Completed One Year Ahead Of Schedule" on a Smooth Roads Initiative highway sign.

When we set out to use Amendment 3 funds to make Missouri's busiest 2,200 miles of roads smoother and safer in just three years, we thought that would be an extraordinary accomplishment.

In his 2006 State of the State Address, however, the governor challenged us to deliver the program one year early. And -- as soon as I regained consciousness -- we started working to meet the governor's challenge.

Last year we did just that and the words on the banner changed to reflect completion of the vital initiative not just as promised, but one year and 23 days early.

We cannot, however, at this time place a "Completed As Promised" banner on our mission to make Missouri's highways and bridges better. Together, we have made great advancements toward a world-class transportation system, but we have a long way to go. There are, however, positive indicators of our success. We are hearing from customers commenting about the noticeable improvements in Missouri's roads.

In December, we had further proof of drivers feeling the difference in the condition of our highways. A nationwide survey of truckers by Overdrive Magazine ranked Interstates 44 and 70 in Missouri as the second and third most improved highways in the country.

That is a dramatic change from just the previous year when that same magazine ranked I-44 in Missouri as the second-worst highway in the nation and our highways overall were also ranked second-worst.

This is progress, but not victory. During the past year we have announced steps to make further improvements to our state's roads. Just last month, the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission approved the Better Roads, Brighter Future Program. If you thought the Smooth Roads Initiative was impressive, just wait until you experience this. Better Roads, Brighter Future is the Smooth Roads Initiative on steroids.

This groundbreaking program will result in 5,600 miles of our busiest highways being smoother and safer by 2012. I would add that 95 percent of Missourians live within 10 miles of these routes.

These better roads will include smooth pavement; brighter, wider striping; larger signs; rumble stripes; and, in most cases, a minimum four-foot paved shoulder. This means that the success of the Smooth Roads Initiative and all of its improvements will now be applied to our entire major highway system.

At the same time, the program will mean a brighter future. Smooth roads increase fuel efficiency by 2.4 percent. That savings will put an additional 100 million dollars back into the pockets of Missouri's drivers.

Additionally, it will create employment opportunities up and down the highways we improve.

But our efforts don't end there. I thank the General Assembly for the authority to use the innovative design-build method to deliver improvements to Missouri's transportation system.

Our first design-build project is Highway 40 in St. Louis or I-64, as we now call it. I-64 will be the largest single construction project in Missouri's highway history and the implemented innovations are unrivaled here or anywhere else in the country.

We have taken a project that would normally create a virtual parking lot on I-64 for seven years and accelerated construction to just three years with the public feeling significant affects for only two. And the resulting benefits will be worth the temporary inconvenience.

We will be rebuilding and upgrading all pavements and bridges and building 12 new interchanges on 10 miles of I-64 including a new high speed interchange at I-170. Our innovative approach has already saved money and time while creating a model workforce development partnership for the region.

On the other side of the state, in Kansas City, we are proceeding with our second design-build project to replace the existing Paseo Bridge. We are calling this project KcICON because it will provide better interstate connections and will be a landmark bridge of which all Missourians can be proud.

KcICON will mean less traffic congestion and greater mobility in the Kansas City area. It also breaks new ground for community involvement. A 12-member Community Advisory Group has been formed whose members were selected by local officials to provide input and a public perspective regarding the architectural design of the bridge.

The third and final design-build project is our Safe and Sound Bridge Improvement Plan. Safe and Sound will mean more than 800 better bridges by 2012.

With over 10,000 bridges, Missouri has the seventh most of any state in the union. We face a crisis situation as more than 1,000 are structurally in serious condition. Many are one step away from being closed.

Our bold approach to improve our bridges in record time is not only innovative, but also unprecedented. Other states, transportation organizations and national publications are watching this program with great interest.

A team of contractors and designers will be selected to perform all of the work. This approach works well with large, complicated projects and will give us the best possible opportunity to save money and complete the program within its aggressive time schedule. Each of the bridges will be replaced or repaired and the successful bidder will be required to keep them in good condition for at least 25 years. If their solutions don't perform, we don't pay. That is the ultimate protection of Missouri taxpayers for an extreme makeover of Missouri's bridges.

With all of this innovation accelerating our program, and thanks to voter approval of Amendment 3 in 2004, it is little wonder that we have experienced the largest highway construction program in Missouri history.

Missourians benefited from 1.4 billion dollars invested in road improvements in 2006 meaning that our highways are getting safer and smoother, our state is getting more prosperous and our quality of life is improving.

The people of Missouri trusted us with additional funding through Amendment 3. MoDOT said that we would put that money to quick use improving your state highways. We said what we would do and then we did it. We are on schedule for successful completion of Amendment 3 improvements and to declaring "Completed as Promised."

Our accomplishments, however, have not been limited to highways. We have also worked to improve other modes of transportation in our state.

In June of last year, we began the assessment of Amtrak rail service between St. Louis and Springfield. Additionally, I was proud to certify for operation the MetroLink extension in August. Both of these developments mean the potential for more and better transportation options for Missourians.

We have also made strides toward improving local airports, which are so essential to economic development and business retention. We are currently building an airport with a 5,000-foot runway in Branson West -- the 30th such airport in Missouri. This type of airport is essential for accommodating larger business aircraft.

This will be the 7th new airport constructed by MoDOT since 1990. In fact, Missouri has built more new general aviation airports than any state in the nation during this 16-year period.

Missouri's waterways have also seen investment resulting in economic development. A 500,000-dollar grant to the Southeast Missouri Regional Port Authority in Scott City resulted in attraction of a corn milling business.

This economic development resulted in 40 million dollars of investment in the local community and creation of nearly 300 jobs in the area. The investment also helped bring about a nearby ethanol plant now under construction, which means another quarter of a billion dollars in private investment and 450 more jobs.

Unfortunately, with current funding, we cannot say, "completed as promised" to becoming a total transportation department. We are called a department of transportation, but we are funded like a highway department. We must find ways to increase investment in other modes of transportation.

When we speak of quality of life, we must discuss safety. We have worked hard to make our highways as safe as possible. And our efforts have led to a decrease in fatalities on our roadways.

Accelerating safety improvements under the Smooth Roads Initiative will save an estimated 14 lives and prevent 589 injuries this year. Earlier completion of these safety improvements will also result in a cost savings of more than $74 million to the traveling public.

Another great life-saving measure has been the installation of median guard cables. Wherever the center median on our interstates is less than 60 feet wide, we have placed these cables. All of I-70 now has them across Missouri. Much of I-44 and I-29 also have these safety features and they will soon be complete on these corridors as well.

You need only to drive a few miles on these routes to witness the effectiveness of guard cables. As you drive, you will see how frequently the cables are being hit. It costs us nearly 4 million dollars per year to repair these strikes and maintain the guard cables overall.

This is money wisely invested, since each instance represents potential lives saved because the cables have proven 95 percent effective at stopping crossover crashes.

Despite the effectiveness of median guard cables and the other measures we have taken to make our highways safer, we all know that it is driver behavior that results in most highway fatalities and serious injuries. The fact is that the most effective "guard cable" is the one you strap across your body when you enter your vehicle. Unfortunately, not enough people are buckling up. We have seen a drop in safety belt use in Missouri. Usage rates went from 77 percent in 2005 to only 75 percent in 2006. This is the first time since 1998 that safety belt use has not increased.

Even more alarming, safety belt use is lowest among our youngest drivers. Teenagers buckle up only 58 percent of the time, and they make up a disproportionate amount of the people killed and injured in crashes each year.

The facts are clear and convincing. About 68 percent of the people who die in Missouri traffic crashes are not wearing a safety belt. A driver involved in a traffic crash in 2005 had a one in 32 chance of being killed if not wearing a safety belt. In those cases where drivers wore safety belts, their chance of being killed was only one in 1,017.

It is apparent that safety belts save lives, but only if they are worn. Despite our best efforts. Despite unprecedented public education activities. Safety belt use is on the decline in Missouri.

We all know what action would increase safety belt use based on examples from numerous other states. That action is the passage of a primary safety belt law.

I commend the 39 members of the Missouri House of Representatives who have signed on to co-sponsor House Bill 90 - Missouri's primary safety belt act.

As most of you know, that bill number was not an accident. We could save 90 lives per year by enacting a primary safety belt law. Safety belt usage is required by law now. This bill would simply allow for effective enforcement.

Of the more than 500 traffic offenses in Missouri, our safety belt law is the only one that deliberately discourages police enforcement. The effect of the current law is to declare that a cracked taillight or a dirty license plate is a higher priority for law enforcement than life saving safety belts.

It is time to act. We spend billions of dollars making our highways safer. Without spending a dime, we could save 90 lives each year. It is imperative that we make 2007 the year we say, "completed as promised" about a primary safety belt law and saving those 90 lives.

That promise, however, will not be fulfilled just once. Each of you who help enact this bill will know that with every year that passes, you have saved another 90 lives.

Unfortunately, we are also losing too many MoDOT workers in the line of duty. In the past five years we have lost nine employees. Last year the General Assembly took an important, life-saving step by making work zone laws stricter and the penalties more severe. I thank you, sincerely.

In 2006, four MoDOT employees lost their lives. Bob Eftink, Robert Mayer, Ken Hoierman and William Crain were killed in the line of duty working to make our transportation system better.

MoDOT team members made many sacrifices over the past year working long hours, including nights and weekends, serving the people of our state. These four gentlemen made the ultimate sacrifice in service to the public.

Relatives of Bob Eftink, Robert Mayer, Ken Hoierman and William Crain are here today. They represent the loved ones they lost and the families of all MoDOT workers who have made great sacrifices for the people of Missouri. I ask them to stand so we can express our appreciation.

We have accomplished great things together over the past year. It is our duty, however, to look toward the future, not to remain in the past. That future will require us to think differently than we have before.

Transportation is too important to be locked into conventional solutions. To address the needs of our future, we will have to look beyond what is currently accepted to what is most effective.

The needs we must address are substantial. By 2012 -- just five years from today -- there will be nearly 800,000 more large trucks annually on I-44 and greater than 700,000 more large trucks on I-70. This vital commercial traffic will only increase beyond 2012 and will be even higher in urban areas.

We cannot ignore this growing traffic and I am convinced that we must include dedicated truck lanes as part of our solution to separate semis from family sedans on our two most critical roadways -- I-70 and I-44.

This will make driving safer and more comfortable for motorists and truckers. This can be accomplished within our current cost estimates of 7.2 billion dollars for improvement to both interstates.

The growing traffic congestion on our interstates will be even worse in urban areas. By the year 2020, drivers on the Poplar Street Bridge in St. Louis will experience three-hour backups during morning peak commute times. We must do everything we can to prevent that from happening.

A New Mississippi River Bridge is critical to the long-term economic health of the St. Louis region. Unfortunately, given current funding, we have no means to pay for this project. It is imperative that we find an innovative solution to paying for this bridge.

This bridge and our interstates are just a portion of the 32,000-mile highway system we maintain - the seventh largest in the country. We have nearly 27,000 miles of lettered routes that are so vital to our overall system. Currently, and for the foreseeable future, we can only try to maintain them in their current condition without any significant improvements.

These routes are particularly important for the movement of crops and agricultural products, which are imperative to the economic health of our state. Without additional funding, we can do little to accommodate the changing nature of farm equipment including the transition from the old two-ton flatbed truck to the tractor-trailer rigs that are so common on today's farms.

In order to rebuild our largest, busiest interstates. To improve our lettered routes. To impact growing urban and suburban congestion. To truly move transportation forward in Missouri. We must find a way to direct more dollars to our roads and other modes of transportation.

We are in the midst of a bubble for funding of highway construction. From the top of this peak we can observe a very low valley. Our current construction program of 1.3 billion dollars, the largest in Missouri history, drops off a cliff in 2010 and plummets to 569 million dollars, which is slightly less than where we were prior to Amendment 3.

I am extremely pleased to see a dialogue about the need for greater transportation funding beginning in the legislature this year. I know that legislation has been introduced that will allow for thoughtful debate about funding highways, bridges and other modes. That is a crucial first step.

As your department of transportation, it is our duty to ensure that taxpayers are confident in our ability to utilize additional funding effectively and efficiently. They also expect us to use the money to improve their roads. We have demonstrated our ability to do just that.

When we started the Smooth Roads Initiative, only 47 percent of Missouri's major highways were in good condition. Today, 74 percent of those highways are in good condition.

We have shown that given additional resources we will use them wisely and for their intended purposes. As we were investing record amounts in highway construction, we were only spending two percent of our budget on administration and with no additional full-time staff.

We have applied practical design to our roads and bridges by cutting out the frills and simply meeting needs. We have applied that same concept to administrative expenses and are directing the maximum amount possible to making our transportation system better.

And, we are being recognized for our efforts.

Roads and Bridges magazine said MoDOT, "has turned over a new leaf, and infrastructure repair work started to flourish over the last year."

Midwest Contractor magazine called MoDOT the leader in innovation among the states in its region.

The Kansas City Star said that MoDOT deserves credit for considering "new approaches to financing infrastructure" in regard to our Safe and Sound Bridge Plan.

And, the Jefferson City News Tribune editorialized that MoDOT has gained momentum and that "The best way to restore credibility is with action, not talk, and the department has done precisely that."

I am grateful for their comments.

Your department of transportation said we would work hard to build credibility with the people of Missouri.

We said we would make your roads smoother.

We said we would make your roads safer.

We said we would get the best value out of every taxpayer dollar we have been given.

But we are not prepared to say, "Completed as Promised" to all of those goals because we will always work to do things even better, faster and cheaper.

Our future, however, does show great promise and, together, we can make sure that "Completed As Promised" becomes the motto for transportation in Missouri.

Thank you and may God bless your travels.

On motion of Senator Shields, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Scott.

“8. (1) The obligation of an incumbent cable operator to provide monetary and other support for PEG access facilities contained in a franchise existing on the effective date of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714 shall continue until the term of the franchise would have expired if it had not been terminated pursuant to sections 67.2675 to 67.2714 or until January 1, 2009, whichever is earlier.

(2) Each video service provider providing video service in a political subdivision shall have the same obligation to support PEG access facilities as the incumbent cable operator with the most subscribers in such political subdivision as of the date of enactment of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714. To the extent such incumbent cable operator provides such support in the form of a percentage of gross revenue or a per subscriber fee, any other video service provider shall pay the same percentage of gross revenue or per subscriber fee as the incumbent cable operator. To the extent the incumbent cable operator provides such support in the form of a lump sum payment without an offset to its gross receipts fee, any other video service provider shall be responsible for a pro rata share of such payment made by the incumbent cable operator after the date on which the other video service provider commences service in a particular political subdivision, based on its proportion of video service customers in such political subdivision. To the extent the incumbent cable operator provides such support on an in-kind basis after the date on which the other video service provider commences service in a particular political subdivision, any other video service provider shall pay the political subdivision a sum equal to the pro rata amount of the fair market value of such support based on its proportion of video service customers in such political subdivision.

(3) For purposes of this section, the proportion of video service customers of a video service provider shall be determined based on the relative number of subscribers as of the end of the prior calendar year as reported by all incumbent cable operators and holders of video service authorizations. A franchising entity acting under this subsection shall notify a video service provider of the amount of such fee on an annual basis, beginning one year after issuance of the video service authorization.

9. Neither the public service commission nor any political subdivision may require a video service provider to provide any institutional network or equivalent capacity on its video service network. The obligation of an incumbent cable operator to provide such network or capacity contained in a franchise existing on the effective date of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714 shall continue until the term of the franchise would have expired had it not been terminated pursuant to sections 67.2676 to 67.2714, or until January 1, 2009, whichever is earlier, and shall be limited to providing the network as is on the effective date of sections 67.2675 to 67.2714.”.

However, senate committee substitute number 2 was exactly the same as senate committee substitute number 1 before it was amended. Therefore, it was not a true substitute. RESOLUTIONS

President Pro Tem Gibbons, joined by the entire membership offered the following resolution, which was read:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 329

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether fitting and proper to pause from time to time to recognize the outstanding organizations and individuals who have contributed materially to the well-being of the citizens of this great state; and

Whereas, the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals brought great honor and esteem to the State of Missouri, the City of St. Louis, and the new Busch Stadium when they won the 2006 World Series; and

Whereas, since 1892, Missourians have been treated to over 113 consecutive years of National League Baseball, and the Cardinals have won over 8,600 games, ten World Series, seventeen National League Pennants, three National League Eastern Division titles, and five National League Central Division titles; and

Whereas, the Cardinals, with the development of the new ballpark and Ballpark Village, have invested over one billion dollars in private funds in the State of Missouri with one of downtown St. Louis's largest projects in history; and

Whereas, in the first season at the new Busch Stadium, the Cardinals won the first and last games played there; won their tenth World Series, the second most of any Major League team; won their first World Series championship in twenty-four years; won their seventeenth National League Pennant; and reached the post-season for the twenty-second time; and

Whereas, the Cardinals reached the post-season for the sixth time in the last seven years, reached the World Series for the second time in three years, and won the National League Central Division for the third year in a row; and

Whereas, the Cardinals welcomed 3,407,104 fans in the new Stadium's first year, over one million of them from outside the state of Missouri, and the Cardinals became the first team since the 1923 New York Yankees to win the World Series in the first year in a new stadium; and

Whereas, since its inception in 1997, Cardinals Care, the team's charitable foundation, has donated over ten million dollars to charities supporting children and has donated well in excess of one hundred thousand tickets every year to worthy organizations; and

Whereas, forty former Cardinals players and managers are enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, extend our congratulations to the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals on the occasion of their winning the 2006 World Series and extend our gratitude to them for the honor they have bestowed upon this state; and

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 14

WHEREAS, the National Forest Service is a federal agency within the United States Department of Agriculture that manages public lands in national forests and grasslands, engages in important research as the world's largest forestry research organization, and provides assistance to state and private forestry entities; and

WHEREAS, the origination of the Forest Service can be traced back to the passage of the Forest Reserve Act of 1891, which allowed presidents to establish forest reserves from timber-covered land in the public domain; and

WHEREAS, a progressive United States Congress and President Theodore Roosevelt, the most notable conservationist among all U.S. presidents deceased and living, established the Forest Service in 1905; and

WHEREAS, a primary objective of the Forest Service is to enable citizens to enjoy its 155 national forest and 20 grasslands, which collectively comprise about 8.5 percent of the total land area of the United States; and

WHEREAS, another chief goal of the Forest Service is to protect the environment for generations yet to come and manage the National Forest System for the overall benefit of the American people; and

WHEREAS, Gifford Pinchot, the first Chief of the Forest Service, summed up the mission of the Forest Service by stating that it should "provide the greatest amount of good for the greatest amount of people in the long run"; and

WHEREAS, Pinchot's vision of the Forest Service has recently been called into question by a new Bush Administration proposal to possibly sell more about 274,000 acres of national forest to private owners and developers; and

WHEREAS, this newest proposal is similar to a 2006 Bush Administration plan that was largely opposed by Missouri citizens; and

WHEREAS, 21,588 acres of the Mark Twain National Forest in Missouri is under consideration for sale, which ranks Missouri in the Top 5 of states with potential lost forest; and

WHEREAS, Forest Service stewards have in the past participated in limited land-exchange programs but have never engaged in the outright sale of our national forests, which is undoubtedly one of our country's most precious assets; and

WHEREAS, the money raised from the sale of our national forests would be used to fund a program created by the Secure Rural Schools and Community Self Determination Act of 2000 – a program that is of little benefit to the citizens of the state of Missouri, even under the spending guidelines of the newest proposal:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring herein, hereby express their opposition to the Bush Administration's unprecedented proposed sale of national forest land; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge Missouri citizens to contact the Forest Service during its allotted time of public comment to speak out against this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we ask Missouri's nine Congressmen in the U.S. House of Representatives and its two U.S. senators to use their influence to oppose the proposed sale of public lands; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for U.S. Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns, Chief of the National Forest Service Abigail Kimbell, and each of Missouri's federal representatives and senators.

Blessings of health, blessings of being able to participate in public service, even blessings of a beautiful snowy day.

We ask for Your wisdom today as we work to solve complicated issues. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 15

Whereas, President George W. Bush established the Security and Prosperity Partnership (SPP) of North America, with the nations of Mexico and Canada on March 23, 2005; and

Whereas, a television reporter asked President Bush on March 23, 2005, whether in light of the European Union, the SPP was a step towards continental integration and he responded, "...So that the vision that you asked about in your question as to what kind of union might there be, I see one based upon free trade, that would then entail commitment to markets and democracy, transparency, rule of law..."; and

Whereas, the gradual creation of such a North American Union from a merger of the United States, Mexico, and Canada would be a direct threat to the Constitution and national independence of the United States, and imply an eventual end to national borders within North America; and

Whereas, a White House news release confirmed the continuing existence of the SPP and its "ongoing process of cooperation" on March 31, 2006; and

Whereas, Congressman Ron Paul has written that a key to the SPP plan is an extensive new NAFTA superhighway: "[U]nder this new 'partnership', a massive highway is being planned to stretch from Canada to Mexico, through the state of Texas."; and

Whereas, this trilateral partnership to develop a North American Union has never been presented to Congress as an agreement or treaty, and has had virtually no congressional oversight; and

Whereas, state and local governments throughout the United States would be negatively impacted by the SPP/North American Union process, such as the "open borders" vision of the SPP, eminent domain takings of private property along the planned superhighways, and increased law enforcement problems along those same superhighways:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge and petition the Congress of the United States to use all of its efforts, energies, and diligence to withdraw the United States from any further participation in the Security and Prosperity Partnership of North America and any other bilateral or multilateral activity, however named, which seeks to advance, authorize, fund, or in any way promote the creation of any structure to accomplish any form of a North American Union as herein described; and

Be it further resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Scott offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

WHEREAS, we recognize that Missouri is comprised of many hard-working, tax-paying, lawfully present immigrants who embody values shared by their Missouri neighbors; and

WHEREAS, lawfully present immigrants contribute positively to the rich cultural heritage of this nation and state; and

WHEREAS, since illegal immigrants are in violation of federal law through their mere presence in this country, other benefits conferred under federal law including the distribution of compensation through our country's social programs should not befall such individuals; and

WHEREAS, we recognize that the Social Security program is becoming increasingly depleted financially and that extending benefits to illegal immigrants will have a deleterious effect on the ability of the system to pay beneficiaries who have contributed to the system through years of gainful and legal employment:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby call on Congress for a unified voice in opposing legislation or any other agreement that proposes to extend Social Security benefits to illegal immigrants who are not lawfully present in the United States and in so being, stand in violation of federal law; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States and the members of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

Senator Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 17

WHEREAS, the Securities and Exchange Commission has determined that business activities in U.S.-sanctioned terrorist-sponsoring states can materially harm the share value of foreign companies that may be held in portfolio by Missouri's public retirement systems; and

WHEREAS, U.S. publicly traded companies are not allowed to do business in or with U.S. State Department-designated terrorist-sponsoring states; and

WHEREAS, Missouri's public pension systems currently invest on behalf of the citizens of Missouri in foreign publicly traded companies that may be at risk due to such ties to terrorism; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of the State of Missouri views state investments in foreign publicly traded companies that have business operations in or with U.S. State Department-designated terrorist-sponsoring states as putting at risk the pensions of its dedicated public employees; and

WHEREAS, the exclusion of companies with such ties to terrorism from public portfolios will help protect Missouri's public pension systems from investment losses related to such business activities and could improve the performance of these public funds; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of the State of Missouri finds it unconscionable for the State of Missouri to invest in companies whose business activities benefit nations that are egregious violators of human rights and known sponsors of terrorism and that, according to the U.S. government, are developing weapons of mass destruction and delivery capabilities:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby calls on the public retirement funds of Missouri to immediately enact all necessary provisions and take all necessary actions to ensure that no funds of the State of Missouri are invested in entities that have direct business operations with the U.S. State Department-designated terrorist-sponsoring states; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Governor.

Senators Gibbons and Coleman offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, Section 21.760 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri provides that during the regular legislative session which convenes in an odd-numbered year, the General Assembly shall, by concurrent resolution, employ an independent certified public accountant or certified public accounting firm to conduct an audit examination of the accounts, functions, programs, and management of the State Auditor's office:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby authorize the employment of an independent certified public accountant or certified public accounting firm pursuant to the provisions of Section 21.760; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the audit examination be made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, including such reviews and inspections of books, records and other underlying data and documents as are necessary to enable the independent certified public accountant performing the audit to reach an informed opinion on the condition and performance of the accounts, functions, programs, and management of the State Auditor's Office; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that upon completion of the audit, the independent certified public accountant make a written report of his or her findings and conclusions, and supply each member of the General Assembly, the Governor, and the State Auditor with a copy of the report; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the cost of the audit and report be paid out of the joint contingent fund of the General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Commissioner of Administration bid these services, at the direction of the General Assembly, pursuant to state purchasing laws; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Commissioner of Administration.

“67.2692. 1. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Normal business hours”, those hours during which most similar businesses in the community are open to serve customers. In all cases the term normal business hours must include some evening hours at least one night per or some weekend hours;

(2) “Normal operating conditions” those service conditions which are within the control of the video service provider. (3) “Service interruption”, the loss of picture or sound on one or more video channels;

2. Upon ninety days notice, a franchise entity may require a video service provider to adopt the following customer service requirements:

(1) The video service provider will maintain a local, toll-free or collect call telephone access line which may be available to its subscribers twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week;

(2) The video service provider shall have trained company representatives available to respond to customer telephone inquiries during normal business hours;

(7) Customer service center and bill payment locations shall be open at least during normal business hours and shall be conveniently located;

3. An agency of the state of Missouri shall not have the power to enact or adopt customer service requirements specifically applicable to the provision of video service.

4. A video service provider shall implement an informal process for handling inquiries from franchise entities and customers concerning billing issues, service issues, and other complaints. 5. Each video service provider shall maintain a local or toll free telephone number for customer service contact.

6. (1) In the case of repeated, willful, and material violations of the provisions of this section, by a video service provider, a franchise entity may file a complaint on behalf of a resident harmed by such violations with the administrative hearing commission seeking an order revoking the video service provider's franchise for that political subdivision. A franchise entity or a video service provider may appeal any determination made by the administrative hearing commission under this section to a court of competent jurisdiction, which shall have the power to review the decision de novo.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Bray, joined by the entire membership offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 386

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate are deeply saddened by the death of one of its former members and president, Harriett Woods, on Thursday, February 8, 2007; and

Whereas, a Memorial Service will be held on Saturday, February 17, at Powell Symphony Hall in St. Louis, which is altogether fitting considering Harriett Woods' passion for classical music and the countless hours of pleasure she spent there with her children and grandchildren, listening to the Saint Louis Symphony; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods was the first woman elected to a statewide office in Missouri's history, and the first woman to serve on the State Highway Commission; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods had a reputation as an activist who championed efforts to protect society's most vulnerable, the elderly, minorities, and homeless, to name a few, and she also was known for the work she did to advance other women politicians, and in this respect she can accurately be described as a pioneer; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods served in the Missouri Senate for eight years, immediately prior to becoming Missouri's Lieutenant Governor in 1984 and having served eight years on the University City (Missouri) Council; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods was a former Fellow of the Institute of Politics at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, an Old Master at Purdue University, holder of the Mary Louise Smith Chair for Women in Politics at Iowa State University, and a participant in the Oxford Round Table at Oxford University, in Oxford, England, and in 1994, she was named by President Clinton as a delegate to the Fourth World Conference on Women, in Vienna, Austria; and

Whereas, born in Cleveland, Ohio, and a graduate of the University of Michigan with a degree in philosophy, Harriett Woods worked for years as a reporter at the St. Louis Globe Democrat and then as a moderator and public affairs director for KPLR-TV in St. Louis before entering into politics; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods served on the board of the Sue Shear Institute for Women in Public Life in St. Louis and Bella Abzug Institute for Women in Public Life in New York City; and she also lectured widely around the country and recorded monthly commentaries for KWMU, the National Public Radio Station in St. Louis; and

Whereas, Harriett Woods was the wife of James B. Woods, now deceased, and the mother of three sons - Christopher, Peter and Andrew - and nine grandchildren; and

Whereas, in her never-ending quest to find effective solutions to existing problems, Harriett Woods, a fierce competitor, both on and off the tennis court, always believed in the importance of reaching out to all sectors by working together with others and educating citizens about the role they must play to help make this world a better place for everyone:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, extend our sincerest condolences to the family of Harriett Woods on this sad occasion and acknowledge the service that Harriett Woods gave to this great state; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to the family of Harriett Woods, former Missouri State Senator and Lieutenant Governor.

On motion of Senator Shields, the Senate recessed until 4:00 p.m.

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY—MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2007

Senator Ridgeway in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“We cannot forget history...we will be remembered for good or ill...we cannot escape the burden nor responsibility.” (Abraham Lincoln)

As we begin a new week on this Presidents’ Day with their advice to us, we are mindful of the role we play in making our state government more effective and the decisions we must grapple with to do so; but with Your help O God, we can be victorious in the labors we put forth and the decisions we have to make and for whatever we do we will be remembered. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2007

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals...You are as young as your hope, as old as your despair.” General Douglas MacArthur

Lord God, we are mindful that our sense of age is often the factor of how we are living our lives and whether we are enlivened by accomplishing the things that are truly important to us. Help us to live with faithfulness to what You have set for us to do and feel the exuberance of seeking and accomplishing what is ideal to our view of daily living. Help us to live that way this day and every day. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly regards the health of our children to be of paramount importance to families in our State; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly regards poor child health as a threat to the educational achievement, social, and psychological well-being of the children of our State; and

protecting the health of our children to be essential to the well-being of our youngest citizens and the quality of life in our State; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly considers the Missouri MC+ for Kids program, which has an average enrollment of more than 125,000 children each year since its inception in September 1998, to be an integral part of the arrangements for health benefits for the children of the State of Missouri; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes the value of the Missouri MC+ for Kids program in preserving child wellness, preventing and treating childhood disease, improving health outcomes, and reducing overall health costs; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly considers the federal funding available for the Missouri MC+ for Kids program to be indispensable to providing health benefits for children of modest means:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby:

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY-NINTH DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2007

Senator Scott in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“What are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them? Yet you have made them a little lower than angels...” (Psalm 8:4-5)

Creating Father, we ask that You hear our prayers that we might be mindful of the dignity You have conferred to us and we might live each day as such. As we finish up our work this day may we return to those whom You have given to us and share this dignity in our families and those we interact with daily and have a chance to be recreated and rested. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

WHEREAS, in 2006, more than 100 schools, science learning centers, and city and state leaders made the first ever Science Day in the heartland a big success; and

WHEREAS, governors from Illinois, Tennessee, and Missouri have previously proclaimed October 3rd as "Science Day"; and

WHEREAS, it is absolutely fitting and proper to designate a special day to raise public awareness of the importance of science education; and

WHEREAS, such an important designation could raise enthusiasm for science and technology learning; and

WHEREAS, a solid educational foundation based on the sciences have inspired individuals to develop breakthrough cures for all types of disease, provide awareness about the importance of taking care of our environment, and create modern conveniences which better the lives for each one of us:

Read 1st time.

Senators Shoemyer, Graham, Wilson, Coleman, Bray and Justus offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 21

Whereas, Missouri's career and technical education delivery system consists of 536 local education agencies, including 451 comprehensive high schools (53 with area career centers), one technical college (also a career center), 12 community college districts (4 with area career centers), 8 four-year institutions, and two state agencies; and

Whereas, over 56% of Missouri high school students, grades 9 to 12, participated in career and technical education programs, services, and activities in fiscal year 2005; and

Whereas, more than 33,375 high school students from 428 school districts received occupational skill training in area career centers or districts offering approved career and technical education programs in fiscal year 2005; and

Whereas, the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education reported that female high school students comprise over 80% of students in courses that are traditional for their gender, such as cosmetology, childcare and development, and the health professions, whereas they make up less than 10% of enrolled students in high school courses that are nontraditional for their gender, such as automotive, construction and repair, and precision production classes; and

Whereas, the percentage of female students enrolled in historically male career and technical education fields has not changed dramatically in almost 35 years, despite the fact that Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and the Missouri Human Rights Act prohibit sex discrimination in education; and

Whereas, although traditionally female career and technical education courses provide important educational paths for many students and prepare those students to provide necessary and valuable services to the citizens of Missouri, the enrollment disparities outlined above have significant economic consequences both for students and for the State of Missouri; and

Whereas, according to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, male-dominated fields in Missouri pay a median hourly wage of $18.95, while traditionally female fields pay a median hourly wage of just $12.65, and some traditionally female occupations, such as childcare, pay a median hourly wage of less than $8 per hour; and

Whereas, career and technical education courses and programs that are nontraditional for males or females provide important career pathways for advancement in math, engineering, science, and technology fields; and

Whereas, high technology jobs, as well as many jobs that are nontraditional for either females or males, are in high demand and thus promise stable employment; and

Whereas, as a result of these workplace realities, artificial or discriminatory limits on access to training for traditionally male or traditionally female fields can compromise students' future earning potential, economic self-sufficiency, and ability to provide for themselves and their families; and

Whereas, for these and other reasons, Missouri has an interest in developing the potential of all of its citizens and ensuring that all students have equal opportunities to excel in training for high-way, high-skill, high-demand fields, regardless of their gender; and

Whereas, reaching these goals will benefit Missouri as well as individual students by enabling the State of Missouri to compete in the knowledge-based economy, by preparing its workforce with world-class skills, and by fully utilizing the talents of all of its citizens; and

Whereas, effective policies that open opportunities for all students to pursue nontraditional career and technical education courses comports with the Missouri Math, Engineering, Technology and Science (METS) Alliance goal to expand the pool of students motivated to pursue METS careers; and

Whereas, effective policies that provide opportunities in Missouri for training in nontraditional careers support Missouri's compliance with the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006, which requires states to meet accountability measures of student participation in and completion of career and technical education programs:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby establish a Joint Interim Committee on Access to Nontraditional Career and Technical Education; and

Be it further resolved that the committee be comprised of the following ten members to be appointed prior to the end of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly:

(1) Six members, three members from the House of Representatives with two members appointed by the Speaker of the House and one member appointed by the Minority Floor Leader of the House, and three members from the Senate, with two members appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate and one member appointed by the Minority Floor Leader of the Senate;

(2) The following members to be appointed by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education:

(a) One career and technical education administrator;

(b) One career and technical education teacher;

(c) One career and technical education counselor; and

(d) One career and technical education student enrolled in a course that is nontraditional for his or her gender; and

Be it further resolved that the committee shall conduct a comprehensive investigation of the recruitment, enrollment, educational, and retention practices of the career and technical education programs in 20 school districts. Such school districts shall be selected by the committee in consultation with the Department. The investigation shall include a majority representation of school districts that house career centers and shall examine the barriers, policies, and practices that limit students' access and completion of career and technical education programs that are nontraditional for their gender and the practices that can effectively reduce those barriers and promote equal access to and completion of such career and technical education programs; and

Be it further resolved that the committee's investigation shall include, among other issues:

(5) The existence of any artificial barriers in guidance counselor practices, classroom environment, internship and career placement services, or the like, that discourage students from pursuing or persisting in career and technical education programs that are nontraditional for their gender; and

(6) The number of complaints of inequities or discrimination filed, if any, involving students enrolled in career and technical education classes; and

Be it further resolved that the committee may create subcommittees, hold hearings as it deems advisable, and obtain any input or information necessary to fulfill its obligations from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, the Missouri Center for Career Education, and any school district; and

Amend Senate Substitute No. 2 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 129, Page 10, Section 226.531, Line 5, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“226.580. 1. The following outdoor advertising within six hundred sixty feet of the right-of-way of interstate or primary highways is deemed unlawful and shall be subject to removal:

(1) Signs erected after March 30, 1972, contrary to the provisions of sections 226.500 to 226.600 and signs erected on or after January 1, 1968, but before March 30, 1972, contrary to the sizing, spacing, lighting, or location provisions of sections 226.500 to 226.600 as they appeared in the revised statutes of Missouri 1969; or

(2) Signs for which a permit is not obtained or a biennial inspection fee is more than twelve months past due; or

(3) Signs which are obsolete. Signs shall not be considered obsolete solely because they temporarily do not carry an advertising message; or

(4) Signs that are not in good repair; or

(5) Signs not securely affixed to a substantial structure; or

(6) Signs which attempt or appear to attempt to regulate, warn, or direct the movement of traffic or which interfere with, imitate, or resemble any official traffic sign, signal, or device; or

(7) Signs which are erected or maintained upon trees or painted or drawn upon rocks or other natural features; or

(8) Signs which do not carry or display an advertising message at the average market rental rate for a period of one hundred twenty days or more.

2. Signs erected after August 13, 1976, beyond six hundred sixty feet of the right-of-way outside of urban areas, visible from the main traveled way of the interstate or primary system and erected with the purpose of their message being read from such traveled way, except those signs described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of section 226.520 are deemed unlawful and shall be subject to removal.

3. If a sign is deemed to be unlawful for any of the reasons set out in [subsections 1 to 7] subdivisions (1) to (8) of subsection 1 of this section, the state highways and transportation commission shall give notice either by certified mail or by personal service to the owner or occupant of the land on which advertising believed to be unlawful is located and the owner of the outdoor advertising structure. Such notice shall specify the basis for the alleged unlawfulness, shall specify the remedial action which is required to correct the unlawfulness and shall advise that a failure to take the remedial action within sixty days will result in the sign being removed. Within sixty days after receipt of the notice as to him, the owner of the land or of the structure may remove the sign or may take the remedial action specified or may file an action for administrative review pursuant to the provisions of sections 536.067 to 536.090, RSMo, to review the action of the state highways and transportation commission, or he may proceed under the provisions of section 536.150, RSMo, as if the act of the highways and transportation commission was one not subject to administrative review. Notwithstanding any other provisions of sections 226.500 to 226.600, no outdoor advertising structure erected prior to August 28, 1992, defined as a “structure lawfully in existence” or “lawfully existing”, by subdivision (1), (2) or (3) of subsection 3 of section 226.550, shall be removed for failure to have a permit until a notice, as provided in this section, has been issued which shall specify failure to obtain a permit or pay a biennial inspection fee as the basis for alleged unlawfulness, and shall advise that failure to take the remedial action of applying for a permit or paying the inspection fee within sixty days will result in the sign being removed. Signs for which biennial inspection fees are delinquent shall not be removed unless the fees are more than twelve months past due and actual notice of the delinquency has been provided to the sign owner. Upon application made within the sixty-day period as provided in this section, and accompanied by the fee prescribed by section 226.550, together with any inspection fees that would have been payable if a permit had been timely issued, the state highways and transportation commission shall issue a one-time permanent permit for such sign. Such signs with respect to which permits are so issued are hereby determined by the state of Missouri to have been lawfully erected within the meaning of “lawfully erected” as that term is used in Title 23, United States Code, Section 131(g), as amended, and shall only be removed upon payment of just compensation, except that the issuance of permits shall not entitle the owners of such signs to compensation for their removal if it is finally determined that such signs are not “lawfully erected” as that term is used in Section 131(g) of Title 23 of the United States Code.

4. If actual notice as provided in this section is given and neither the remedial action specified is taken nor an action for review is filed, or if an action for review is filed and is finally adjudicated in favor of the state highways and transportation commission, the state highways and transportation commission shall have authority to immediately remove the unlawful outdoor advertising. The owner of the structure shall be liable for the costs of such removal. The commission shall incur no liability for causing this removal, except for damage caused by negligence of the commission, its agents or employees.

5. If notice as provided in this section is given and an action for review is filed under the provisions of section 536.150, RSMo, or if administrative review pursuant to the provisions of sections 536.067 to 536.090, RSMo, is filed and the state highways and transportation commission enters its final decision and order to remove the outdoor advertising structure, the advertising message contained on the structure shall be removed or concealed by the owner of the structure, at the owner's expense, until the action for judicial review is finally adjudicated. If the owner of the structure refuses or fails to remove or conceal the advertising message, the commission may remove or conceal the advertising message and the owner of the structure shall be liable for the costs of such removal or concealment. The commission shall incur no liability for causing the removal or concealment of the advertising message while an action for review is pending, except if the owner finally prevails in its action for judicial review, the commission will compensate the owner at the rate the owner is actually receiving income from the advertiser pursuant to written lease from the time the message is removed until the judicial review is final.

6. Any signs advertising tourist-oriented type business will be the last to be removed.

7. Any signs prohibited by section 226.527 which were lawfully erected prior to August 13, 1976, shall be removed pursuant to section 226.570.

8. The transportation department shall reimburse to the lawful owners of any said nonconforming signs that are now in existence as defined in sections 226.540, 226.550, 226.580 and 226.585, said compensation calculated and/or based on a fair market value and not mere replacement cost.

9. Beginning January 1, 2008, every person, organization, or entity that is issued or has been issued a permit to erect an outdoor advertising structure under section 226.550 shall submit to the state highways and transportation commission, on a form prescribed by the commission, the amount of monthly rental that is received for each outdoor advertising structure the person, organization, or entity has received a permit. The form shall also require the square footage of the structure. The forms shall be submitted on a monthly basis unless such outdoor advertising structures have been leased for an annual basis. In such case, the commission shall convert the data submitted into a monthly basis. Based upon the data received by the commission, the commission shall calculate the average monthly market rental rate for outdoor advertising for each county in the state. No later than December 1, 2008, the commission shall furnish the average monthly market rental rate for each county to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as soon as practicable. The calculation and publication required by this subsection shall be conducted annually. Based upon the calculation performed under this subsection, the commission shall, as prescribed under subdivision (8) of subsection 1 of this section, remove those outdoor advertising structures that have not received a monthly rental rate at or above the published average monthly market rental rate for a period of one hundred and twenty days or more. The commission is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this subsection. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Bray moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion failed.

Senator Stouffer moved that SS No. 2 for SCS for SB 129 be adopted, which motion prevailed.

On motion of Senator Stouffer, SS No. 2 for SCS for SB 129 was declared perfected and ordered printed.

Amend Senate Bill No. 244, Page 11, Section 169.070, Line 375, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"169.466. 1. Any retired member with fifteen or more years of creditable service at retirement receiving [a pension] retirement benefits on August 28, 1997, shall receive on January first of each year, commencing on January 1, 1998, an increase in the amount of [pension] benefits received by the retired member pursuant to sections 169.410 to 169.540 during the preceding year of one hundred percent of the increase in the consumer price index calculated in the manner provided in this section; except that, no such increase in [pension] retirement benefits shall be paid for any year if such increase in the consumer price index is less than one percent. Such annual [pension] retirement benefit increase, however, shall not exceed three percent [and the total increases in the amount of pension benefits received by any retired member shall not, in the aggregate, exceed ten percent of the pension benefits such retired member received during the year preceding January first of the first year the retired member is entitled to receive an increase pursuant to this section]. A retired member qualified to receive an annual [pension] retirement benefit increase pursuant to this section shall not be eligible to receive an additional benefit until the January first after the first anniversary of the date on which he or she commenced receiving [a pension] retirement benefits pursuant to sections 169.410 to 169.540. Benefits shall not be decreased in the case of a decrease in the consumer price index for any year.

2. For the purpose of this section, any increase in the consumer price index shall be determined by the board of trustees in November of each year based on the consumer price index for the twelve-month period ended on September thirtieth of such year over the consumer price index for the twelve-month period ended on September thirtieth of the year immediately prior thereto. Any increase so determined shall be applied by the board of trustees in calculating increases in [pension] retirement benefits that become payable pursuant to this section for the twelve-month period beginning on the January first immediately following such determination.

3. An annual increase in [pension] retirement benefits, if any, shall be payable monthly with monthly installments of other [pension] retirement benefits pursuant to sections 169.410 to 169.540.

169.471. 1. The board of education is authorized from time to time, in its discretion, to increase the [pension] retirement benefits now or hereafter provided pursuant to sections 169.410 to 169.540 and to adopt and implement additional [pension] retirement benefits and plans, including without limitation, early retirement plans, deferred retirement option plans and cost-of-living adjustments, but excluding compensation to retired members pursuant to section 169.475, and for such purpose the contribution rate of members of the retirement system may be increased to provide part of the cost thereof, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Any such increase in [pension] retirement benefits and additional [pension] retirement benefits and plans shall be approved by the board of trustees;

(2) The board of trustees shall have presented to the board of education the projected increases in rates of contribution which will be required to be made by members and the board of education to the retirement system to pay the cost of such increases in [pension] retirement benefits and additional [pension] retirement benefits and plans; and

(3) Any increase in the contribution rate of members of the retirement system shall be approved by the board of trustees and shall be deducted from the compensation of each member by the employing board and transferred and credited to the individual account of each member from whose compensation the deduction was made, and shall be administered in accordance with sections 169.410 to 169.540; provided that, any such increase in the members' contribution rate shall not exceed one-half of one percent of compensation in any year for such increases to [pension] retirement benefits and additional [pension] retirement benefits and plans adopted during such year by the board of education pursuant to this section, and all such increases in the members' contribution rate shall, in the aggregate, not exceed two percent of compensation.

2. The board of trustees is authorized from time to time, in its discretion, to increase the retirement benefits, now or hereinafter provided under sections 169.410 to 169.540, and to adopt and implement additional retirement benefits for persons who have retired, including cost-of-living adjustments, provided that the board of trustees finds the additional benefit will not require an increase in the contribution rate required by the members, will not increase the contribution required from the board of education, and is actuarially sound. In the event the board of trustees authorizes an increase under this section, it shall certify in writing to the board of education the findings, including but not limited to all actuarial assumptions, upon which the board of trustees determined that the increase in benefits would result in no increase in contributions by members or the board of education.”; and

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Shoemyer offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 22

Whereas, sport fishing is a great industry, recreation, and occupation in Missouri; and

Whereas, hand fishing, which is also referred to as "noodling", for channel, blue, and flathead catfish is one of the ultimate challenges in the arena of sport fishing; and

Whereas, The United States Fish and Wildlife Service survey in 2001 found that there are approximately 467,000 catfish anglers in Missouri over the age of sixteen and by Missouri law, they can catch five flathead fish, five blue catfish, and ten channel catfish a day 365 days a year or 7,300 catfish for each permit sold; and

Whereas, Dr. Mark Morgan at the University of Missouri-Columbia conducted a study and found that there are approximately 2,000 hand fishers in Missouri, who are asking the Missouri Department of Conservation to allow them to hand catch five channel, blue, or flathead catfish in a sixty-day statewide season for each permit sold, which would be 0.000685 percent of the 7,300 catfish now allowed each catfish angler in Missouri; and

Whereas, the Missouri Department of Conservation is responsible for all Missouri state fishing and game regulations and should provide hand fishers with appropriate information and regulations; and

Whereas, recognizing and respecting the Research Division of the Missouri Department of Conservation, they should continue balanced research on hand fishing for channel, blue, and flathead catfish; and

Whereas, it is the desire for some sport fishers to participate in hand fishing of channel, blue, and flathead catfish in Missouri; and

Whereas, hand fishing is a legalized sport in 14 States, 6 of which surround Missouri; and

Whereas, the legalization of hand fishing is supported by the Missouri Farm Bureau, the Missouri Farmer's Union, MoFED, and the Missouri Trappers Association; and

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby strongly encourage the Missouri Department of Conservation to have a regulated statewide hand fishing season for channel, blue, and flathead catfish from June first to July thirteenth beginning in 2007 to allow hand fishers to take five of these fish by hand; and

Be it further resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Commissioners of the Missouri Department of Conservation.

Senators Bray, Green, Days, Smith, Coleman, Justus and McKenna offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 23

WHEREAS, every person in Missouri and in the United States deserves access to affordable, quality health care; and

WHEREAS, there is a growing crisis in health care in the United States of America, manifested in rising health care costs, increased premiums, out-of-pocket spending, decreased international business competitiveness, and massive layoffs; and

WHEREAS, approximately 635,000 to 707,000 Missourians lacked health insurance in 2005; and

WHEREAS, those insured now often experience unacceptable medical debt and sometimes life-threatening delays in obtaining health care; and

WHEREAS, one-half of all personal bankruptcies are due to illnesses or medical bills; and

WHEREAS, the termination of Medicaid in 2008 and the rising cost of insuring state employees and teachers can best be met not by limiting benefits, but by expanding them under a national, publicly-funded health insurance program; and

WHEREAS, the complex bureaucracy arising from our system of fragmented, for-profit, multi-payer system of health care financing consumes approximately 30% of United States health care spending; and

WHEREAS, independent research by Kenneth E. Thorpe, PhD. found in 2003 that if Missouri adopted a single-payer, universal health program with benefits more generous than 75% of all private insurance benefits in the state, Missouri health care spending would decline by a savings of $1.3 billion in administrative costs alone under a streamlined administrative structure; and

WHEREAS, United States Representative John Conyers has introduced H.R. 676, the United States National Health Insurance Act, in the United States House of Representatives, and this act would provide a universal, comprehensive, single-payer system of high quality national health insurance:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby respectfully urge the United States Congress to enact the United States National Health Insurance Act sponsored by Representative Conyers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for President George W. Bush and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Further amend page 8, section 135.662, line 19 by inserting after all of said line the following:

"135.669. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Authority", the Missouri agricultural and small business development authority organized under sections 348.005 to 348.180, RSMo;

(2) "Gas station", any gas station serving a rural area that would have no gas station service if the gas station were nonoperational as a result of a failure to install safety upgrades;

(3) "Safety upgrades", any upgrade to a gas station required for safety by federal safety standards administered by the state department of agriculture;

(4) "Tax credit", a credit against the tax otherwise due under chapter 143, RSMo, excluding withholding tax imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo;

(5) "Taxpayer", any individual or entity that owns a gas station and that is subject to the tax imposed in chapter 143, RSMo, excluding withholding tax imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.265, RSMo.

2. For all taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2007, a taxpayer shall be allowed a tax credit for the costs incurred to install safety upgrades to a gas station. The tax credit amount shall be equal to the lesser of fifty percent of the costs incurred or ten thousand dollars. If the amount of the tax credit issued exceeds the amount of the taxpayer's state tax liability for the tax year for which the credit is claimed, the difference shall not be refundable but may be carried back to any of the taxpayer's three prior taxable years and carried forward to any of the taxpayer's five subsequent taxable years. Any tax credit granted under this section may be transferred, sold, or assigned. Whenever a certificate of tax credit is transferred, sold, assigned, or otherwise conveyed, a notarized endorsement shall be filed with the authority specifying the name and address of the new owner of the tax credit or the value of the credit. The cumulative amount of tax credits which may be issued under this section in any one fiscal year shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars.

3. A taxpayer shall submit to the authority an application for a certificate of tax credit before any costs are incurred for any safety upgrades. The authority may promulgate rules establishing the application procedure and verification of eligibility for the tax credit. The authority may impose a fee not to exceed one hundred dollars for the application process.

4. The department of revenue and the authority may promulgate rules to implement the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.

5. Under section 23.253, RSMo, of the Missouri Sunset Act:

(1) The provisions of the new program authorized under this section shall automatically sunset on December thirty-first three years after the effective date of this section unless reauthorized by an act of the general assembly; and

(2) If such program is reauthorized, the program authorized under this section shall automatically sunset on December thirty-first three years after the effective date of the reauthorization of this section; and

Whereas, Truman Medical Centers is Western Missouri's safety net hospital system. The Truman Medical Center System is comprised of Truman Medical Center Hospital Hill, Truman Medical Center Lakewood, and Truman Medical Center Behavioral Health; and

Whereas, with three out of four of Truman Medical Center patients being uninsured or Medicaid-eligible, Truman Medical Center is the health care home for many of the underinsured in the Kansas City area; and

Whereas, Truman Medical Center is particularly concerned about proposed regulations from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services that would narrow the definition of "public" so that many current public hospitals, including Truman Medical Center, would no longer qualify as public for purposes of providing the local match required to obtain federal Medicaid funds. Initial estimates of the impact to Truman Medical Center is that it would exceed $37 million in lost Medicaid funding; and

Whereas, Truman Medical Center's exclusion as a public institution would occur despite the fact that Truman Medical Center operates the hospitals of the City of Kansas City, Missouri, and Jackson County, Missouri. Truman Medical Center continues to shoulder public duties such as indigent healthcare and jail clinics; and

Whereas, both Truman Medical Center hospitals serve as primary teaching institutions for the residents and undergraduate medical students of the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Medicine; and

Whereas, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services has previously explicitly recognized Truman Medical Center's governmental status; and

Whereas, the proposed rules would arbitrarily remove Truman Medical Center from its status as a government owned or operated hospital:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to withdraw the portion of the proposed rules that would change the status of Truman Medical Center as a government owned or operated hospital; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly requests that the Missouri Congressional delegation ask the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to withdraw this rule and further requests the Missouri Congressional delegation to diligently work to assure that this rule does not take effect; and

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the Speaker has appointed the following conferees to act with a like committee from the Senate on SCS for HCS for HB 14. Representatives: Icet, Stevenson, Cunningham (145), Wildberger and Donnelly.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 54, Page 1, In the Title, Line 3, by striking all of said line and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "electrical corporations, with penalty provisions and an effective date for certain sections."; and Further amend said bill and page, section A, line 3, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"386.266. 1. Subject to the requirements of this section, any electrical corporation may make an application to the commission to approve rate schedules authorizing an interim energy charge, or periodic rate adjustments outside of general rate proceedings to reflect increases and decreases in its prudently incurred fuel and purchased-power costs, including transportation. The commission may, in accordance with existing law, include in such rate schedules features designed to provide the electrical corporation with incentives to improve the efficiency and cost-effectiveness of its fuel and purchased-power procurement activities.

2. Subject to the requirements of this section, any electrical, gas, or water corporation may make an application to the commission to approve rate schedules authorizing periodic rate adjustments outside of general rate proceedings to reflect increases and decreases in its prudently incurred costs, whether capital or expense, to comply with any federal, state, or local environmental law, regulation, or rule. Any rate adjustment made under such rate schedules shall not exceed an annual amount equal to two and one-half percent of the electrical, gas, or water corporation's

Missouri gross jurisdictional revenues, excluding gross receipts tax, sales tax and other similar pass-through taxes not included in tariffed rates, for regulated services as established in the utility's most recent general rate case or complaint proceeding. In addition to the rate adjustment, the electrical, gas, or water corporation shall be permitted to collect any applicable gross receipts tax, sales tax, or other similar pass-through taxes, and such taxes shall not be counted against the two and one-half percent rate adjustment cap. Any costs not recovered as a result of the annual two and one-half percent limitation on rate adjustments may be deferred, at a carrying cost each month equal to the utilities net of tax cost of capital, for recovery in a subsequent year or in the corporation's next general rate case or complaint proceeding.

3. Subject to the requirements of this section, any gas corporation may make an application to the commission to approve rate schedules authorizing periodic rate adjustments outside of general rate proceedings to reflect the nongas revenue effects of increases or decreases in residential and commercial customer usage due to variations in either weather, conservation, or both.

4. The commission shall have the power to approve, modify, or reject adjustment mechanisms submitted under subsections 1 to 3 of this section only after providing the opportunity for a full hearing in a general rate proceeding, including a general rate proceeding initiated by complaint. The commission may approve such rate schedules after considering all relevant factors which may affect the costs or overall rates and charges of the corporation, provided that it finds that the adjustment mechanism set forth in the schedules:

(1) Is reasonably designed to provide the utility with a sufficient opportunity to earn a fair return on equity;

(2) Includes provisions for an annual true-up which shall accurately and appropriately remedy any over- or under-collections, including interest at the utility's short-term borrowing rate, through subsequent rate adjustments or refunds;

(3) In the case of an adjustment mechanism submitted under subsections 1 and 2 of this section, includes provisions requiring that the utility file a general rate case with the effective date of new rates to be no later than four years after the effective date of the commission order implementing the adjustment mechanism. However, with respect to each mechanism, the four-year period shall not include any periods in which the utility is prohibited from collecting any charges under the adjustment mechanism, or any period for which charges collected under the adjustment mechanism must be fully refunded. In the event a court determines that the adjustment mechanism is unlawful and all moneys collected thereunder are fully refunded, the utility shall be relieved of any obligation under that adjustment mechanism to file a rate case;

(4) In the case of an adjustment mechanism submitted under subsection 1 or 2 of this section, includes provisions for prudence reviews of the costs subject to the adjustment mechanism no less frequently than at eighteen-month intervals, and shall require refund of any imprudently incurred costs plus interest at the utility's short-term borrowing rate.

5. Once such an adjustment mechanism is approved by the commission under this section, it shall remain in effect until such time as the commission authorizes the modification, extension, or discontinuance of the mechanism in a general rate case or complaint proceeding.

6. Any amounts charged under any adjustment mechanism approved by the commission under this section shall be separately disclosed on each customer bill.

7. The commission may take into account any change in business risk to the corporation resulting from implementation of the adjustment mechanism in setting the corporation's allowed return in any rate proceeding, in addition to any other changes in business risk experienced by the corporation.

8. In the event the commission lawfully approves an incentive- or performance-based plan, such plan shall be binding on the commission for the entire term of the plan. This subsection shall not be construed to authorize or prohibit any incentive- or performance-based plan.

9. Prior to August 28, 2005, the commission shall have the authority to promulgate rules under the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, as it deems necessary, to govern the structure, content and operation of such rate adjustments, and the procedure for the submission, frequency, examination, hearing and approval of such rate adjustments. Such rules shall be promulgated no later than one hundred fifty days after the initiation of such rulemaking proceeding. Any electrical, gas, or water corporation may apply for any adjustment mechanism under this section whether or not the commission has promulgated any such rules.

10. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as affecting any existing adjustment mechanism, rate schedule, tariff, incentive plan, or other ratemaking mechanism currently approved and in effect.

11. Each of the provisions of this section is severable. In the event any provision or subsection of this section is deemed unlawful, all remaining provisions shall remain in effect.

12. The provisions of this section shall take effect on January 1, 2006, and the commission shall have previously promulgated rules to implement the application process for any rate adjustment mechanism under this section prior to the commission issuing an order for any rate adjustment.

13. The public service commission shall appoint a task force, consisting of all interested parties, to study and make recommendations on the cost recovery and implementation of conservation and weatherization programs for electrical and gas corporations.

14. The commission shall not accept an application submitted to the commission under this section by any electrical corporation in violation of any regulation promulgated under subdivision (4) of section 393.140, RSMo, until such corporation is in compliance with all such regulations.

393.140. The commission shall:

(1) Have general supervision of all gas corporations, electrical corporations, water corporations and sewer corporations having authority under any special or general law or under any charter or franchise to lay down, erect or maintain wires, pipes, conduits, ducts or other fixtures in, over or under the streets, highways and public places of any municipality, for the purpose of furnishing or distributing water or gas or of furnishing or transmitting electricity for light, heat or power, or maintaining underground conduits or ducts for electrical conductors, or for the purpose of collecting, carrying, treating, or disposing of sewage, and all gas plants, electric plants, water systems and sewer systems owned, leased or operated by any gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, or sewer corporation.

(2) Investigate and ascertain, from time to time, the quality of gas or water supplied and sewer service furnished by persons and corporations, examine or investigate the methods employed by such persons and corporations in manufacturing, distributing and supplying gas or electricity for light, heat or power and in transmitting the same, and in supplying and distributing water for any purpose whatsoever, and in furnishing a sewer system, and have power to order such reasonable improvements as will best promote the public interest, preserve the public health and protect those using such gas, electricity, water, or sewer system, and those employed in the manufacture and distribution thereof, and have power to order reasonable improvements and extensions of the works, wires, poles, pipes, lines, conduits, ducts and other reasonable devices, apparatus and property of gas corporations, electrical corporations, water corporations, and sewer corporations.

(3) Have power, by order, to fix from time to time standards for the measurement of the purity or illuminating power of gas to be manufactured, distributed or sold by persons or corporations for lighting, heating or power purposes, to prescribe from time to time the efficiency of the electric supply system, of the current supplied and of the lamps furnished by the persons or corporations generating and selling electric current, and to fix from time to time standards for the measurement of the purity or pressure of water to be distributed or sold by persons or corporations for any purpose whatsoever, and to fix from time to time the standards for designing, constructing, operating and maintaining sewer systems of sewer corporations, including sewers, sewage pumping stations, sewage treatment works, primary treatment facilities, sludge digestion and disposal facilities, secondary treatment facilities, disinfection facilities, and any and all facilities related thereto; provided, however, that such standards shall be supplemental to and in no way set standards lesser than the minimum standards adopted by the state water pollution board, and by order to require gas so manufactured, distributed or sold to equal the standards so fixed by it, and to prescribe from time to time the reasonable minimum and maximum pressure at which gas shall be delivered by said persons or corporations. For the purpose of determining whether the gas manufactured, distributed or sold by such persons or corporations for lighting, heating or power purposes conforms to the standards of illuminating power, purity and pressure, and for the purpose of determining whether the efficiency of the electric supply system, of the current supplied and of the lamps furnished, and for the purpose of determining whether the water furnished or sold conforms to the standard of purity and pressure, and for the purpose of determining whether the sewer system conforms to the standards for designing, constructing, operating and maintaining sewer systems, and conforms to the orders issued by the commission, the commission shall have power, of its own motion, to examine and investigate the plants and methods employed in manufacturing, delivering and supplying gas, electricity or water, and the collecting, carrying, treating and disposing of sewage, and shall have access, through its members or persons employed and authorized by it, to make such examinations and investigations to all parts of the manufacturing plants owned, used or operated for the manufacture, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity by any such person or corporation, and to all parts of the systems owned, used or operated for the supplying and distribution of water and the collecting, carrying, treating and disposing of sewage by any such person or corporation. Any employee or agent of the commission who divulges any fact or information which may come to his knowledge during the course of any such inspection or examination, except insofar as he may be directed by the commission, or by a court or judge thereof, or authorized by law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(4) Promulgate rules by January 1, 2008, under the authority of section 386.125, RSMo, that establish:

(a) Minimum standards for the management of vegetation in, and adjacent to, the utility system easement or right-of-way of electrical corporations. Such standards may be prescriptive standards, performance standards, or both;

(b) Minimum standards for the inspection, maintenance, repair, and replacement of utility infrastructure used by electrical corporations for the provision of electrical service. Such standards may be prescriptive standards, performance standards, or both;

(c) Minimum reliability standards for the provision of utility service by electrical corporations. Such standards shall include conditions under which electrical corporations shall reimburse any customer who sustains economic loss or damage valued over two hundred dollars that results from electric service outages in violation of the standards developed under this paragraph;

(d) Reporting requirements for electrical corporations under the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this subdivision. Any reports issued by an electrical corporation under this subdivision shall be made available to the public; and

(e) A schedule of penalties to be assessed against any electrical corporation in violation of any provision of this subdivision, with no single penalty to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars per day per violation.

(5) Conduct inspection and monitoring activities as necessary to ensure and enforce compliance by electrical corporations with the standards developed under subdivision 4 of this section.

(6) Have power, in its discretion, to prescribe uniform methods of keeping accounts, records and books, to be observed by gas corporations, electrical corporations, water corporations and sewer corporations engaged in the manufacture, sale or distribution of gas and electricity for light, heat or power, or in the distribution and sale of water for any purpose whatsoever, or in the collection, carriage, treatment and disposal of sewage for municipal, domestic or other necessary beneficial purpose. It may also, in its discretion, prescribe, by order, forms of accounts, records and memoranda to be kept by such persons and corporations. Notice of alterations by the commission in the required method or form of keeping a system of accounts shall be given to such persons or corporations by the commission at least six months before the same shall take effect.

Any other and additional forms of accounts, records and memoranda kept by such corporation shall be subject to examination by the commission.

[(5)] (7) Examine all persons and corporations under its supervision and keep informed as to the methods, practices, regulations and property employed by them in the transaction of their business. Whenever the commission shall be of the opinion, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, that the rates or charges or the acts or regulations of any such persons or corporations are unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory or unduly preferential or in any wise in violation of any provision of law, the commission shall determine and prescribe the just and reasonable rates and charges thereafter to be in force for the service to be furnished, notwithstanding that a higher rate or charge has heretofore been authorized by statute, and the just and reasonable acts and regulations to be done and observed; and whenever the commission shall be of the opinion, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaints, that the property, equipment or appliances of any such person or corporation are unsafe, insufficient or inadequate, the commission shall determine and prescribe the safe, efficient and adequate property, equipment and appliances thereafter to be used, maintained and operated for the security and accommodation of the public and in compliance with the provisions of law and of their franchises and charters.

[(6)] (8) Require every person and corporation under its supervision and it shall be the duty of every person and corporation to file with the commission an annual report, verified by the oath of the president, treasurer, general manager or receiver, if any, thereof. The verification shall be made by said official holding office at the time of the filing of said report, and if not made upon the knowledge of the person verifying the same, shall set forth the sources of his information and the grounds of his belief as to any matters not stated to be verified upon his knowledge. The report shall show in detail the amount of its authorized capital stock and the amount thereof issued and outstanding; the amount of its authorized bonded indebtedness and the amount of its bonds and other forms of evidence of indebtedness issued and outstanding; its receipts and expenditures during the preceding year; the amount paid as dividends upon its stock and as interest upon its bonds; the names of its officers and the aggregate amount paid as salaries to them and the amount paid as wages to its employees; the location of its plant or plants and system, with a full description of its property and franchises, stating in detail how each franchise stated to be owned was acquired; and such other facts pertaining to the operation and maintenance of the plant and system, and the affairs of such person or corporation as may be required by the commission. Such reports shall be in the form, cover the period and be filed at the time prescribed by the commission. The commission may, from time to time, make changes and additions in such forms. When any such report is defective or believed to be erroneous, the commission shall notify the person or corporation making such report to amend the same within a time prescribed by the commission. Any such person or corporation which shall neglect to make any such report or which shall fail to correct any such report within the time prescribed by the commission shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars and an additional penalty of one hundred dollars for each day after the prescribed time for which it shall neglect to file or correct the same, to be sued for in the name of the state of Missouri. The amount recovered in any such action shall be paid to the public school fund of the state. The commission may extend the time prescribed for cause shown.

[(7)] (9) Have power, either through its members or inspectors or employees duly authorized by it, to enter in or upon and to inspect the property, buildings, plants, factories, powerhouses, ducts, conduits and offices of any such corporations or persons.

[(8)] (10) Have power to examine the accounts, books, contracts, records, documents and papers of any such corporation or person, and have power, after hearing, to prescribe by order the accounts in which particular outlays and receipts shall be entered, charged or credited.

[(9)] (11) Have power to compel, by subpoena duces tecum, the production of any accounts, books, contracts, records, documents, memoranda and papers. In lieu of requiring production of originals by subpoena duces tecum the commission or any commissioner may require sworn copies of any such books, records, contracts, documents and papers, or parts thereof, to be filed with it. The commission may require of all such corporations or persons specific answers to questions upon which the commission may need information, and may also require such corporations or persons to file periodic reports in the form, covering the period and filed at the time prescribed by the commission. If such corporation or person shall fail to make specific answer to any question or shall fail to make a periodic report when required by the commission as herein provided within the time and in the form prescribed by the commission for the making and filing of any such report or answer, such corporation or person shall forfeit to the state the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every day it shall continue to be in default with respect to such report or answer. Such forfeiture shall be recovered in an action brought by the commission in the name of the state of Missouri. The amount recovered in any such action shall be paid to the public school fund of the state.

[(10)] (12) Have power in all parts of the state, either as a commission or through its members, to subpoena witnesses, take testimony and administer oaths to witnesses in any proceeding or examination instituted before it, or conducted by it, in reference to any matter under sections 393.110 to 393.285.

[(11)] (13) Have power to require every gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, and sewer corporation to file with the commission and to print and keep open to public inspection schedules showing all rates and charges made, established or enforced or to be charged or enforced, all forms of contract or agreement and all rules and regulations relating to rates, charges or service used or to be used, and all general privileges and facilities granted or allowed by such gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, or sewer corporation; but this subdivision shall not apply to state, municipal or federal contracts. Unless the commission otherwise orders, no change shall be made in any rate or charge, or in any form of contract or agreement, or any rule or regulation relating to any rate, charge or service, or in any general privilege or facility, which shall have been filed and published by a gas corporation, electrical corporation, water corporation, or sewer corporation in compliance with an order or decision of the commission, except after thirty days' notice to the commission and publication for thirty days as required by order of the commission, which shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the schedule then in force and the time when the change will go into effect. The commission for good cause shown may allow changes without requiring the thirty days' notice under such conditions as it may prescribe. No corporation shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered than the rates and charges applicable to such services as specified in its schedule filed and in effect at the time; nor shall any corporation refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates or charges so specified, nor to extend to any person or corporation any form of contract or agreement, or any rule or regulation, or any privilege or facility, except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all persons and corporations under like circumstances. The commission shall have power to prescribe the form of every such schedule, and from time to time prescribe by order such changes in the form thereof as may be deemed wise. The commission shall also have power to establish such rules and regulations, to carry into effect the provisions of this subdivision, as it may deem necessary, and to modify and amend such rules or regulations from time to time.

[(12)] (14) In case any electrical corporation, gas corporation, water corporation or sewer corporation engaged in carrying on any other business than owning, operating or managing a gas plant, electric plant, water system or sewer system which other business is not otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of the commission, and is so conducted that its operations are to be substantially kept separate and apart from the owning, operating, managing or controlling of such gas plant, electric plant, water system or sewer system, said corporation in respect to such other business shall not be subject to any of the provisions of this chapter and shall not be required to procure the consent or authorization of the commission to any act in such other business or to make any report in respect thereof. But this subdivision shall not restrict or limit the powers of the commission in respect to the owning, operating, managing or controlling by such corporation of such gas plant, electric plant, water system or sewer system, and said powers shall include also the right to inquire as to, and prescribe the apportionment of, capitalization, earnings, debts and expenses fairly and justly to be awarded to or borne by the ownership, operation, management or control of such gas plant, electric plant, water system or sewer system as distinguished from such other business. In any such case if the owning, operating, managing or controlling of such gas plant, electric plant, water system or sewer system by any such corporation is wholly subsidiary and incidental to the other business carried on by it and is inconsiderable in amount and not general in its character, the commission may by general rules exempt such corporation from making full reports and from the keeping of accounts as to such subsidiary and incidental business.

393.141. The costs associated with any penalties paid by an electrical corporation under section 393.144 or with any reimbursements paid to customers under paragraph (c) of subdivision (4) of section 393.140 shall be borne solely by such corporation's shareholders, and shall not be passed on to the corporation's customers in any form.

393.144. 1. In addition to any other remedy provided by law, upon a determination by the commission that any standard, rule, or regulation promulgated pursuant to subdivision 4 of section 393.140 has been violated by any electrical corporation, the commission may issue an order assessing an administrative penalty upon the violator under this section. An administrative penalty shall not be imposed until the commission has sought to resolve the violations through conference, conciliation and persuasion. If the violation is resolved through conference, conciliation and persuasion, no administrative penalty shall be assessed unless the violation was knowingly committed.

2. The maximum amount of administrative penalties assessed pursuant to this section shall be no more than two hundred fifty thousand per day, or part thereof, for each violation. In determining the amount of the administrative penalty, the commission shall take into consideration all relevant circumstances, including, but not limited to, the harm which the violation causes or may cause, the violator's previous compliance record with the standards in subdivision (4) of section 393.140, the nature and persistence of the violation, any corrective actions taken, and any other factors which the commission may reasonably deem relevant.

3. Any order assessing an administrative penalty shall state that an administrative penalty is being assessed under this section and that the corporation subject to the penalty may appeal as provided by this section. Any such order which fails to state the law or regulation under which the penalty is being sought, the manner of collection or rights of appeal shall result in the state's waiving any right to collection of the penalty. An administrative penalty shall be paid within sixty days from the date of issuance of the order assessing the penalty. Any corporation subject to an administrative penalty may appeal to the commission. Any appeal shall stay the due date of such administrative penalty until the appeal is resolved. Any corporation that fails to pay an administrative penalty by the final due date shall be liable to the state for a surcharge of fifteen percent of the penalty plus ten percent per annum on any amounts owed. Any administrative penalty paid pursuant to this section shall be handled in accordance with section 7 of article IX of the Missouri Constitution. An action may be brought in the appropriate circuit court to collect any unpaid administrative penalty, and for attorney's fees and costs incurred directly in the collection thereof.

4. An administrative penalty assessed under this section shall not be increased in those instances where commission action, or failure to act, has caused a continuation of the violation that was a basis for the penalty. Any administrative penalty shall be assessed within two years following the commission's initial discovery of such alleged violation, or from the date the commission in the exercise of ordinary diligence should have discovered such alleged violation.

5. Any final order imposing an administrative penalty under this section is subject to judicial review upon the filing of a petition pursuant to section 536.100, RSMo, by any corporation subject to the administrative penalty. No judicial review shall be available, however, until all administrative remedies are exhausted.

6. The state may elect to assess an administrative penalty under this section, or, in lieu thereof, to request that the attorney general or prosecutor file an appropriate legal action seeking a civil penalty in the appropriate circuit court.”; and

Further amend said bill, page 5, section B, line 1, by striking “Section A” and inserting in lieu thereof the following: “The enactment of sections 393.1020, 393.1025, 393.1030, 393.1035, and 393.1040”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Green moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Koster raised the point of order that SA 1 is out of order as it exceeds the scope of the title of the bill.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 54, Pages 1-2, Section 393.1020, by striking all of said section from the bill; and

Further amend said bill, pages 2-4, section 393.1025, by striking all of said section from the bill; and

Further amend said bill, page 4, section 393.1030, by striking all of said section from the bill; and

Further amend said bill, page 5, section 393.1040, by striking all of said section from the bill; and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“393.320. As used in sections 393.320 to 393.332, the following terms mean:

(1) “Commission”, the public service commission;

(2) “Department”, the department of natural resources;

(3) “Renewable energy resources”, energy from wind, solar thermal sources, photovoltaic cells and panels, dedicated crops grown for energy production, plant-based residues, fuel cells using hydrogen produced by a renewable energy source, and other alternative sources of energy as defined by rule by the department; and

(4) “Renewable energy credit”, a certificate of proof that one kilowatt-hour of electricity has been generated from renewable energy sources.

393.323. 1. The department shall, in consultation with the commission, prescribe by rule a portfolio requirement for all retail suppliers of electrical energy, including municipal and cooperative utilities, to generate or purchase electricity generated from renewable energy resources. Such portfolio requirement shall provide that electricity from renewable energy sources shall constitute:

(1) No less than one percent of retail sales for each supplier of electrical energy after December 31, 2009;

(2) No less than three percent of retail sales for each supplier of electrical energy after December 31, 2013;

(3) No less than six percent of retail sales for each supplier of electrical energy after December 31, 2017; and

(4) No less than ten percent of retail sales for each supplier of electrical energy in each year after December 31, 2021.

Such portfolio requirement shall apply to all suppliers of electrical energy to consumers in this state and to all power sold to Missouri consumers whether such power is self-generated or purchased from another source in or outside of this state.

2. Each supplier of electricity shall provide documentation to the department and commission demonstrating the acquisition of renewable energy credits by self-generation, purchase, or trade sufficient to fulfill the provisions of subsection 1 of this section.

3. The department, in consultation with the commission and within one year of the effective date of sections 393.320 to 393.332, shall establish by rule a program for trading renewable energy credits. Any electric supplier that provides renewable energy to its retail customers or members in excess of the percentages specified in subsection 1 of this section may sell or otherwise transfer to any other electric supplier excess renewable energy credits at any negotiated price. Such rules shall specify:

(1) Requirements for tracking, recording, and verifying the trading of renewable energy credits;

(2) Requirements for general compliance with a credit trading program;

(3) Requirements for certification of renewable energy credits under subsection 4 of this section;

(4) Requirements for participation in any regional system that relates to trading renewable energy credits;

(5) Provisions for flexibility in the event that an electric supplier is, by reason of necessity, unable to meet the requirements of subsection 1 of this section; and

(6) Provisions for the recovery of costs through customer billing if necessary, with the amount of any such charge not to exceed fifty cents per month for each residential customer.

4. The department shall, in consultation with the commission, establish by rule a certification process for power generated from renewable resources and used to fulfill the requirements of subsection 1 of this section. To the extent feasible, the certification process shall be consistent with operational practices of the regional transmission organizations active in the midwestern region of the United States. Certification criteria for renewable energy generation shall be determined by factors that include fuel type, technology, and the environmental impacts of the generating facility. Renewable energy facilities shall not cause undue adverse air, water, or land use impacts, including impacts associated with the gathering of generation feedstocks. If any amount of fossil fuel is used with renewable energy sources to generate energy to fulfill the requirements of subsection 1 of this section, only the portion of electricity output that is attributable to renewable energy resources shall be used to fulfill such requirements.

5. Electricity suppliers that fail to acquire sufficient renewable energy credits to comply with the requirements of subsection 1 of this section in any compliance period shall forfeit for each kilowatt-hour deficiency an amount equal to three times the average market cost of a renewable energy credit during that compliance period. Amounts forfeited under this section shall be remitted to the department to purchase renewable energy credits needed for compliance. Any excess forfeited revenues shall be used by the department's energy center solely for renewable energy and energy efficiency programs.

393.326. 1. A supplier of electrical energy may receive additional credit toward meeting the requirements of section 393.323 if it acquires renewable resources physically located in this state or renewable energy credits from a renewable resource physically located in this state:

(2) Where the renewable energy developer, during construction of the renewable resource project, used apprenticeship programs approved by the department of economic development; and

(3) Where the apprenticeship programs shall have met the following benchmarks:

(a) Minimum levels of apprenticeship programs constitute ten percent of total labor hours for projects commencing construction after December 31, 2009;

(b) Minimum levels of apprenticeship programs constitute twelve and one-half percent of total labor hours for projects commencing construction after December 31, 2015; or

(c) Minimum levels of apprenticeship programs constitute fifteen percent of total labor hours for projects commencing construction after December 31, 2022.

2. The department shall determine the amount of additional credit to be awarded under this section.

393.329. 1. All suppliers of electrical energy shall disclose to any person upon request standard and useful information regarding the generation attributes of electricity sold by the supplier.

2. For electrical corporations, information to be supplied under this section shall be presented in a uniform label in an easily understood format. The commission shall develop rules necessary to implement the requirements of this subsection, within one year from the effective date of this section. The label shall contain, but not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The sources of energy supplied, specified by percentages, of biomass power, coal-fired power, hydropower, natural gas-fired power, nuclear power, oil-fired power, solar power, wind power, and other resources in such format as the commission shall require;

(2) A standardized chart in a format determined by the commission that provides the amounts of carbon dioxide, nitrous oxides, sulfur dioxide emissions, and nuclear waste attributable to the known sources of electricity supplied as set forth in subdivision (1) of this subsection; and

(3) Any other information as the commission may determine that permits and facilitates customer understanding of the environmental consequences of electrical generation and use.

3. The information required to be disclosed under this section shall be updated quarterly and presented on the supplier's Internet homepage. Such information shall also be presented quarterly to the commission for inclusion on its Internet homepage.

393.332. 1. The department shall promulgate rules necessary for the administration of sections 393.320 to 393.332.

2. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.”; and

Senator Graham moved that the above

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 22, Page 152, Section 479.011, Line 13 of said page, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

“650.058. 1. Notwithstanding the sovereign immunity of the state, any individual who was found guilty of a felony in a Missouri court and was later determined to be actually innocent of such crime solely as a result of DNA profiling analysis may be paid restitution from the county or city not within a county where the original prosecution in circuit court occurred. The individual may receive an amount of fifty dollars per day for each day of postconviction incarceration for the crime for which the individual is determined to be actually innocent. The petition for the payment of said restitution shall be filed with the sentencing court. For the purposes of this section, the term “actually innocent” shall mean:

(1) The individual was convicted of a felony for which a final order of release was entered by the court;

(2) All appeals of the order of release have been exhausted;

(3) The individual was not serving any term of a sentence for any other crime concurrently with the sentence for which he or she is determined to be actually innocent, unless such individual was serving another concurrent sentence because his or her parole was revoked by a court or the board of probation and parole in connection with the crime for which the person has been exonerated; and

(4) Testing ordered under section 547.035, RSMo, or testing by the order of any state or federal court, if such person was exonerated on or before August 28, 2004, or testing ordered under section 650.055, if such person was or is exonerated after August 28, 2004, demonstrates a person's innocence of the crime for which the person is in custody.

Any individual who receives restitution under this section shall be prohibited from seeking any civil redress from the state, its departments and agencies, or any employee thereof, or any political subdivision or its employees. This section shall not be construed as a waiver of sovereign immunity for any purposes other than the restitution provided for herein. The [department of corrections] county treasurer or treasurer of the city not within a county shall determine the aggregate amount of restitution owed during a fiscal year. If insufficient moneys are appropriated each fiscal year to pay restitution to such persons, the [department] county or city not within a county shall pay each individual who has received an order awarding restitution a pro rata share of the amount appropriated for such purpose. Provided sufficient moneys are appropriated [to the department], the amounts owed to such individual shall be paid on June thirtieth of each subsequent fiscal year, until such time as the restitution to the individual has been paid in full. However, no individual awarded restitution under this subsection shall receive more than thirty-six thousand five hundred dollars during each fiscal year. No interest on unpaid restitution shall be awarded to the individual. No individual who has been determined by the court to be actually innocent shall be responsible for the costs of care under section 217.831, RSMo.

2. If the results of the DNA testing confirm the person's guilt, then the person filing for DNA testing under section 547.035, RSMo, shall:

(1) Be liable for any reasonable costs incurred when conducting the DNA test, including but not limited to the cost of the test. Such costs shall be determined by the court and shall be included in the findings of fact and conclusions of law made by the court; and

(2) Be sanctioned under the provisions of section 217.262, RSMo.

3. A petition for payment of restitution under this section may only be filed by the individual determined to be actually innocent or the individual's legal guardian. No claim or petition for restitution under this section may be filed by the individual's heirs or assigns. An individual's right to receive restitution under this section is not assignable or otherwise transferrable. The state's obligation to pay restitution under this section shall cease upon the individual's death. Any beneficiary designation that purports to bequeath, assign, or otherwise convey the right to receive such restitution shall be void and unenforceable.

4. An individual who is determined to be actually innocent of a crime under this chapter shall automatically be granted an order of expungement from the court in which he or she pled guilty or was sentenced to expunge from all official records all recordations of his or her arrest, plea, trial or conviction. Upon granting of the order of expungement, the records and files maintained in any administrative or court proceeding in an associate or circuit division of the court shall be confidential and only available to the parties or by order of the court for good cause shown. The effect of such order shall be to restore such person to the status he or she occupied prior to such arrest, plea or conviction and as if such event had never taken place. No person as to whom such order has been entered shall be held thereafter under any provision of any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of his or her failure to recite or acknowledge such arrest, plea, trial, conviction or expungement in response to any inquiry made of him or her for any purpose whatsoever and no such inquiry shall be made for information relating to an expungement under this section.”; and

Senator Green moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion failed on a standing division vote.

A defeat of a ballot question in any county shall not affect the approval of that ballot question in any other county, which approval shall continue to have effect.

In those instances where a local transportation authority is required to approve a project and the commission determines that it has no direct interest in that project, the commission may decline to consider the project. Approval of the project shall then vest exclusively with the local transportation authority subject to the district making any revisions in the plans and specifications required by the local transportation authority and the district and the local transportation authority entering into a mutually satisfactory agreement regarding development and future maintenance of the project. After the local transportation authority approves the final construction plans and specifications, the district shall obtain prior approval of the local transportation authority before modifying such plans or specifications.

238.275. 1. Within six months after development and initial maintenance costs of its completed project have been paid, the district shall pursuant to contract transfer ownership and control of the project to the commission or a local transportation authority which shall be responsible for all future maintenance costs pursuant to contract. Such transfer may be made sooner with the consent of the recipient.

2. At such time as a district has completed its project and has transferred ownership of the project to the commission or other local transportation authority for maintenance, or at such time as the board determines that it is unable to complete its project due to lack of funding or for any other reason, the board shall submit for a vote in an election held throughout the district the question of whether the district should be abolished. The question shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the.....Transportation Development District be abolished?

3. The district board shall not propose the question to abolish the district while there are outstanding claims or causes of action pending against the district, while the district liabilities exceed its assets, or while the district is insolvent, in receivership or under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Prior to submitting the question to abolish the district to a vote, the state auditor shall audit the district to determine the financial status of the district, and whether the district may be abolished pursuant to law.

4. While the district still exists, it shall continue to accrue all revenues to which it is entitled at law.

5. Upon receipt of certification by the appropriate election authorities that the majority of those voting within the district have voted to abolish the district, and if the state auditor has determined that the district's financial condition is such that it may be abolished pursuant to law, then the board shall:

(1) Sell any remaining district real or personal property it wishes, and then transfer the proceeds and any other real or personal property owned by the district, including revenues due and owing the district, to the commission or any appropriate local transportation authority assuming maintenance and control of the project, for its further use and disposition;

(2) Terminate the employment of any remaining district employees, and otherwise conclude its affairs;

(3) At a public meeting of the district, declare by a majority vote that the district has been abolished effective that date; and

(4) Cause copies of that resolution under seal to be filed with the secretary of state, the director of revenue, the commission, and with each local transportation authority affected by the district. Upon the completion of the final act specified in this subsection, the legal existence of the district shall cease.”; and

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 21

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 22, Page 152, Section 479.011, Line 13, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“537.610. 1. The commissioner of administration, through the purchasing division, and the governing body of each political subdivision of this state, notwithstanding any other provision of law, may purchase liability insurance for tort claims, made against the state or the political subdivision, but the maximum amount of such coverage shall not exceed two million dollars for all claims arising out of a single occurrence and shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars for any one person in a single accident or occurrence, except for those claims governed by the provisions of the Missouri workers' compensation law, chapter 287, RSMo, and no amount in excess of the above limits shall be awarded or settled upon. Sovereign immunity for the state of Missouri and its political subdivisions is waived only to the maximum amount of and only for the purposes covered by such policy of insurance purchased pursuant to the provisions of this section and in such amount and for such purposes provided in any self-insurance plan duly adopted by the governing body of any political subdivision of the state.

2. The liability of the state and its public entities on claims within the scope of sections 537.600 to 537.650, shall not exceed two million dollars for all claims arising out of a single accident or occurrence and shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars for any one person in a single accident or occurrence, except for those claims governed by the provisions of the Missouri workers' compensation law, chapter 287, RSMo.

3. The liability of the state or its public entities and any officer or employee of the state or its public entities arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle being operated within the course and scope of their office, employment, or agency with the state or its public entities shall not exceed two million dollars for all claims against all such entities or individuals arising out of a single accident or occurrence, and shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars for any one person in a single accident or occurrence, except for those claims governed by the provisions of the Missouri workers' compensation law, chapter 287, RSMo. When a claim against the state or one of its public entities arises out of the operation of a motor vehicle as described in subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 537.600, and a claim is also brought against an officer or employee of the state or its public entities arising out of the same accident or occurrence, the maximum allowable recovery against the state, one of its public entities, or any officer or employee of the state or its public entities shall be reduced by any amount paid towards the claim by the state, its public entities, officers, or employees of the same, or anyone acting on their behalf.

4. The liability of the state or its public entities and any officer or employee of the state or its political entities arising out of any dangerous condition of property which the officer or employee allegedly caused or contributed to cause shall not exceed two million dollars for all claims against all such entities or individuals arising out of the single accident or occurrence, and shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars for any one person in a single accident or occurrence, except for those claims governed by the provisions of the Missouri workers' compensation law, chapter 287, RSMo. When a claim against the state or its public entities arises out of a dangerous condition of property as described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 537.600, and the claim is also brought against an officer or employee of the state or its public entities for causing or contributing to cause the dangerous condition, then the maximum allowable recovery against the state or its public entities or any officer or employee who allegedly caused or contributed to cause the dangerous condition shall be reduced by any amount paid toward the claim made by the state, its public entities, any officer, or employee of the state or its public entities, or anyone acting on their behalf.

5. The liability of the state or its public entities for operation of a motor vehicle is vicarious to the liability of the operator of a motor vehicle that is operated as described by subsection 3 of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 537.600, should the operator of the motor vehicle owned or operated on behalf of the state or its public entities be found to be immune from liability for operation of a motor vehicle because of official immunity or otherwise, the state or its public entities shall also have no liability arising from the operation of the motor vehicle.

6. No award for damages on any claim against a public entity within the scope of sections 537.600 to 537.650, shall include punitive or exemplary damages.

[4.] 7. If the amount awarded to or settled upon multiple claimants exceeds two million dollars, any party may apply to any circuit court to apportion to each claimant his proper share of the total amount limited by subsection 1 of this section. The share apportioned each claimant shall be in the proportion that the ratio of the award or settlement made to him bears to the aggregate awards and settlements for all claims arising out of the accident or occurrence, but the share shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars.

[5.] 8. The limitation on awards for liability provided for in this section shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, who shall furnish that value to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021, RSMo.

[6.] 9. Any claim filed against any public entity under this section shall be subject to the penalties provided by supreme court rule 55.03.”; and

Senator Coleman raised the point of order that SA 21 is out of order as it goes beyond the scope of the underlying bill.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem.

At the request of Senator Scott, SA 21 was withdrawn rendering the point of order moot.

Senator Bartle offered SA 22:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 22

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 22, Page 132, Section 260.831, Line 7, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

“319.400. 1. In any county with a charter form of government and with more than six hundred thousand but fewer than seven hundred thousand inhabitants and in areas where residential properties, schools, or churches are located, the maximum vibration at the property line of such properties shall be 0.20 inches per second or five millimeters per second peak particle velocity. To maintain a reasonable degree of compliance that all vibrations will be below this value, a minimum set back from property lines of one thousand feet shall be maintained so that unknown variables do not significantly alter the vibration level at the property line at areas not monitored. For aboveground blasting, a maximum of one hundred fifteen decibels linear peak air blast shall be allowed.

2. Monitoring of vibration levels and air blast, including control of seismograph and positioning of such, shall be conducted by an independent seismologist, and the cost of the monitoring shall be paid by the company or entity conducting the blasting. The number of seismographs shall be determined by the seismologist but shall not be fewer than one per one thousand feet of the applicable property line. Weekly reports with no more than a weeks delay of the blast levels shall be given to local government and any neighborhood organizations that have been created to deal with the blasting issue. Any neighborhood organization shall have significant input into the selection of the independent seismologist.

3. For violations of this section, single fines shall be imposed. As used in this section, “single fine” means the gross value of half of a single day blast production based on the average production within the past thirty days. Within a one-hundred-twenty-day period, fines for violating this section shall be as follows:

(1) A first violation for vibrations between 0.20 inches per second to 0.30 inches per second shall result in a single fine. A violation for vibrations of 0.30 inches per second to 0.40 inches per second shall result in a double single fine. A violation for vibrations above 0.40 inches per second shall result in a four times single fine and a suspension of blasting for one hundred twenty days.

(2) A second violation for vibrations between 0.20 inches per second to 0.30 inches per second shall result in a double single fine. A second violation for vibrations of 0.30 inches per second to 0.40 inches per second shall result in a four times single fine and a suspension of blasting for one hundred twenty days.

(3) A third violation shall result in a four times single fine and a suspension of blasting for one hundred twenty days.

4. A portion of the fines, as determined by local government, shall go to local school districts or neighborhood organizations to provide public benefits, including but not limited to scholarships and community improvements.

5. The provisions of this section shall become effective on August 28, 2008. Any payments to entities prior to such date shall remain in effect and are not refundable.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

[8.] 7. Any officer or any employee of the police department of such cities who shall be found by the board to have violated any of the provisions of this section shall be discharged forthwith from said service. It shall be the duty of the chief of police to prefer charges against any such offending person at once. Any member of the board or of the common council of such cities may bring suit to restrain payment of compensation to any such offending officer or employee and, as an additional remedy, any such member of the board or of the common council of such cities may also apply to the circuit court for a writ of mandamus to compel the dismissal of such offending officer or employee. Officers or employees discharged by such mandamus shall have no right of review before the police board. Any person dismissed or convicted under this section shall, for a period of five years, be ineligible for appointment to any position in the service of the police department of such cities or the municipal government of such cities. Senator Gross offered SA 24:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 24

163.011. As used in this chapter unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) “Adjusted operating levy”, the sum of tax rates for the current year for teachers' and incidental funds for a school district as reported to the proper officer of each county pursuant to section 164.011, RSMo;

(2) “Average daily attendance”, the quotient or the sum of the quotients obtained by dividing the total number of hours attended in a term by resident pupils between the ages of five and twenty-one by the actual number of hours school was in session in that term. To the average daily attendance of the following school term shall be added the full-time equivalent average daily attendance of summer school students. “Full-time equivalent average daily attendance of summer school students” shall be computed by dividing the total number of hours, except for physical education hours that do not count as credit toward graduation for students in grades nine, ten, eleven, and twelve, attended by all summer school pupils by the number of hours required in section 160.011, RSMo, in the school term. For purposes of determining average daily attendance under this subdivision, the term “resident pupil” shall include all children between the ages of five and twenty-one who are residents of the school district and who are attending kindergarten through grade twelve in such district. If a child is attending school in a district other than the district of residence and the child's parent is teaching in the school district or is a regular employee of the school district which the child is attending, then such child shall be considered a resident pupil of the school district which the child is attending for such period of time when the district of residence is not otherwise liable for tuition. Average daily attendance for students below the age of five years for which a school district may receive state aid based on such attendance shall be computed as regular school term attendance unless otherwise provided by law;

(3) “Current operating expenditures”:

(a) For the fiscal year 2007 calculation,

“current operating expenditures” shall be calculated using data from fiscal year 2004 and shall be calculated as all expenditures for instruction and support services except capital outlay and debt service expenditures minus the revenue from federal categorical sources; food service; student activities; categorical payments for transportation costs pursuant to section 163.161; state reimbursements for early childhood special education; the career ladder entitlement for the district, as provided for in sections 168.500 to 168.515, RSMo; the vocational education entitlement for the district, as provided for in section 167.332, RSMo; and payments from other districts;

(b) In every fiscal year subsequent to fiscal year 2007, current operating expenditures shall be the amount in paragraph (a) plus any increases in state funding pursuant to sections 163.031 and 163.043 subsequent to fiscal year 2005, not to exceed five percent, per recalculation, of the state revenue received by a district in the 2004-05 school year from the foundation formula, line 14, gifted, remedial reading, exceptional pupil aid, fair share, and free textbook payments for any district from the first preceding calculation of the state adequacy target;

(4) “District’s tax rate ceiling”, the highest tax rate ceiling in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year or any subsequent year. Such tax rate ceiling shall not contain any tax levy for debt service;

(5) “Dollar value modifier”, an index of the relative purchasing power of a dollar, calculated as one plus fifteen percent of the difference of the regional wage ratio minus one, provided that the dollar value modifier shall not be applied at a rate less than 1.0:

(a) “County wage per job”, the total county wage and salary disbursements divided by the total county wage and salary employment for each county and the city of St. Louis as reported by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce for the fourth year

(b) “Regional wage per job”:

a. The total Missouri wage and salary disbursements of the metropolitan area as defined by the Office of Management and Budget divided by the total Missouri metropolitan wage and salary employment for the metropolitan area for the county signified in the school district number or the city of St. Louis, as reported by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce for the fourth year preceding the payment year and recalculated upon every decennial census to incorporate counties that are newly added to the description of metropolitan areas; or if no such metropolitan area is established, then:

b. The total Missouri wage and salary disbursements of the micropolitan area as defined by the Office of Management and Budget divided by the total Missouri micropolitan wage and salary employment for the micropolitan area for the county signified in the school district number, as reported by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce for the fourth year preceding the payment year, if a micropolitan area for such county has been established and recalculated upon every decennial census to incorporate counties that are newly added to the description of micropolitan areas; or

c. If a county is not part of a metropolitan or micropolitan area as established by the Office of Management and Budget, then the county wage per job, as defined in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall be used for the school district, as signified by the school district number;

(c) “Regional wage ratio”, the ratio of the regional wage per job divided by the state median wage per job;

(d) “State median wage per job”, the fifty-eighth highest county wage per job;

(6) “Free and reduced lunch pupil count”, the number of pupils eligible for free and reduced lunch on the last Wednesday in January for the preceding school year who were enrolled as students of the district, as approved by the department in accordance with applicable federal regulations;

(7) “Free and reduced lunch threshold” shall be calculated by dividing the total free and reduced lunch pupil count of every performance district that falls entirely above the bottom five percent and entirely below the top five percent of average daily attendance, when such districts are rank-ordered based on their current operating expenditures per average daily attendance, by the total average daily attendance of all included performance districts;

(8) “Limited English proficiency pupil count”, the number in the preceding school year of pupils aged three through twenty-one enrolled or preparing to enroll in an elementary school or secondary school who were not born in the United States or whose native language is a language other than English or are Native American or Alaskan native, or a native resident of the outlying areas, and come from an environment where a language other than English has had a significant impact on such individuals' level of English language proficiency, or are migratory, whose native language is a language other than English, and who come from an environment where a language other than English is dominant; and have difficulties in speaking, reading, writing, or understanding the English language sufficient to deny such individuals the ability to meet the state's proficient level of achievement on state assessments described in Public Law 107-10, the ability to achieve successfully in classrooms where the language of instruction is English, or the opportunity to participate fully in society;

(9) “Limited English proficiency threshold” shall be calculated by dividing the total limited English proficiency pupil count of every performance district that falls entirely above the bottom five percent and entirely below the top five

(a) For the fiscal year 2007 calculation, “local effort” shall be computed as the equalized assessed valuation of the property of a school district in calendar year 2004 divided by one hundred and multiplied by the performance levy less the percentage retained by the county assessor and collector plus one hundred percent of the amount received in fiscal year 2005 for school purposes from intangible taxes, fines, escheats, payments in lieu of taxes and receipts from state-assessed railroad and utility tax, one hundred percent of the amount received for school purposes pursuant to the merchants' and manufacturers' taxes under sections 150.010 to 150.370, RSMo, one hundred percent of the amounts received for school purposes from federal properties under sections 12.070 and 12.080, RSMo, except when such amounts are used in the calculation of federal impact aid pursuant to P.L. 81-874, fifty percent of Proposition C revenues received for school purposes from the school district trust fund under section 163.087, and one hundred percent of any local earnings or income taxes received by the district for school purposes. Under this paragraph, for a special district established under sections 162.815 to 162.940, RSMo, in a county with a charter form of government and with more than one million inhabitants, a tax levy of zero shall be utilized in lieu of the performance levy for the special school district;

(b) In every year subsequent to fiscal year 2007, “local effort” shall be the amount calculated under paragraph (a) of this subdivision plus any increase in the amount received for school purposes from fines [or less any decrease in the amount received for school purposes from fines in any school district located entirely within any county with a charter form of government and with more than two hundred fifty thousand but fewer than three hundred fifty thousand inhabitants that creates a county municipal court after January 1, 2006]. If a district's assessed valuation has decreased subsequent to the calculation outlined in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the district's local effort shall be calculated using the district's current assessed valuation in lieu of the assessed valuation utilized in calculation outlined in paragraph (a) of this subdivision;

(11) "Membership" shall be the average of:

(a) The number of resident full-time students and the full-time equivalent number of part-time students who were enrolled in the public schools of the district on the last Wednesday in September of the previous year and who were in attendance one day or more during the preceding ten school days; and

(b) The number of resident full-time students and the full-time equivalent number of part-time students who were enrolled in the public schools of the district on the last Wednesday in January of the previous year and who were in attendance one day or more during the preceding ten school days, plus the full-time equivalent number of summer school pupils.

"Full-time equivalent number of part-time students" is determined by dividing the total number of hours for which all part-time students are enrolled by the number of hours in the school term. "Full-time equivalent number of summer school pupils" is determined by dividing the total number of hours for which all summer school pupils were enrolled by the number of hours required pursuant to section 160.011, RSMo, in the school term. Only students eligible to be counted for average daily attendance shall be counted for membership;

(12) "Operating levy for school purposes", the sum of tax rates levied for teachers' and incidental funds plus the operating levy or sales tax equivalent pursuant to section 162.1100, RSMo, of any transitional school district containing the school district, in the payment year, not including any equalized operating levy for school purposes levied by a special school district in which the district is located;

(13) "Performance district", any district that has met all performance standards and indicators as established by the department of elementary and secondary education for purposes of accreditation under section 161.092, RSMo, and as reported on the final annual performance report for that district each year;

(14) "Performance levy", three dollars and forty-three cents;

(15) "School purposes" pertains to teachers' and incidental funds;

(16) "Special education pupil count", the number of public school students with a current individualized education program and receiving services from the resident district as of December first of the preceding school year, except for special education services provided through a school district established under sections 162.815 to 162.940, RSMo, in a county with a charter form of government and with more than one million inhabitants, in which case the sum of the students in each district within the county exceeding the special education threshold of each respective district within the county shall be counted within the special district and not in the district of residence for purposes of distributing the state aid derived from the special education pupil count;

(17) "Special education threshold" shall be calculated by dividing the total special education pupil count of every performance district that falls entirely above the bottom five percent and entirely below the top five percent of average daily attendance, when such districts are rank-ordered based on their current operating expenditures per average daily attendance, by the total average daily attendance of all included performance districts;

(18) “State adequacy target”, the sum of the current operating expenditures of every performance district that falls entirely above the bottom five percent and entirely below the top five percent of average daily attendance, when such districts are rank-ordered based on their current operating expenditures per average daily attendance, divided by the total average daily attendance of all included performance districts. The department of elementary and secondary education shall first calculate the state adequacy target for fiscal year 2007 and recalculate the state adequacy target every two years using the most current available data. The recalculation shall never result in a decrease from the previous state adequacy target amount. Should a recalculation result in an increase in the state adequacy target amount, fifty percent of that increase shall be included in the state adequacy target amount in the year of recalculation, and fifty percent of that increase shall be included in the state adequacy target amount in the subsequent year. The state adequacy target may be adjusted to accommodate available appropriations;

(19) “Teacher”, any teacher, teacher-secretary, substitute teacher, supervisor, principal, supervising principal, superintendent or assistant superintendent, school nurse, social worker, counselor or librarian who shall, regularly, teach or be employed for no higher than grade twelve more than one-half time in the public schools and who is certified under the laws governing the certification of teachers in Missouri;

(20) “Weighted average daily attendance”, the average daily attendance plus the product of twenty-five hundredths multiplied by the free and reduced lunch pupil count that exceeds the free and reduced lunch threshold, plus the product of seventy-five hundredths multiplied by the number of special education pupil count that exceeds the special education threshold, and plus the product of six-tenths multiplied by the number of limited English proficiency pupil count that exceeds the limited English proficiency threshold. For special districts established under sections 162.815 to 162.940, RSMo, in a county with a charter form of government and with more than one million inhabitants, weighted average daily attendance shall be the average daily attendance plus the product of twenty-five hundredths multiplied by the free and reduced lunch pupil count that exceeds the free and reduced lunch threshold, plus the product of seventy-five hundredths multiplied by the sum of the special education pupil count that exceeds the threshold for each county district, plus the product of six-tenths multiplied by the limited English proficiency pupil count that exceeds the limited English proficiency threshold. None of the districts comprising a special district established under sections 162.815 to 162.940, RSMo, in a county with a charter form of government and with more than one million inhabitants, shall use any special education pupil count in calculating their weighted average daily attendance.

163.038. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any school district that is located at least partially in any county that creates a county municipal court or is otherwise eligible to prosecute county ordinance violations under section 66.010, RSMo, et seq., after January 1, 2006, shall be entitled to a payment amount from the department of elementary and secondary education in addition to all other payments required under this chapter equal to the decrease, if any, in the amount of revenue a district receives from fines in the current year from the revenue the district received from fines in fiscal year 2005.”; and

RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 553

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate are inexpressibly saddened by the passing of Thomas Eagleton on Sunday, March 4, 2007, who represented the citizens of this state diligently and well in the United States Senate for three terms; and

Whereas, the margins of this meager page render impossible an adequate description of the service this towering figure of a man gave to his state and his country for over a half-century; and

Whereas, a cum laude graduate of Amherst who studied English politics at Oxford University and a veteran of the United States Navy, early in his career Thomas Eagleton was elected circuit attorney for the City of St. Louis at the age of 26, just three years after graduating from Harvard Law School, the youngest person ever elected to the office; and

Whereas, Thomas Eagleton, who never lost an election, became Missouri's youngest-ever attorney general in 1960 and youngest-ever lieutenant governor in 1964 before being elected to the United States Senate in 1968, and again in 1974 and in 1980; and

Whereas, while in the Senate, Thomas Eagleton served on the Appropriations, Governmental Affairs, Ethics and Foreign Affairs committees, and while generally considered liberal, he nevertheless criticized busing to achieve school desegregation and strongly opposed abortion; and

Whereas, Senator Eagleton was one of the principal sponsors of the Clean Air Act of 1970 and the Clean Water Act of 1972, was a vocal opponent of the war in Vietnam, and was chief author of the federal War Powers Act, yet according to a statement made by his family he was most proud of his 1973 amendment to a defense appropriations bill "that cut off funding for the bombing of Cambodia, effectively ending America's involvement in the Vietnam War"; and

Whereas, after retiring from the United States Senate, Thomas Eagleton returned to St. Louis, where he practiced law, taught at Washington University, and worked diligently for the interests of the city, state and nation, notably and conspicuously resigning from the Chicago Board of Trade in 1989 for reasons of conscience; and

Whereas, Thomas Eagleton received countless awards, honors and accolades during his lifetime, the federal courthouse in St. Louis is named after him, and Missouri Governor Matt Blunt has ordered that the flags at all state buildings be flown at half-mast in his honor; and

Whereas, Thomas Eagleton was the author or co-author of three books, most significantly 1974's "War and Presidential Power: A Chronicle of Congressional Surrender"; and

Whereas, Thomas Eagleton was respected for his high principles and universally liked for his consistently good humor, his death brings an outpouring of grief from Democrats and Republicans alike including George McGovern, who made the difficult decision during the 1972 presidential campaign to remove him from the Democratic ticket, a decision McGovern publicly regrets:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fourth General Assembly, extend our deepest and sincerest condolences to the family of Thomas

Eagleton, who have suffered an incalculable personal loss, and to the citizens of this state and this nation, who have lost a great statesman, leader, and friend; and

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

WHEREAS, every person in Missouri and in the United States deserves access to affordable, quality health care; and

international business competitiveness, and massive layoffs; and

WHEREAS, approximately 635,000 to 707,000 Missourians lacked health insurance in 2005; and

WHEREAS, those insured now often experience unacceptable medical debt and sometimes life-threatening delays in obtaining health care; and

WHEREAS, the termination of Medicaid in 2008 and the rising cost of insuring state employees and teachers can best be met not by limiting benefits, but by expanding them under a national, publicly-funded health insurance program; and

WHEREAS, the complex bureaucracy arising from our system of fragmented, for-profit, multi-payer system of health care financing consumes approximately 30% of United States health care spending; and

WHEREAS, independent research by Kenneth E. Thorpe, PhD. found in 2003 that if Missouri adopted a single-payer, universal health program with benefits more generous than 75% of all private insurance benefits in the state, Missouri health care spending would decline by a savings of $1.3 billion in administrative costs alone under a streamlined administrative structure; and

WHEREAS, United States Representative John Conyers has introduced H.R. 676, the United States National Health Insurance Act, in the United States House of Representatives, and this act would provide a universal, comprehensive, single-payer system of high quality national health insurance:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby respectfully urge the United States Congress to enact the United States National Health Insurance Act sponsored by Representative Conyers; and credit. The maximum amount of credits per taxpayer set forth in this subsection shall not exceed one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars for each of the three years for which the credit is claimed. The department of economic development, by means of rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, shall assign appropriate North American Industry Classification System numbers to the companies which are eligible for the tax credits provided for in this section. Such three-year credits shall be awarded only one time to any company which moves its operations from outside of Missouri or outside of a distressed community into a distressed community or to a company which commences operations within a distressed community. A taxpayer shall file an application for certification of the tax credits for the first year in which credits are claimed and for each of the two succeeding taxable years for which credits are claimed.

2. Employees of such facilities physically working and earning wages for that work within a distressed community whose employers have been approved for tax credits pursuant to subsection 1 of this section by the department of economic development for whom payroll taxes are paid shall also be eligible to receive a tax credit against individual income tax, imposed pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo, equal to one and one-half percent of their gross salary paid at such facility earned for each of the three years that the facility receives the tax credit provided by this section, so long as they were qualified employees of such entity. The board and its members owe a fiduciary duty to postsecondary students to ensure that all eligible postsecondary education students have access to low cost student loans that are guaranteed or insured, or both, and to have access to grants, scholarships, and loan forgiveness programs to the extent practicable. In determining whether the board and its members have exercised the judgment required of them as board members and have exercised due diligence in their duties as board members, this fiduciary duty shall be the sole criterion.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 12

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 239, 24 and 445, Page 79, Section 302.700, Line 28 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"302.720. 1. Except when operating under an instruction permit as described in this section, no person may drive a commercial motor vehicle unless the person has been issued a commercial driver's license with applicable endorsements valid for the type of vehicle being operated as specified in sections 302.700 to 302.780. A commercial driver's instruction permit shall allow the holder of a valid license to operate a commercial motor vehicle when accompanied by the holder of a commercial driver's license valid for the vehicle being operated and who occupies a seat beside the individual, or reasonably near the individual in the case of buses, for the purpose of giving instruction in driving the commercial motor vehicle. A commercial driver's instruction permit shall be valid for the vehicle being operated for a period of not more than six months, and shall not be issued until the permit holder has met all other requirements of sections 302.700 to 302.780, except for the driving test. A permit holder, unless otherwise disqualified, may be granted one six-month renewal within a one-year period. The fee for such permit or renewal shall be five dollars. In the alternative, a commercial driver's instruction permit shall be issued for a thirty-day period to allow the holder of a valid driver's license to operate a commercial motor vehicle if the applicant has completed all other requirements except the driving test. The permit may be renewed for one additional thirty-day period and the fee for the permit and for renewal shall be five dollars.

2. No person may be issued a commercial driver's license until he has passed written and driving tests for the operation of a commercial motor vehicle which complies with the minimum federal standards established by the Secretary and has satisfied all other requirements of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Title XII of Pub. Law 99-570), as well as any other requirements imposed by state law. Applicants for a hazardous materials endorsement must also meet the requirements of the U.S. Patriot Act of 2001 (Title X of Public Law 107-56) as specified and required by regulations promulgated by the Secretary. Nothing contained in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting the director from establishing alternate testing formats for those who are functionally illiterate; provided, however, that any such alternate test must comply with the minimum requirements of the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (Title XII of Pub. Law 99-570) as established by the Secretary. The director shall neither supply nor permit the use of language interpreters in connection with the written and driving test required under this section.

(1) The written and driving tests shall be held at such times and in such places as the superintendent may designate. A twenty-five dollar examination fee shall be paid by the applicant upon completion of any written or driving test. The director shall delegate the power to conduct the examinations required under sections 302.700 to 302.780 to any member of the highway patrol or any person employed by the highway patrol qualified to give driving examinations.

(2) The director shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations governing the certification of third-party testers by the department of revenue. Such rules and regulations shall substantially comply with the requirements of 49 CFR Part 383, Section 383.75. A certification to conduct third-party testing shall be valid for one year, and the department shall charge a fee of one hundred dollars to issue or renew the certification of any third-party tester.

(3) Beginning August 28, 2006, the director shall only issue or renew third-party tester certification to junior colleges or community colleges established under chapter 178, RSMo, or to private companies who own, lease, or maintain their own fleet and administer in-house testing to their employees, or to school districts and their agents that administer in-house testing to the school district's or agent's employees. Any third-party tester who violates any of the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated pursuant to this section shall be subject to having his certification revoked by the department. The department shall provide written notice and an opportunity for the third-party tester to be heard in substantially the same manner as provided in chapter 536, RSMo. If any applicant submits evidence that he has successfully completed a test administered by a third-party tester, the actual driving test for a commercial driver's license may then be waived.

(4) Every applicant for renewal of a commercial driver's license shall provide such certifications and information as required by the secretary and if such person transports a hazardous material must also meet the requirements of the U.S. Patriot Act of 2001 (Title X of Public Law 107-56) as specified and required by regulations promulgated by the secretary. Such person shall be required to take the written test for such endorsement. A twenty-five dollar examination fee shall be paid upon completion of such tests.

3. A commercial driver's license may not be issued to a person while the person is disqualified from driving a commercial motor vehicle, when a disqualification is pending in any state or while the person's driver's license is suspended, revoked, or canceled in any state; nor may a commercial driver's license be issued unless the person first surrenders in a manner prescribed by the director any commercial driver's license issued by another state, which license shall be returned to the issuing state for cancellation.

4. Beginning July 1, 2005, the director shall not issue an instruction permit under this section unless the director verifies that the applicant is lawfully present in the United States before accepting the application. The director may, by rule or regulation, establish procedures to verify the lawful presence of the applicant under this section. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 2007

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

“For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven.” (Ecclesiastes 3:1)

Creator God, You give us the gift of time and we pray we have made good use of it as we prepare for a week of rest. We have produced a record number of new bills and have moved some legislation along and work hard to complete what we can before our Spring Break. (1) Any person from gratuitously providing emergency treatment, aid or assistance to animals where a licensed veterinarian is not available within a reasonable length of time if the person does not represent himself or herself to be a veterinarian or use any title or degree appertaining to the practice thereof;

(2) Acts of a person who is a student in good standing in a school or college of veterinary medicine or while working as a student preceptee, in performing duties or functions assigned by the student's instructors, or while working under the appropriate level of supervision of a licensed veterinarian as is consistent with the particular delegated animal health care task as established by board rule, and acts performed by a student in a school or college of veterinary medicine recognized by the board and performed as part of the education and training curriculum of the school under the supervision of the faculty. The unsupervised or unauthorized practice of veterinary medicine, even though on the premises of a school or college of veterinary medicine, is prohibited;

(e) Upon graduation from the higher education institution, engages in qualified employment;

(3) “Qualified employment”, employment as a teacher, as such term is defined in section 168.104, in a school located in a school district that is not classified as accredited by the department at the time the eligible applicant signs their first contract to teach in such district. Preference shall be given to a school in such a school district with a higher than the state average of students eligible to receive a reduced lunch price under the National School Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 1751 et seq., as amended.

3. Within the limits of amounts appropriated therefor, the department shall, upon proper verification to the department by an eligible applicant and the school district in which the applicant is engaged in qualified employment, enter into a one-year contract with eligible applicants to repay the interest and principal on the educational loans of the applicants or provide a stipend to the applicant as provided in subsection 4 of this section. The department may enter into subsequent one-year contracts with eligible applicants, not to total more than five such contracts. The fifth one-year contract shall provide for a stipend to such applicants as provided in subsection 4 of this section. If the school district becomes accredited at any time during which the eligible applicant is teaching at a school under a contract entered into pursuant to this section, nothing in this section shall preclude the department and the eligible applicant from entering into subsequent contracts to teach within the school district. An eligible applicant who does not enter into a contract with the department under the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for repayment of educational loans or a stipend under the provisions of subsection 4 of this section.

4. At the conclusion of each of the first four academic years that an eligible applicant engages in qualified employment, one-fourth of the eligible applicant's educational loans, not to exceed five thousand dollars per year, shall be repaid under terms provided in the contract. For applicants without any educational loans, the applicant may receive a stipend of up to five thousand dollars at the conclusion of each of the first four academic years that the eligible applicant engages in qualified employment. At the conclusion of the fifth academic year that an eligible applicant engages in qualified employment, a stipend in an amount equal to one thousand dollars shall be granted to the eligible applicant. The maximum of five thousand dollars per year and the stipend of one thousand dollars shall be adjusted annually by the same percentage as the increase in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency. The amount of any repayment of educational loans or the issuance of a stipend under this subsection shall not exceed the actual cost of tuition, required fees, and room and board for the eligible applicant at the institution of higher education from which the eligible applicant graduated.

5. The department shall create and maintain a "Teach for Missouri" coordinator position, the main responsibility of which shall be the identification, recruitment, and selection of potential students meeting the requirements of paragraph (b) of subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section. In selecting potential students, the coordinator shall give preference to applicants that represent a variety of racial backgrounds in order to ensure a diverse group of eligible applicants.

6. The department shall promulgate rules to enforce the provisions of this section, including, but not be limited to: applicant eligibility, selection criteria, and the content of loan repayment contracts. If the number of applicants exceeds the number of scholarships or revenues available, priority shall be to those applicants with the highest high school grade point average and highest scores on the ACT or SAT assessments.

7. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.

8. There is hereby created in the state treasury the “Missouri Teaching Fellows Program Fund”. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund and may approve disbursements from the fund in accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, RSMo. Private donations, federal grants, and other funds provided for the implementation of this section shall be placed in the Missouri teaching fellows program fund. Upon appropriation, money in the fund shall be used solely for the repayment of loans and the payment of stipends under the provisions of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

9. The general assembly shall appropriate an amount necessary to properly fund this section, not to exceed one million dollars in any fiscal year. The maximum of one million dollars in any fiscal year shall be adjusted annually by the same percentage as the increase in the general price level as measured by the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the United States, or its successor index, as defined and officially recorded by the United States Department of Labor or its successor agency.

(1) Any new program authorized under section 168.700 shall automatically sunset six years after the effective date of this act unless reauthorized by an act of the general assembly; and

Dear God, we are grateful for the time off this past week for re-creating us, refreshing our minds and restoring our bodies that they might be renewed with vigor and energy. We thank You for the nourishment of Your word, for re-creating our souls, that we might be always mindful that what is important to You is that our work here is in keeping with Your will. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCR 20, entitled:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 20
Relating to a prohibition on the implementation of the federal REAL ID Act.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

Whereas, in May 2005, the United States Congress enacted the REAL ID Act of 2005 as part of the Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act for Defense, the Global War on Terror, and Tsunami Relief Act, PL 109-13, which was signed by President Bush on May 11, 2005, and which becomes effective May 11, 2008; and

Whereas, some of the requirements of the REAL ID Act are that states shall:

(1) Issue a driver's license or state identification card in a uniform format, containing uniform information, as prescribed by the federal Department of Homeland Security;

(2) Verify the issuance, validity, and completeness of all primary documents used to issue a driver's license, such as those showing that the bearer is a United States citizen or a lawful alien, a lawful refuge, or a person holding a visa;

(3) Provide for secure storage of all primary documents that are used to issue a federally approved driver's license or state identification card;

(4) Provide fraudulent document recognition training to all persons engaged in issuing driver's licenses or state identification cards; and

(5) Issue a driver's license or state identification card in a prescribed format if it is a license or card that does not meet the criteria provided for a federally approved license or identification card; and

Whereas, use of the federal minimum standards for state driver's licenses and state-issued identification cards will be necessary for any type of federally regulated activity for which an identification card must be displayed, including flying in a commercial airplane, making transactions with a federally licensed bank, entering a federal building, or making application for federally supported public assistance benefits, including Social Security; and

Whereas, some of the intended privacy requirements of the REAL ID Act, such as the use of common machine-readable technology and state maintenance of a database that can be shared with the United States government and agencies of other states, may actually make it more likely that a federally required driver's license or state identification card or the information about the bearer on which the license or card is based will be stolen, sold, or otherwise used for purposes that were never intended or that are criminally related than if the REAL ID Act had not been enacted; and

Whereas, these potential breaches in privacy that could result directly from compliance with the REAL ID Act may violate the right to privacy secured in the Missouri Constitution for thousands of residents of Missouri; and

Whereas, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the National Governors' Association, and the National Conference of State Legislatures have estimated in a September 2006 impact analysis statement that the cost to the states to implement the REAL ID Act will be more than $11 billion over 5 years, and it is estimated that the implementation of the REAL ID Act will cost Missouri millions to fully implement the Act, none of such costs being paid for by the federal government; and

Whereas, for all of these reasons, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the National Governors' Association, and the National Conference of State Legislatures in a letter dated March 17, 2005, to the majority and minority leaders of the United States Senate opposed the adoption of the REAL ID Act, but the opposition of those groups and the groups' request that Congress rely on driver's license security provisions already passed by Congress in the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 was largely ignored by Congress; and

Whereas, the regulations that are to be adopted by the federal Department of Homeland Security to implement the requirements of the REAL ID Act have yet to be adopted and, in reality, will probably not become effective until the Spring of 2007, effectively giving the states only one year in which to become familiar with the requirements of the REAL ID Act, the implementation of the regulations, and compliance with such regulations; and

Whereas, the mandate to the states through federal legislation that provides no funding for its requirements to issue what is, in effect, a national identification card appears to be an attempt to "commandeer" the political machinery of the states and to require the states to be agents of the federal government, in violation of the principles of federalism contained in the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court in New York v. United States, 488 U.S. 1041 (1992), United States v. Lopez, 514 U.S. 549 (1995), and Printz v. United States, 521 U.S. 898 (1997):

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby refuse to implement the REAL ID Act and thereby protest the treatment by Congress and the President of the United States of the states as agents of the federal government and, by such protest, lead other state legislatures and governors to reject the treatment by the federal government of the 50 states by the enactment of the REAL ID Act; and

security and well-being of the people of Missouri, will cause unneeded expense and inconvenience to those people, and was adopted by the United States Congress in violation of the principles of federalism contained in the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution; and

Be it further resolved that the Missouri General Assembly prohibits the State of Missouri from participating in the implementation of the REAL ID Act of 2005. The Missouri Department of Revenue, including the Division of Motor Vehicle and Drivers Licensing, is directed not to implement the provisions of the REAL ID Act of 2005 and to report to the Governor any attempt by agencies or agents of the federal Department of Homeland Security to secure the implementation of the REAL ID Act of 2005 through the operations of such Division and Department; and

Read 1st time.

“630.127. 1. The department of mental health shall develop rules, guidelines, and protocols for an initial notification to a parent or guardian of a patient, resident, or client when first entering the care and custody of the department, or when first entering a facility licensed, certified, or funded by the department. Such notification shall notify the parent or guardian, or a consumer who is his or her own guardian, of the possibility of a person being placed in the facility with the patient, resident, or client, who falls in one of the following categories:

(1) Individuals who are required to register as a sexual offender, under sections 589.400 to 589.425, RSMo; or

(2) Individuals who have been determined to lack capacity to understand the proceedings against him or her or to assist in his or her own defense under section 552.020, RSMo, for offenses the person would have otherwise been required to register as a sexual offender under sections 589.400 to 589.425, RSMo.

2. Such rules, guidelines and protocols developed under subsection 1 of this section shall include the process and mechanisms for assessing risk, for planning and providing care and safety, and for the provision of services and supports necessary to mitigate risk for persons residing in a state facility or facility licensed, certified, or funded by the department. Such protocols shall also provide a mechanism for the parent or guardian, or the consumer who is his or her own guardian, to raise any concerns and to seek consultation about the placement.

3. The department of mental health shall develop rules, guidelines, and protocols for notifying a parent or guardian of a patient, resident, or client, or a consumer who is his or her own guardian, residing in a state facility or facility licensed, certified, or funded by the

Such request for disclosure shall inform all parties of the steps to be taken in the event consent to disclose is given or denied. Refusal to grant consent under this subsection by a parent or guardian of a patient, resident, or client, or a consumer who is his or her own guardian, of a facility licensed, certified, or funded by the department, shall not prevent placement.

5. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo.”; and

2. Applications for licenses shall be made to the department upon forms provided by it and shall contain such information and documents as the department requires, including, but not limited to, affirmative evidence of ability to comply with the rules adopted by the department. Each application for a license, except applications from a governmental unit or a facility caring for less than four persons, which shall not pay any fee, shall be accompanied by a license fee of ten dollars for establishments which accept more than three but less than ten persons and fifty dollars from establishments which accept ten or more. 2. [Any facility or program which has received a notice of noncompliance as provided by sections 630.745 to 630.750 is liable to the state for civil penalties of up to one hundred dollars for each day that noncompliance continues after the notice of noncompliance is received.] The attorney general shall, upon the request of the department, bring an action in a circuit court of competent jurisdiction to recover [the] a civil penalty against the operator of the facility, group home, or program. Such action shall be brought in the circuit court for the county in which the facility, group home, or program is located. The circuit court shall [have the authority to] determine the amount of civil penalty to be assessed within the limits set out in this section. Appeals may be taken from the judgment of the circuit court as in other civil cases.

3. The operator of any facility, group home, or program which has been cited with a violation of sections 630.705 to 630.760 or the rules established thereunder is liable to the state for civil penalties of up to twenty-five thousand dollars for each day that the violations existed or continue to exist. Violations shall be presumed to continue to exist from the time they are found until the time the department of mental health finds them to have been corrected. When applicable, the amount of the penalty shall be determined as follows:

(2) For each violation of a class II standard, not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars;

(3) For each violation of a class III standard, not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred fifty dollars;

(5) In accordance with the provisions of this section, if the department imposes a civil monetary penalty for a class I violation, the liability for such penalty shall be incurred immediately upon the imposition of the penalty for the violation regardless of any subsequent correction of the violation by the facility, program, or group home. For class II or III violations, if the department imposes a civil monetary penalty, the liability for such penalty shall be incurred if a breach of a specific state law or regulation remains uncorrected and not in accord with the accepted plan of correction at the time of the reinspection conducted under subsection 3 of section 630.745.

A judgment rendered against the operator of a facility, program, or group home under this subsection shall bear interest as provided in subsection 1 of section 408.040, RSMo.

4. The imposition of any remedy provided for in sections 630.705 to 630.760 shall not bar the imposition of any other remedy.

5. Penalties collected for violations of this section shall be transferred to the state school moneys fund as established in section 166.051, RSMo, and distributed to the public schools of this state in the manner provided in section 163.031, RSMo. Such penalties shall not be considered a charitable contribution for tax purposes.

6. To recover any civil penalty, the moving party shall prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the violation occurred.

7. The operator of a facility, group home, or program against whom an action to recover a civil penalty is brought under this section may confess judgment as provided in section 511.070, RSMo, at any time prior to hearing. If such operator agrees to confess judgment, the amount of the civil penalty recommended by the moving party in its petition shall be reduced by twenty-five percent and the confessed judgment shall be entered by the circuit court at the reduced amount.”;

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

When the application is being made for licensure as a boat manufacturer or boat dealer, certification shall be performed by a uniformed member of the Missouri state water patrol stationed in the district area in which the applicant's place of business is located or by a uniformed member of the Missouri state highway patrol stationed in the troop area in which the applicant's place of business is located or, if the applicant's place of business is located within the jurisdiction of a metropolitan police department in a first class county, by an officer of such metropolitan police department. A bona fide established place of business for any new motor vehicle franchise dealer or used motor vehicle dealer shall include a permanent enclosed building or structure, either owned in fee or leased and actually occupied as a place of business by the applicant for the selling, bartering, trading or exchanging of motor vehicles or trailers and wherein the public may contact the owner or operator at any reasonable time, and wherein shall be kept and maintained the books, records, files and other matters required and necessary to conduct the business. The sign shall contain the name of the dealership by which it is known to the public through advertising or otherwise, which need not be identical to the name appearing on the dealership's license so long as such name is registered as a fictitious name with the secretary of state, has been approved by its line-make manufacturer in writing in the case of a new motor vehicle franchise dealer and a copy of such fictitious name registration has been provided to the department. When licensure is for a boat dealer, a lot shall not be required. In the case of new motor vehicle franchise dealers, the bona fide established place of business shall include adequate facilities, tools and personnel necessary to properly service and repair motor vehicles and trailers under their franchisor's warranty. Dealers who sell only emergency vehicles as defined in section 301.550 are exempt from maintaining a bona fide place of business, including the related law enforcement certification requirements, and from meeting the minimum yearly sales;

(2) If the application is for licensure as a manufacturer, boat manufacturer, new motor vehicle franchise dealer, used motor vehicle dealer, wholesale motor vehicle auction, boat dealer or a public motor vehicle auction, a photograph, not to exceed eight inches by ten inches, showing the business building and sign shall accompany the initial application. (3) If the application is for licensure as a wholesale motor vehicle dealer or as a boat dealer, the application shall contain the business address, not a post office box, and telephone number of the place where the books, records, files and other matters required and necessary to conduct the business are located and where the same may be inspected during normal daytime business hours. The bond or irrevocable letter of credit shall be conditioned upon the dealer complying with the provisions of the statutes applicable to new motor vehicle franchise dealers, used motor vehicle dealers, wholesale motor vehicle dealers and boat dealers, and the bond shall be an indemnity for any loss sustained by reason of the acts of the person bonded when such acts constitute grounds for the suspension or revocation of the dealer's license. All fees payable pursuant to the provisions of sections 301.550 to 301.573, other than those fees collected for the issuance of dealer plates or certificates of number collected pursuant to subsection 6 of this section, shall be collected by the department for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the "Motor Vehicle Commission Fund", which is hereby created. (7) “Medical emergency”, a condition which, on the basis of the physician's good faith clinical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman as to necessitate the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death or for which a delay will create a serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman;

[(5)] (8) “Physician”, any person licensed to practice medicine in this state by the state board of registration of the healing arts;

[4.] 3. At the end of the conference, and if the woman chooses to proceed with the abortion, a treating physician shall sign and shall cause the patient to sign a written statement that the woman gave her informed consent freely and without coercion after the physician had discussed with her the indicators and contraindicators, and risk factors, including any physical, psychological, or situational factors. “188.275. 1. Sections 188.275 to 188.281 shall be known as the “Unborn Child Pain Prevention Act”.

(2) Of the particular medical risks associated with the particular anesthetic or analgesic.

2. After presenting the information required in subsection 1 of this section and with the consent of the pregnant woman, the treating physician shall administer the anesthetic or analgesic.

188.281. 1. Within ninety days after the effective date of sections 188.275 to 188.281, the department of health and senior services shall publish printed materials with the following statement concerning unborn children of twenty weeks gestational age or more:

“By twenty weeks gestation, the unborn child has the physical structures necessary to experience pain. There is evidence that by twenty weeks gestation unborn children seek to evade certain stimuli in a manner that in an infant or an adult would be interpreted to be a response to pain. Anesthesia is routinely administered to unborn children who are twenty weeks gestational age or more who undergo prenatal surgery.”

2. The materials shall be objective, nonjudgmental, and designed to convey only accurate scientific information about the human fetus at the various gestational ages.

3. The department shall make the materials available on the department's website.

Whereas, the western part of Missouri is a growing, vital part of Missouri's commerce and economic development; and

Whereas, U.S. Highway 71 is an important link for communities, companies, and citizens along this corridor; and

Whereas, the Missouri I-49 Coalition is a nonprofit organization consisting of concerned citizens, organizations, and communities organized for the sole purpose of improving U.S. Highway 71 to interstate standards and designating it as part of Interstate 49; and

Whereas, designation of U.S. Highway 71 as a part of I-49 will provide western Missouri with the shortest direct route into international commerce by way of the Gulf of Mexico at New Orleans:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby:

(1) Recognize the Missouri I-49 Coalition as the official organization for this project in the State of Missouri;

(2) Recognize the importance of I-49 to the State of Missouri;

(3) Support the upgrading of U.S. Highway 71 to interstate standards;

(4) Encourage the Missouri Department of Transportation to support conceptually the idea of an I-49 corridor;

(5) Encourage the Missouri Congressional Delegation to pursue federal funds to assist with this project; and

(6) Urge the United States Department of Transportation to support the designation of U.S. Highway 71 in Missouri as a part of Interstate 49; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Mary E. Peters, the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation, Pete Rahn, the Director of the Missouri Department of Transportation, each member of the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 8.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

Whereas, Chamois, Missouri, is a community located along the Missouri River in northern Osage County which has no means to cross the river except by way of bridges located approximately 45 miles to the west and 30 miles to the east; and

Whereas, the people who live in Chamois incur increasingly high costs using present routes in order to reach destinations on the north side of the Missouri River for employment, recreation, and business; and

Whereas, people who live on the north side of the Missouri River are equally restricted from accessing destinations on the south side of the Missouri River, respectively; and

Whereas, locating a ferryboat on the Missouri River at Chamois would allow residents on both sides to cross the River, reducing travel times and travel costs, provide a safer route, and conserve fuel; and

Whereas, locating a ferryboat at Chamois would establish the only reported ferry on the Missouri River and would thereby promote tourism on both sides of the River by attracting more visitors to the area and creating a driving destination for tourists visiting such communities as Hermann, Fulton, and Jefferson City; and

located on the north side of the River; and

Whereas, numerous organizations have endorsed the ferryboat at Chamois, including but not limited to the Hermann Area Chamber of Commerce, the Fulton Area Chamber of Commerce, the county commissions for Osage and Callaway counties, the City of Mokane, the City of Chamois, and the Missouri Division of Tourism; and

Whereas, the promoters of the ferryboat at Chamois have requested federal and state funding for the project:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby express support for the Chamois ferryboat and urge the Missouri Department of Economic Development and the Missouri Department of Transportation, along with other state agencies and the Missouri Congressional Delegation, to assist in securing moneys for locating and construction of the ferryboat; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Matt Blunt, Gregory A. Steinhoff, the Director of the Department of Economic Development, Peter Rahn, the Director of the Missouri Department of Transportation, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 30.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 30

WHEREAS, there are 45 global or U.S. headquarters and over 120 companies involved in the animal health industry including four of the 10 largest global animal health companies and one of the five largest animal nutrition companies located in Missouri and Kansas; and

WHEREAS, leading veterinary colleges and animal research centers are located in Missouri and Kansas including the University of Missouri College of Veterinary Medicine, the University of Missouri's $60 million Life Sciences Center and Swine Research Center, the Kansas State University College of Veterinary Medicine, and the Kansas State University's $54 million Biosecurity Research Institute; and

WHEREAS, Missouri is 2nd and Kansas is 7th in cattle and calf inventory in the United States; and

WHEREAS, there are nationally-recognized publishers within the animal health industry located in Missouri and Kansas; and

WHEREAS, Missouri and Kansas have historical roots in the livestock industry and are home to many prominent national and international associations within the animal health industry; and

WHEREAS, retaining and growing existing animal health companies, attracting new animal health companies, increasing animal health research capacity, and developing commercialization infrastructure will create quality jobs and wealth for the states of Missouri and Kansas:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-Fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby recognize the region from Manhattan, Kansas, to Columbia, Missouri, including the metropolitan Kansas City area and St. Joseph, Missouri, as the “KC Animal Health Corridor”; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly recognizes the KC Animal Health Corridor as the national center of the animal health industry based on the unmatched concentration of animal health and nutrition businesses, and educational, and research assets; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly resolves to establish a favorable business environment and support animal health research to foster the continued growth of the animal health industry for the benefit of the economy, universities, businesses, and young people hoping to pursue an animal health career in the KC Animal Health Corridor; and

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 11.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

Whereas, Missouri is pleased to be home to the six-state regional Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Kansas City; and

Whereas, Missouri has demonstrated its commitment to trade with Taiwan by maintaining a Trade Office in Taipei since 1990; and

Whereas, trade between Taiwan and the United States has increased significantly during the past decades, with the United States being Taiwan's second-largest source of imports, and Taiwan being the eighth-largest trading partner of the United States; and

Whereas, Taiwan ranks the fifth-largest overseas markets for United States agricultural products in general, including the third-largest buyer of United States beef and corn products, the fifth-largest buyer of United States soybean products, the eighth-largest buyer of United States wheat, and the second-largest customer of United States agricultural products worldwide in terms of per capita consumption; and

Whereas, the United States International Trade Commission found that, with a Taiwan-United States free trade agreement in place, United States exports to Taiwan would increase by 16%, or roughly $3.4 billion annually, and the broader interests of the United States in the Asia-Pacific region would be served:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby support the negotiations of a Taiwan-United States free trade agreement; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for George W. Bush, President of the United States; Condoleezza Rice, United States Secretary of State; Carlos M. Gutierrez, United States Secretary of Commerce; Ambassador Susan C. Schwab, the United States Trade Representative, each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation, and the Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Kansas City.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 24.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

Whereas, the federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act requires states to assess all students in their state's assessment program; and

Whereas, the Act provides for a limited number of students with disabilities to be assessed with an alternate assessment, but only 1% of a school district's tested population may be counted as proficient or above using the alternate assessment; and

Whereas, this limitation results in some special needs students being included in the regular state assessment system when, in fact, their cognitive disabilities are such that they should not be assessed with their age or grade-level peers; and

Whereas, a more appropriate assessment for them might be a test that was developed for use in some grade-level below the grade in which they are classified, but the United States Department of Education regulations governing the implementation of the NCLB Act prohibit this “out of grade-level” testing; and

recently allowed for the inclusion of an additional 2% of students with disabilities to be assessed with a modified grade-level assessment, but this additional flexibility still prohibits “out of grade-level” testing; and

Whereas, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA), which predates the NCLB Act, contains requirements for assessment that must be included in the student’s individualized educational program (IEP), which may not meet the requirements of the NCLB Act for assessment and thus may place the IEP team at odds with the overall NCLB assessment process and may create confusion for parents; and

Whereas, certain accommodations written into an IEP, such as reading out loud or paraphrasing, are currently not acceptable for certain assessments under NCLB procedures, thus making the student’s performance on the assessment not count for NCLB purposes and denying the student an accommodation that the IEP team has documented as necessary to the child’s best chances for a proficient performance; and

Whereas, Secretary Margaret Spellings has shown an admirable flexibility in permitting experimentation with alternative approaches to the NCLB Act while keeping the focus on accountability:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that the interests of the special needs students of the state would best be served by reviewing the assessment provisions of IDEA and the NCLB Act together to eliminate contradictory objectives, so that accommodations that are appropriate to a student with an IEP do not invalidate the student’s assessment results for the purposes of No Child Left Behind assessments; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Margaret Spellings, Secretary of the United States Department of Education and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

[(9)] (10) “Person”, a natural person, corporation, partnership, association or any legal entity.

191.907. 1. A person may bring a civil action for a violation of subsections 1 to 4 of section 191.905 on behalf of the person and the state. The action shall be brought in the name of the person and of the state.

2. In an action brought under this section, a person who violates subsection 1 to 4 of section 191.905 is liable as provided by subsection 11 of section 191.905.

3. Contemporaneous with the filing of the action, a person bringing an action under this section shall deliver a copy of the petition upon the attorney general and shall disclose, in writing, all material evidence and information in the person's possession to the attorney general.

4. The petition shall be filed in camera and, except as provided by subsection 5 or 6 of this section, shall remain under seal until at least sixty days following the date the petition is filed, or until the date the state elects to intervene, whichever occurs first. The petition shall not be served upon the defendant until ordered by the court.

5. The attorney general, on behalf of the state, may elect to intervene and proceed with the action not later than the sixtieth day following the date the petition is filed. The attorney general may, for good cause shown, move the court to extend this deadline, and may support such motion by affidavits or other submissions in camera.

6. Contemporaneous with the decision to intervene, the attorney general may move the court to keep the petition under seal for an extended period of time.

7. An action brought under this section may be dismissed before the end of the period during which the petition remains under seal if the court and the attorney general consent in writing to the dismissal, and state in writing the reasons for consenting.

8. A defendant in any action brought under this section shall not be required to file an answer to the petition until thirty days following the date the petition is served on the defendant.

9. Not later than the last day of the period prescribed by subsection 4 of this section, or an extension of that period granted by the court under subsection 5 of this section, the state shall:

(1) Proceed with the action; or

(2) Notify the court that the state declines to intervene in the action.

10. If the state elects not to intervene in the action, the person who initiated the action shall be entitled to conduct the action. If the state so requests, it shall be served with copies of all pleadings filed and shall be supplied with copies of all deposition transcripts at the state's expense. If the state chooses not to intervene within the period prescribed by subsection 4 of this section, the court, without limiting the status and rights of the person initiating the action, may nevertheless permit the state to intervene at a later date upon a showing of good cause.

11. A person other than the state may not intervene or bring a related action based on the facts underlying a pending action brought under this section.

12. If the state elects to intervene in the action, it shall have the primary responsibility for conducting the action and shall not be bound by any act of the person who initiated the action. The person who initiated the action shall have the right to continue as a party in the proceeding, subject to the limitations set forth in this section.

13. The state may dismiss any action brought under this section notwithstanding an objection by the person who initiated the action, but only if:

(1) The attorney general has notified the person who initiated the action that the state has filed a motion to dismiss; and

(2) The court provides the person with an opportunity for a hearing on the motion.

14. The state may settle the action with the defendant, notwithstanding an objection by the person who initiated the action, if the court determines, after a hearing, that the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, considering all relevant circumstances. Upon a showing of good cause, the hearing may be held in camera.

15. Upon a showing by the state that unrestricted participation during the course of litigation by the person who initiated the action would cause harassment of the defendant, or would interfere with or unduly delay the state's investigation or prosecution of the case, or would be repetitious or irrelevant, the court may impose limitations on the person's participation, including:

(1) Limiting the number of witnesses the person may call;

(2) Limiting the length of the testimony of witnesses called by the person;

(3) Limiting the person's cross-examination of witnesses; or

(4) Any other limitation on participation that the court deems necessary or appropriate.

16. Upon a showing by the defendant that unrestricted participation during the course of litigation by the person bringing the action would be for the purposes of harassment, or would cause the defendant undue burden or unnecessary expense, the court may limit the participation by the person in the litigation.

17. Upon a showing by the state that certain actions of discovery by the person bringing the action would interfere with the state's investigation or prosecution of a criminal or civil matter arising out of the same facts, the court may stay the discovery for a period not to exceed sixty days. The court shall hear a motion to stay discovery under this subsection in camera.

18. The court may extend the stay of discovery prescribed by subsection 17 of this section upon a further showing in camera that the state has pursued the criminal or civil investigation or proceedings with reasonable diligence and that any proposed discovery in the civil action would interfere with the ongoing investigation or proceedings.

19. Notwithstanding subsection 1 of this section, the state may elect to pursue its claim through any alternate remedy available to the state, including any administrative proceeding to determine an administrative penalty. If an alternate remedy is pursued in another proceeding, the person who initiated the action shall have the same rights in the other proceeding as the person would have had if the action brought under this section had continued. Any finding of fact or conclusion of law made in the other proceeding that has become final shall be conclusive on all parties to an action brought under this section. For the purposes of this subsection, a finding or conclusion is final if the finding or conclusion has been finally determined on appeal to the appropriate court of jurisdiction, if no appeal has been filed with respect to the finding or conclusion and all time for filing an appeal has expired, or if the finding or conclusion is not subject to judicial review.

20. If the state proceeds with an action under this section, the person bringing the action shall be entitled, except as provided by subsection 21 of this section, to receive at least fifteen percent but not more than twenty-five percent of the proceeds of the action, depending on the extent to which the person substantially contributed to the prosecution of the action. Except as provided by subsection 21 of this section, if the person who initiated an action under this section conducts the action without state intervention, the court shall award the person at least twenty-five but no more than thirty percent of the proceeds of the action. If the court finds that the action is based primarily on disclosures of specific information, other than information provided by the person bringing the action, relating to allegations or transactions in a criminal or civil hearing, in a legislative or administrative report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or from the news media, the court may award the amount the court considers appropriate but not more than ten percent of the proceeds of the action, taking into account the significance of the information and the role of the person bringing the action in advancing the case to litigation. A payment to a person under this subsection shall be made from the proceeds of the action or proceeds of a settlement of the action. A person receiving a payment under this subsection shall also be entitled to receive from the defendant an amount for reasonable expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs that the court finds to have been necessarily incurred. The court's determination of expenses, fees, and costs to be awarded under this subsection shall be made only after the defendant has been found liable in the action. In addition, the defendant shall be required to reimburse the reasonable costs attributable to the attorney general's investigation and prosecution of the action. The office of the attorney general may retain a reasonable portion of recoveries under this section for the enforcement of sections 191.900 to 191.910.

21. If the court finds that the action was brought by a person who planned and initiated the violation of subsections 1 to 4 of section 191.905 on which the action was brought, the court may, to the extent the court considers appropriate, reduce the share of the proceeds of the action the person would otherwise receive under subsection 20 of this section, taking into account the person's role in advancing the case to litigation and any relevant circumstances pertaining to the violation. If the person bringing the action is convicted of criminal conduct arising from the person's role in the violation of subsections 1 to 4 of section 191.905, the court shall dismiss the person from the action, and the person may not receive any share of the proceeds of the action. A dismissal under this subsection does not prejudice the right of the state to continue the action.

22. If the state does not proceed with the action and the person bringing the action conducts the action, the court may award to the defendant its reasonable attorney's fees and expenses if the defendant prevails in the action and the court finds that the claim of the person bringing the action was clearly frivolous, clearly vexatious, or brought primarily for purposes of harassment.

23. A person may not bring an action under this section that is based on allegations or transactions that are the subject of a civil suit or an administrative penalty proceeding in which the state is already a party.

24. A person may not bring an action under this section that is based on the public disclosure of allegations or transactions in a criminal or civil hearing, in a legislative or administrative report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or from the news media, unless the person bringing the action is an original source of the information. In this subsection, "original source" means an individual who has direct and independent knowledge of the information on which the allegations are based and has voluntarily provided the information to the state before filing an action under this section that is based on the information.

25. The state shall not be liable for expenses that a person incurs in bringing an action under this section.

26. A person who is discharged, demoted, suspended, threatened, harassed, or in any other manner discriminated against in the terms of employment by the person's employer because of a lawful act taken by the person in furtherance of an action under this section, including investigation for, initiation of, testimony for, or assistance in an action filed or to be filed under this section, shall be entitled to reinstatement with the same seniority status the person would have had but for the discrimination, not less than two times the amount of back pay, interest on the back pay, and compensation for any special damages sustained as a result of the discrimination, including litigation costs and reasonable attorney's fees. A person may bring an action in the appropriate circuit court for the relief provided in this subsection.

27. An action brought under this section shall not be brought more than six years after the date on which the violation was committed, or three years after the date when facts material to the cause of action are known or reasonably known by the attorney general's office or the department of social services, whichever occurs last.

28. In any action brought under this section, the state or the person initiating the action shall be required to prove all essential elements of the cause of action, including damages, by a preponderance of the evidence."; and

Senator Callahan moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Ridgeway raised the point of order that SA 17 is out of order as it is not germane, is outside the title and beyond the scope of the underlying bill.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem who ruled it not well taken.

Senator Engler assumed the Chair.
